JEFFRIES' RETURN TO RING CERTAIN

"Big Fellow" Tells McIntosh That He Will Fight Again if He Can Get in Shape.

JOHNSON MILL IN ENGLAND

Promoter Wants Battle There to Avoid Any Interference, but Will Not Offer More Than $50,000 as Purse.

CHICAGO, March 29. — (Special.) — "Jeffries will return to the ring when he gets back in shape."

This was the statement made by Promoter Hugh McIntoni, of Australia, who talked with Jeffries in New York, and who reached this city from New York this morning, and it is the first definite statement that has been made that the "big fellow" would positively box once more,

"I am going out after the battle, but my offer stands at one figure," he seald, "and that is fto.000. or $50.000 in American money. I would prefer to have it held in England. There we would have no interference. Australia is too far away, and conditions are so uncertain here that if I get the bout it will most likely be in England or France.

"Jeffries is not in such bad trim as people seem to think. He has cut off 20 pounds since he took up work, and I was surprised to find that his stomach was not so hig as I expected."

McIntosh will remain here all week with the Burns-Johnson pictures at the Auditorium. Johnson called on him today, and the two held a long conference over a match with Jeffries.

HUNT CLUB RIDES IN RAIN

Seventeen Members Finish Course in Face of Storm.

In Face of Storm.

Despite the inclemency of the westher, and in the face of a driving rain storm, it members of the Portland Hunt Club held a cross-country ride yesterday afternoon, and while throughly wet through, they returned feeling in excellent spirits. The riders comprised a number of new members of the club; who were, if anything, more anxious than the old timers to complete the ride, and it was due to their pleading that the gallop was not called off entirely.

The riders assembled at Mount Zion, and at the command of the master of hounds, Dr. W. A. Cumming, the entire party set off at a gallop through the fertile, but muddy valley below. After enjoying a jaunt over a course of almost six miles, the bedraggled and invigorated riders returned to the city. Every one expressed himself as highly pleased with the excursion, and the young riders are anxious to go again. Those who rode through are the following: Mrs. W. L. Wood, Mrs. F. G. Buffum, Miss Mabel Lawrence, Miss Eva, Kiernan, Miss Sallie Leadbetter, Miss Dorothy Huber, Miss Sally Hart, Miss Laura Cumming, Miss Harriet Cumming, Miss Helen Wood, Miss Ida Loewenberg and Messre. Joe Cronin, Harry Skuse, Dr. William L. Wood, Harry Storey, Sidney Loewenberg and Dr. W. A. Cumming.

E. E. ("Deacon") Van Buren will not wear an Aberdeen uniform this year. He has feiled to come to terms with Rowland and President Macfarlane has signed his release. When Van Buren was in California his contract was forwarded to him, but he returned it with several special chanses attached. The club offered him the same money he received last season, with which he was satisfied. The special clauses covered future contingencies, and the management was not dispased to acquiesce.

He is a good hitter and has no equal in the league on bases or in the finer points of the game. While Aberdeen fans regret his release, they are sure he will be signed up by some other Northwestern League club.

Three-I League Men Secured.

Rowland's new crew includes a number of men from the Three-I League. Some little surprise has been expressed on this account, but the circumstance has been fully explained. The Three-I League reduced the salary limit to an extent that made it impossible to keep its best men. Rowland secured the pick of the league.

Last season's team, which was nosed out by Tacoma for second place, was weak at base running. This year Rowland has signed up some first-class base-runners, and the lineup will include several heavy hitters. The pitching staff is strong and fans expect the toam to show up well.

Aberdeen will play four games a week with the Whitman College team, and in addition will meet clubs at Dayton and other towns near Walla Walla. The Cats will remain at training quarters until April 16, and then jump to Spokane, where the season will open on April 17.

Y. M. C. A. Will Form Amateur Baseball League.

FIRST MEETING THIS WEEK

All Uniformed Teams Whether Representing Business Houses or Privately Equipped Will Be Entitled to Membership.

