WASHINGTON, March 27 .- Debate or the tariff bill in the House today was largely devoted to an academic discussion largely devoted to an academic discussion of the question and the political issues involved, although Gardner (Masa.) thoroughly reviewed the question of free hides and a tariff on leather goods. Longworth (Ohio) and Harrison (New York) the democratic member of the ways and means committee, were the only representatives of the tariff framing committee who made speeches.

compilitee who made speeches.

The House adjourned to meet again at 10 o'clock Monday. The House will meet for ten and one-half hours each day. The bours agreed upon are from 10 in the morning to 6 at night, when a recess of two hours is to be taken, the Heuse to continue in session from $ to 10:20 at night.

Devoting his remarks towards.

Devoting his remarks largely to an academic discussion of the tariff, Hardwick (Ga.) maintained that the South still condemned protection. He also declared that the South was turning to Taft was untrue. Hardwick asserted that the tariff on sugar regults in a clean sift to the trust of $67,000,000 per annum.

The tariff on hides was discussed by Representative Gardner, of Massachu-setts. He said hides were on the free list as the bill passed the House, but that a duty of 15 per cent was fixed in

"Whether this duty was imposed at the instigation of the great Chicago packers, I don't know," continued Mr. Gardner. Whether the packers have financed the campaign which has created an artificial sentiment among the farmers in favor of the duty, is beside the question. The fact remains that this sentiment undoubtedly exists and it must be reckoned with."

Mr. Gardner said he had lost patience with those who say they cannot vote for free hides because the leather duty and the boot and shoe duty have not been sufficiently touched. Ruin was spelled by free caifskin leather and free patent leather, he argued, and by free boots and shoes, so far as a substantial minority of manufacturers was concerned. He said a duty on hides does not encourage the breeding of a single additional animal and does not furnish a market for a said a duty on hides does not encourage the breeding of a single additional animal and does not furnish a market for a single American hide.

Gardner said the ultimate consumer would receive the benefit of free hides through the cheaper cost of production to the manufacturer. So long as the shoe trade is not controlled by a trust, he said competition would keep the profits down. He argued the necessity for protection to the boot and shoe industry, saying the American maker of cheaper grades must be protected or go to the wall.

"We believe the cattle industry is thriving." he said, "and we believe the cow is amply protected in other ways; we believe the profits from this duty go mostly into the pockets of the man who needs them least."

While Gardner was arguing for the re-tention of the duty on boots and shoes and in favor of keeping hides on the free list. "But when the cat is away the mice will play," quoted Ansberry. "About the time of the so-called lumbermen's banquet, held in this city in February, ramors began to be current that Mr. Pinchot was wavering, but it was not until Mr. Roosevelt had retired from the Presidency that Pinchot finally lined up on the other side. The lumbermen advanced on Washington. They saw, they converted, and when they left the National Capital it is said that Gifford Pinchot was chalmed to their charlot."

Representative Harrison, of New York, today discussed various features of the Payne measure.

"Under Republican management." said Harrison, "the Nation was fast approaching bankruptcy.

Harrison, "the Nation was fast approaching bankruptcy.
"This bill contains heavy taxes upon the women of America," he continued. "In many respects they seem to have been singled out for attack. The new taxes upon tea and coffee, upon women's gloves and cotton stockings are a direct provocation to women suffrage. If this tartiff bill does not bring about the franchise of women, thoir cause is hopeless. But the most serious aspect is that these duties fall more heavily upon the poor than upon the rich.

"I have not the slightest doubt that the American manufacturers of steel and from are strong enough to enter every market of the world."

H. rrison declared that every item on the steel and from schedules should be put upon the free list in order to cheapen the price of the products to the American consumers. He attacked the maximum and minimum provisions of the bill, the counterveiling duty on coffee, and said that the Democratic party favored an income tax rather than an inheritance tax.

"It is a matter of personal regret to me that I cannot have the pleasure of seeing a complete Democratic tariff measure. I confess to a feeling of deep carlosity to know upon what basis the sentleman from Missouri and the gentleman from Texas could have met." Mr. Longworth declared the Republicans don't claim that the Payne bill is in all respects perfect.

"No one of us believes that there is everything in it which ought to be in it and nothing in it which ought not to be." he said. "We do claim for it, however, that it represents a bona fide revision of the tariff from top to bottom.

"The Republican party always has favored and always will favor the policy of protection, but we don't favor rates so high as to shelter monopolies and which amount in effect to prohibition."

The resolution next approves a resolution adopted in May, 1908, which asks the admission of sugar and tobacco to America without any concessions here, and insists upon the adoption by Congress of that resolution. In conclusion it protests "respectfully but energetically" against free trade for America here and limitations on Philippine products in America. The resolution also declares that the Philippine Legislature cannot in any possible manner devise new means for producing an income to maintain its government.

