MISS FLORENCE TONGUE,
OF HILLSBORO,
WHOSE WEDDING OCCURS
ON THURSDAY EVENING
AT MR. AND MRS. GAY
LOMBARD'S RESIDENCE

An absolute dearth of entertaining has marked the passing of the week, with the exception of the concert Tuesday, given by the great Russian pianist, Lievittine, who has been called "the young Rubenstein." His programme proved him to be a master technician, as well as showing an emotional side, and one was impressed with his force and colossal power of seeming limitless reserve. This was the last of the series of the successful concerts under the Lois Steers-Wynn Conlan direction.

While there have been no formal affairs, the entire week has been devoted to rehearsals for the Kirmess, which practically monopolizes conversational attention. The Third Regiment, O. N. G., has generously donated the great auditorium at the Armory for the four nights and a matinee. Already 20 of the boxes have been disposed of by Mr. Thomas Scott Brooke, at $100 apiece. The box-holders are: Miss Failing, Miss May Failing, A. L. Mills, W. J. Burns, Mrs. W. S. Ladd, H. L. Corbett, I. N. Fleischer, Mrs. H. J. Corbett, Mrs. C. H. Lewis, J. W. Newkirk, S. Frank,

T. Scott Brooke, W. B. Ayer, Adolphe Wolfe, Peter Kerr and Thomas Kerr, Edward Cookingham, W. D. Wheelwright, T. R. Wilcox, J. C. Ainsworth. Various booths which will no doubt prove a fruitful source of revenue are to be arranged around the arena, among them the lemonade booth in charge of Miss Elenor Gile, an art and stationary booth presided over by Mrs. William L. Woods, whose picture postals of the dancers in costume will be sold, also some art treasures which have been donated for sale at auction. A number of the matrons representing the executive board of the Woman's Exchange, and members of the needlework and household committees of the same institution will have charge of the buffet supper, which will be served during the intermission of 45 minutes. The dancers are Mrs. Frank E. Hart. As yet, the entire list of dances is not complete, with the exception of the Marsovian and Spanish dances, which were announced last Sunday. In the Marsovian, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett are to dance the famous Merry Widow waltz, the former going as the Prince of Marsovia and Mrs. Corbett as Sonja. Following is a list of the complete dances with the names of the participants and chaperones: Thus far the only children's dances are to be the Teddy Bear and French dolls, for which the chaperones are Miss Maud Ainsworth, Mrs. Morton H. Insley and Mrs. Hamilton Brooke. The dancers are to be: Elizabeth Shepherd, Peggy Boyer, Irene Canby, Elizabeth Hughes, Mildred Keats, Owena Walcott, Virginia Boodly, Georgianna Mears, Catherine Ainsworth, Joshua Nunn, Charles Voorhies, Scott Laidlaw, Orin Gambill, Alton Effinger, Phillip Chipman, Ambrose Cronin, Alexander Sargent and Jiles Gilbert. The Indian, or Wigwag, dance is most impressive, and the costumes are said to be very attractive. The chaperones are Mrs. Richard Nunn, Mrs. William L. Brewster, Mrs. L. J. Goldsmith, Mrs. Warren E. Thomas and Mrs. C. P. Adams. Dancers are Mrs. J. K. Kollcock, Mrs. William Warren, Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mrs. E. C. Meers, Mrs. S. G. Reed, Mrs. F. G. Wheeler, Mrs. S. N. Pendleton, Mrs. J. Ernest Laidlaw, Mrs. David C. Lewis, Mrs. Richard Nunn, Miss Susie Clark, Miss Mary Hillyer, J. K. Kollcock, E. C. Meers, J. Ernest Laidlaw, J. Wesley Ladd, Mr. Rochester, John Banks, Rodney Gilman, Mr. Davis, Morton H. Insley and Dr. S. A. Kiehl.

Two of the city's leading vocalists, who have not yet been selected, in Indian costume, are to sing the solo for the aforementioned dance. The Irish Harvest dance is in charge of Miss Margaret Burke, Miss Gussie Marshall, Mrs. G. M. Magruder, Mrs. James A. Beckett and Mrs. E. P. O'Brien. The dancers are: Mrs. Paul Vial, Mrs. Sybil Maginnis, Mrs. Norris Gregg, Miss Josephine Cronan, Miss Anne O'Brien, Miss Helen Maginnis, Miss Nona Lawler, Miss Irene Higgins, J. A. Beckett, Cass Campbell, William Belcher, Fred Martin, J. M. Toen, T. W. Alexander, Herbert Clemens and Victor Cullen.

The Fluffy Ruffles dance will be given on Friday morning by Mrs. Hunt Lewis, Mrs. Peter Kerr, Mrs. Henry Hausman, and Miss Louise Flanders. The dancers are: Miss Becky Biddle, Miss Marjorie Hausman, Miss Winifred Lewis, Miss Margaret Boot, Miss Meta Buehner, Miss Hammond, Miss Dorothy Morrison, Miss Jean Brownlie, Lester Hodson, Chester G. Murphy, Mr. Davis, Don Monroe, Mr. Unander, James Alexander, Mr. Ketchum and Harold Sawyer.