Next Wednesday night a meeting will e held ut the Y. M. C. A. to organize baseball league among the amateurs of ordiand. Heretofore it has been the cus-

Portland. Heretofore it has been the custom to pursue a go-as-you-please policy among the near-greats, and the object of this meeting is to gather all available teams into an organization so that a schedule of games may be arranged and amateur series conducted on the lines of organized baseball.

All uniformed teams, whether representing business houses or privately equipped, are eligible to membership, and according to present plans eight or ten clubs are likely to form the organization. These teams will play Sunday afternoons.

A. J. Dickerman, manager of the Keats Auto Company team, and Manager Moore of the Ben Selling nine, are the moving spirits in the new proposition. According to Manager Dickerman eight clubs can easily be recured for the formation of the new league, and he is inclined to think that this number might be swelled to 12 Among the last season teams that may be in the field again this year are the J. In addition to the mercantile teams being asked to enter, the Portland Police Department team is also extended an invitation, and Patrolman Rupert, who is gnanager and captain of the "cops," will be asked to attend the meeting Wednesday night. The police team is composed of some high-class baseball material this season, for a humber of the new members of the department have had considerable experience on baseball fields before being enrolled as knights of the club and star. An amateur City League will fill a long felt want, for in the past the independent teams have been struggling along as best they might, while if a properly organized league, with a regular schedule, conducted the series, the relative merits of the different teams could be much more clearly recognized and would afford some splendid sport.

COLUMBIA MEET APRIL 17 IS EXPECTED TO BE SUCCESS.

All Colleges Begin to Groom Entries for Various Events-Getting Track Into Shape

"College spirit" is doing much to make the Columbia University track meet a success. Imbued with the idea of making the meet of April 17 the finest in the Northwest, both staff and boys at the institution have entered into the task of getting the big collseum and track into shape long before the date set for pulling off the various events. Track Manager Black, with his host of willing colleagues, has got to work grading and leveling the big loop, and the expense to the college is in this way being reduced. n this way being reduced.

BERG AND ROLLER TO SIGN FOR MATCH APRIL 2.

Portland Athlete, Although Lighter Than Seattle Physician, Declines to Accept Handleap Offer.

It begins to look as though the big wrestling match between John Berg, of Portland, and Dr. Benjamin Franklin Roller, of Scattle, on April 2, is to be a go. Edward J. Davey, who is maka go. ing the arrangements for the proposed match, is so confident the grapplers will meet that he has contracted for he advertising, and both wrestlers are expected to sign articles by tomorrow.

The wrestling fans of Portland have ong been desirous of seeing the big Scattle physician in a bout with some grappler of known ability, and that Berg is the man equal to the occasion seems to be the general opinion. In some quarters it is said that Berg will not prove much of a match for Roller, because of Berg's lame ankie. In disputing this assertion the promoters de-clare that Roller offered Berg a handi-cap match, and that the local man recap match, and that the local man re-fused the offer and stipulated a straight match, best two falls out of three. Ac-cordingly, Manager Davey mailed the articles of agreement to both men Fri-day night. These articles provide for a straight catch-as-catch-can bout, best two falls in three, and pin-falls only to count.

GOOD CHANCE FOR COAST PENNANT

McCredie's Team Sizes Up With Any in League as Seen in Practice.

MEN ARE WELL BALANCED

Pitching Staff Needs Strengthening, but in Batting and Fielding Team Equals Any-Some of the Good Points of Breen.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, March 20.—(Sperial.)-With Buddy Ryan in the outfield and Catcher Murray and Pitcher Jess Garrett to round out his team, it Jess Garrett to round out his team, it looks as if Manager McCredie will have lots to say about the Coast League pennant again this year. Sizing up the team, now that it has played one hard game and has acquitted tiself most creditably, warrants me in saying the rest of the teams in the league will always have to figure the Portland White Sox in the running. The team, as it stands right now, looks to be specially we..-balanced, both in the infield and outlield, and the only flaw in the formation is in the pishing stant. n the formation is in the piwhing staff.

Only Doubt Is About Pitchers.