The Assembly later amended Queson's resolution by adding the declaration that, in the belief of the Legislature the passage of the Payne bill would prove prejudicial to the independence of the Philippines. Then it was adopted without division.

Figured West Could Get All Votes Going to Governor in House, but Element of Weakness Is Shurtleff Forces' Opposition.

CHICAGO, March 27 .- (Special.)-Roy O. West, member of the Board of Review, and chairman of the Republican State Committee, is Congressman William Lorimer's latest candidate for United States Senator.

MANILA. March 27. — Floor Leader Queson, of the majority of the Philippine Assembly, presented a resolution today embodying a memorial to Congress opposing the Payne bill. The resolution recites the provisions of the bill, and then declares that its enactment would be "inimical to the interests of the Fift-pino people, especially so far as it concerns an economic administration." The resolution then continues: Since the fiasco of last Wednesday, when the Shurtleff, Dencen and Lowden booms fell flat in the great effort during 12 ballots to break the deadlock, Mr. Lorimer has been grooming the West boom, which it is planned to spring Tuesday in Springfield.

Mr. West has been chosen on the theory that he can get all the votes that Governor Deneen could have at-tracted, and that he will not be so vehement as the Governor was in refusing the Senatorship. When the Deneen stampede was being planned Tuesday night Mr. West was in Sprigfield, and in conference every minwith Congressman Lorimer and ute Speaker Shurtleff. He was supposed to be urging the Governor to accept the Senatorship. The next day, however, he seemed to take much pleasure in spreading the news that Mr. Deneen was in a rage and would under no circes accept the Senatorship.

West Has Long Been Slated.

It has been inside gossip in Republican circles for the last four years that if it lay within the power of Governor Deneen to accomplish it, Roy O. West was to become a Senator. It was the intention to run him in the primary against Senator Hopkins, but the plan was dropped on account of the flerce fight made against the Governo himself.

Assemblyman Lukban, of Manila, advised the acceptance of the terms of the Payne bill, and a few other members apparently were opposed to the resolution, but when the clause relative to the future independence of the islands was inserted there was no further opposition and a motion to make the vote unanimous prevailed. Now, with the Democratic contest dropped and Mr. Deneen holding the balance of power in the deadlock, the Lomire plan contains such elements of feasibility that it has excited the politicians more than any previous dark

Only One Weak Point.

The strength of the West boom lies in the theory that he could get all the support in the House. But it has a weakness in the lack of popular ity of Mr. West among the Shurtleff-Lorimer legislators. While they were willing to send Deneen to the Senate. n order to get John G. Oglesby in as Governor, they are balking at the idea of handing Mr. West a Senatorship and staining the present Governor. Mr. Lorimer has been compelled to use all his powers of persuasion, and even then has been unable to convince all. The secret of the West boom was revealed by a country legislator, who has been voting for Speaker Shurtleff, and who was asked to switch on Tuesday to West.

PASTORS TO REORGANIZE

METHODISTS PLAN ASSOCIATION ON NEW LINES.

Dr. C. E. Cline, Said to Be Discordant Element, Retires From Presidency Tomorrow.

When the members of the Methodist Ministerial Association meet tomorrow in the Taylor-street Methodist Church in the Taylor-street Methodist Church after nearly two months of inactivity, Dr. C. E. Cline's term of office as president will expire. That some radical changes in the constitution of that body will be made, is a foregone conclusion. It was at the last meeting, held on February 8, that the decision was made to hold no more sessions during the presidency of Rev. C. E. Cline. On that occasion, Dr. Cline made some severe criticisms of another member of the association and the discontinuance of the meetings, it was said, was meant to be a meetings, it was said, was meant to be a rebuke to the presiding officer for his

Another matter which is said to have incurred the displeasure of members of the association was the action of Dr. Cline with regard to the attitude of Methodist ministers in the Portland postmastership controversy, there being some misunderstanding as to whether the president assumed to represent the sentiment of the association or merely the opinion entertained by himself.

Owing to the factional line-up that is said to have existed among the members of the association, the meetings were not largely attended and their primary function was considerably curtailed. With tomorrow's meeting the reorganization of the association will be undertaken. The members of the committee appointed to prepare a new constitution is composed of Rev. W. J. Douglas, of Woodlawn; Rev. L. C. Poor, of Sellwood; and Rev. J. W. McDougall, of Mount Tabor.

While admitting that they had a num-ber of recommendations to present to the meeting, they declined to divulge their exact nature. It is known, however, that some legislation will be offered that will the $8000 on deposit in two Los Angeles banks, while the liabilities are $48,500.