Admirers of Miss Josephine Pitkin, the young New York artist who is so favorably known for her animal studies, will be interested to know of her contemplated trip to the Coast, which will probably take place in June, when she will be the guest of Mrs. Hugh Hume. Miss Pitkin is well known in art circles, and her delineation of animal life is perhaps as sincere as any of her older contemporaries. She is described as an unusually attractive young girl of petite blonde type, with masses of golden hair and an animated vivaciousness of manner. Her work is characterized by originality in composition and harmony of color tones that stamps it with individuality and value. Her conceptions are especially faithful in portrayal. Miss Pitkin is greatly interested in painting animals and birds in their natural environments, and will undoubtedly find fascinating material among the beautiful pheasants, blue grouse and unlimited number of birds of lovely plumage, to say nothing of the fine types of animals found on the ranches of Oregon.

Miss Marjorie Harrows, of St. Paul, arrived Friday morning to be the guest of Miss Lisa Wood. Miss Harrows is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Drake, of Bend, Or., with whom Miss Wood traveled abroad.

It is to be regretted that Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sykes, who have made many friends during their four years' residence here, leave soon for their future home. Mr. Sykes goes East to become vice-president of the Electric Bond & Share Company, of New York. The president of the company is Sydney Z. Mitchell, formerly of Seattle, who married the handsome Miss Alice Bell, of Salem. Mrs. Mitchell is a sister of Robert Davis and an aunt of Mrs. Dom J. Zan.

On Thursday morning Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Adams returned from their trip South. The weather in California was exceptionally fine, so the trip to Texas and Salt Lake was curtailed. Instead they spent over a fortnight at the Hotel Potosi, in Santa Barbara, and went to Colorado for the polo tournament. While in San Francisco they were at the Fairmont.

Contrary to expectations that Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hurlburt would reside in Portland, they have just decided to take up their residence in Hood River at their newly acquired apple orchard, which is situated about four miles west of the town. However, the nearness will permit of their frequent visits here, at least for the large and more formal affairs. The ranch is adjacent to the country place of Mr. Hurlburt's cousin, Philip Carroll. Mr. Hurlburt has already left for Hood River and Mrs. Hurlburt is to leave tomorrow. Mrs. Hurlburt was formerly the popular Miss Leslie Knapp.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wright are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter, which was born on Friday.

Miss Cornelia Cook has gone East to visit her sister, Cully Cook, who is attending a finishing school in Boston. Before returning home in June they will both join a house party which is to be given by some college girls in New York.

William R. Moore has returned from a two-months' trip to New York and Washington, D. C. In the latter city he attended the inauguration ceremonies and was also entertained by Paymaster William S. Broughton, who is stationed on the Connecticut. Ferdinand Burgdorf, the well-known artist, arrives today to be Mr. Moore's guest. Mr. Burgdorf recently gave an exhibition of his work at the Bohemian Club, San Francisco, which attracted much favorable comment. His paintings are delightfully atmospheric, particularly the desert scenes, which are bold and redolent of warmth and color.

Mrs. Richard Koehler and Miss Ise Koehler returned on Wednesday from their most interesting visit in Germany, coming home via Paris and visiting in a few of the large American cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolphe Wolfe have left for a motor tour through California.

The wedding of Miss Florence Tongue, of Hillsboro, and Harrison McElroy Munger, a prominent young lumberman, is to take place Thursday evening at Mr. and Mrs. Gay Lombard's residence, when the service is to be read by Dr. A. A. Morrison. Miss Bertha Tongue is to be the maid-of-honor and John McPherson, the best man. Mrs. J. G. Gault entertained informally last evening for Miss Tongue, and Mr. McPherson entertained for Mr. Munger and fiancée with a dinner on Thursday evening at the Hotel Portland, at which Mr. and Mrs. Lombard were the chaperones.

Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman's daughter, Nancy Jane Honeyman, celebrated her first birthday on Tuesday at-

OF SMART, MODISH, YET PRACTICAL

Easter Millinery

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

Revealing latest modes and exploiting the new shapes, colors and materials in a radiant manner. Our recently enlarged salesroom enables us to make a most extensive display, embracing elegant Paris and New York models, as well as adaptations and originals from our own workrooms, each the product of an individual artist and each expressing some particular phase.

These "ordained-of-Fashion" creations show such a wealth of new ideas in shapes, in colors, in trimmings, that it would be folly to try to illustrate or describe their many delightful newnesses.

Inspection Invited—You should by all means come while the hats rival any to be found in Portland. Prices are lower—style and quality considered—than at any other store, the feature that has made this largest exclusive millinery store so popular.