Only Doubt Is About Pitchers,

Even when Jess Garrett joins the team, this will only give Manager Mac three good pitchers. In Speck Harkness, Graney and Carson, the team has three twirlers who can be depended upon to work a couple of times a week or more if called upon, for all are young and strong. Garrett is not built upon sturdy lines and if McCredie gets two good games out of the little Texan, he will be lucky. Not that Jess isn't willing to work oftener, for he is willing enough, but he hasn't the strength to do so. In Seaton and Willett, McCredie has untried propositions, and while both of them look good right now, the searching question is, will they be there when they are called to arms? Both of the last-named youngsters are having trouble with their arms, and Trainer Cornell is giving them a special course of treatment. Sam Farrais is another doubtful quantity. His wing is to the bad and I don't look for him or Gray to make the team. look for him or Gray to make the Strong Behind Bat.

With everything moving along smoothly and with Ambruster and Murray behind the bat. Portland will be stronger in its receiving department than it has been any year since big Larry McLean and Pat Donaugh were the receiver generals. Unless Ambruster should suffer a lapse, and the general and clever catcher says there isn't a chance for his misbehaving himself this season, McCredie will have the services of the best catcher in the league. He knows how to get the best there is out of a young pitcher, and, with Ambruster and McCredie coaching them every day, the youngsters on the team ought to make good if they have in them the making. Armbruster is remarkably sure on foul balls, a thing in which Tom Madden was woofully weak, and he has a throwing arm that cannot be beaten. He shoots the ball to second or first and when it arrives it hits the glove as light as a feather, yet there is a world of speed in the delivery.

Founier Raw, but Promising.

Founier Raw, but Promising.

Not only are McCredie and Armbruster working on the pitchers, but they have taken young Founier in hand. The young backstop is a raw recruit for a lad who has caught a season in reason, ably fast company. In the couple of innings I saw him work, I confess I was surprised at the lack of finish he displayed. Evidently he was allowed to go on and eatch after his own fashion, without any coaching. The saving clause is that he has the carmarks of a catcher and has the carmarks to go on and eatch after his own fash-ion, without any coaching. The sav-ing clause is that he has the carmarks of a catcher and has a very good chance of developing into a good man. If Mur-ray arrives, and it looks very probable now that he will, for P. J. McHenry, the genial proprietor of the St. James Hotel, where the team is stopping, has received a letter from the secretary of a lodge to which Murray belongs, tell-ing air. McHenry to look out for Murray and see that he gets off all right. Founier will be turned back to Manager Casey, and if any one oan make a catcher out of the youngster. Casey can.

Three Slashing Good Men.

best two falls in three, and pin-falls only to count.

Berg is now building up at Shipherd's Springs, near Carson, Wasn, where he expects to remain until a few days before the bout. As he does not have to train down as he did for his match with Eddie O'Connell, the former Bellingham boy is taking things easy. He writes that his ankle, which bothered him in the bout with the Multnomah Club instructor, is much stronger than since he came West. Berg also says that he has the care and attention of an expert trainer, who has informed him that the injured member will be as strong as ever by March 26, when he first expected to meet the Seattle man.

Dr. Roller himself is in splendid shape, for he has been in constant training for several months. He had intended to enter the prize ring and trained hard for that purpose, but as he is scheduled to wrestle Hjalmar Lundin, the Swedish heavyweight, at Seattle on March 39, he has continued that work. Roller writes that he is anxious to show the people of Porticand just what he can do in the wrestling game, for he realizes that the impured that work. Olson Vigilant Baseman.

The more I see Olson in action the more I like him. He watches second base like no shortstop Portland has had in uniform since the days of Bill Sweeney. While he is in action you won't find the players taking a mile lead off the keystone sack.

Just now there are some raw edges around the infield, but this is due to the fact that the players are new to as if it was going to improve his game.

Kenuedy has improved a lot in his fielding, and he is working hard. He covers more ground around first than Danaig did, and I guess for the first time since he has been playing ball he is making a study of the game around the initial sack. He may not be able to meet the ball like the big fellow who is with Boston, for he has a tendency to upper cut the ball instead of smashing it on the nose. He realizes this, and he has a tendency to get mad over his fault, which does not help him any. McCredie is working on him, and Mac is firmly of the opinion that the big Irishman will rank with the best of the first basemen before the season is over.
