MRS. FIELDING S. KELLY (BESS BARKER)
HOSTESS AT A TEA ON WEDNESDAY FOR
MISS BRUERE OF NEW YORK

MISS CAROLINE KAMM,
A PORTLAND ACADEMY AND BRYN MAWR
GIRL, WHOSE ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED
TO MR. JAMES A. MCKINNON

THE last week has been distinctive of nothing in particular unless it has been particular dullness. The Apollo Club recital Wednesday was an exception, and the organization, a most capable one, fills a long-felt want. The voices are well balanced, of good quality, with rich and strong basses, and a sweet and clear tenor section. Miss Sara Glance, the soloist, has a contralto voice of warmth and color and has a pleasing presence.

For the Mischa Elman concert tomorrow night several theatrical parties are planned, followed by suppers. The coming week has strong theatrical attractions, including Nazimova and the Ben Greet players. Commencing next Saturday night dinner-dances will again be inaugurated at the Golf Club for the summer months.

Mrs. Charles Ladd has sent out cards for her annual May "garden walk" at her handsome country residence, Cedarhurst, at Riverdale. The Ladds boast of the most beautiful lawns and gardens in this city, and during the Spring months they reach the quintessence of beauty. During April tulips, crab-apple, iris and daffodils were shown in rare varieties, while during May the peonies and lilacs are in all their pristine loveliness.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Frank L. Knapp, who were married in Portland a fortnight ago, are now in Washington, but will leave soon for Europe. The bride, who is a cousin of Mrs. Carroll Hurlburt (Miss Leslie Knapp), was formerly Miss Alexandria Barnes, the daughter of Congressman Barnes of Wisconsin, a noted jurist. She is a girl of marked mental attainments who has lived and studied much abroad, but came West owing to ill-health and for a time lived in Seattle. Owing to Mrs. Hurlburt the wedding was celebrated here at Trinity Church, the bride entertaining her entire bridal party for a week at the Hotel Portland. Lieutenant Knapp is going abroad to accept a diplomatic position.

A cable from Captain Albert J. Brazeo, of Manila, to his mother, Mrs. F. A. Knapp, states that Mrs. Brazeo, with their four small children and a nurse, sailed from Manila April 22 for a year's visit in Portland with Mr. and Mrs. F. A.

Knapp, coming via Hongkong. Mrs. Brazeo was formerly Senorita Consuelo Palma, the handsome daughter of the late Judge Jose Palma, an eminent Spanish jurist, who served for years under the Spanish government as Governor of the Camarines, Pangasinan, Ilocos Norte and Ilocos Sur. The wedding of Captain Brazeo and Senorita Palma, in 1902, was the event "par excellence" of the winter, including the most distinguished members of Spanish and American society in Manila.

Since American occupation, the Palma residence has become famous among Americans for its hospitality. Consuelo, the 6-year-old daughter of Captain and Mrs. Brazeo, is said to be an exceptionally bright child, conversing in four languages.

Captain Brazeo will sail for America one year hence to return with his family to the Philippines. Captain Brazeo is a brother of Mrs. Morton Inley, Mrs. Esterson Effinger and Mrs. Carroll Hurlburt (Miss Leslie Knapp).

In a spectacular Drury Lane melodrama which is scheduled for a long run at McVicker's Chicago theater, Frank Dekum is appearing in the leading juvenile role, and is also understudy for the leading man.

In honor of her mother, Mrs. Fender, of Scotland, Mrs. William A. MacMaster was hostess at a well-appointed luncheon on Friday, which included Mrs. C. H. Lewis, Mrs. W. S. Ladd, Mrs. H. W. Corbett, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Mrs. Joseph M. York, Mrs. William Honeyman, Mrs. S. Heitahu, Mrs. Philip Schuyler and Mrs. Frank Warren, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Almsworth are spending several days in New York and are at the Hotel Plaza.

Unusual interest is taken in the engagement of Miss Caroline Kamm to James A. McKinnon, which was announced at a tea given in Miss Kamm's honor at the home of Mrs. Faye Nichols last Tuesday. Miss Kamm is the only daughter of Mrs. Charles T. Kamm, and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kamm, pioneers of Oregon. Miss Kamm is a graduate of Portland Academy, also a Bryn Mawr girl. She has a most winning personality, a girl of rare attainments. Besides being a finished musician, she is a horsewoman of considerable merit. Mr. McKinnon, an old resident of Portland, served as Lieutenant in the Philippines.

In the "Tour Around the World" planned by the ladies of the First Congregational Church, Wednesday evening, May 26 Japan will be visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Y. Numano, Twenty-fifth and Lovejoy streets, where Mrs. Frank Warren, Jr., will have charge of the dining-room, assisted by Mrs. Charles Ringler, Miss Adele Dyott, Miss Josephine Smith, Miss Ruth Church and Miss Ada Doerflinger. Holland will be visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Harmon, on Lovejoy street. Mrs. F. S. Helcher will have charge of the dining-room assisted by Mrs. W. F. Sime, Miss Helen Harmon, Miss Genevieve Church, Miss Sadie Knapp, Miss Marie La Barra and Miss Zella Huddleston. China will be visited at the home of Mrs. Walter Holt, 827 Lovejoy street. Mrs. F. H. Alliston will preside in the dining-room, assisted by Mrs. G. F. Koehler, Mrs. John Bell, Mrs. Charles E. Warren, Mrs. W. Durham, Miss Frances Warren. The matrons and girls assisting will be dressed in the costumes of the countries visited. Particulars in regard to Spain, Alaska and America have not yet been given out. Guides will be stationed at the four corners of Twenty-fifth and Lovejoy streets to direct the tourists.

A letter from New York states that the wedding of Miss Nora Langhorne and Paul Phipps, of London, which took place on April 26, at St. James Church, New York, was one of the smartest nuptials of the entire year. The wedding was of especial interest, as the bride is one of the famous Langhorne girls who have been exploited and heralded as great beauties, and who have incidentally made excellent marriages. Charles Dana Gibson, the brother-in-law of the bride, not only planned and gave the reception, but designed the gowns worn by the bridesmaids, which were beautiful in simplicity and infinitely better, novel. Mr. Gibson's principal admonition to the models was that "no stitching was to show," that the gowns must appear to be merely draped upon the wearers. The result was that the girls resembled the veritable mist that arises from the sea. Peach blossom chiffon was draped over These soft, new silks are made up in clever, individual modes with all the dainty, feminine style touches one demands of her own dressmaker, but rarely finds in ready-to-wear garments. Every one, different from every other, bears the unmistakable mark of superiority.

Silk Dresses Exclusive One-of-a-Kind Designs

They range from distinctive but simple afternoon frocks with net chemisettes and trimmings of buttons and bandings in contrasting tints, to the most elaborate evening gowns with neck and yoke of fine lace, embroidered net or chiffon, and trimmings of rich Persian bands, fringe, handsome buttons and of gold-threaded lace.
