How to PLAN YOUR VACATION—Have you planned your vacation? If not, go to the Public Library for suggestions. In the patent-room at the end of the hall may be found a large collection of illustrated folders, train schedules, time tables, lists of hotels and boarding-houses, and other material that will help you to plan your trip.

EMPIRE DAY CONCERT—At a meeting of the British societies held in the Commercial Club last night final arrangements were made for the annual concert of the societies in commemoration of the Queen Victoria's birthday. This year the Queen Victoria's birthday is celebrated in the building, and the fact that Mrs. Walter Reed, Miss Lawler and F. T. Crowther all take part in the program insures a concert as good as any that has been given in the city.

CAPITOL HILL—This beautiful tract is conceded by all who see it to be the prettiest and best of all the additions platted in the city. It is on the West Side, within the city limits, on the Oregon Electric Railroad, only 15 minutes' ride from downtown and Jefferson streets, and 5-cent cars to draw-bridges to cross, no delay in going or coming. We are grading all the streets, laying sidewalks and running water piped to all lots within 90 days, remember all lots are full size, 50x100, and now is the time to buy while they are cheap; come out today. Agents on the ground; full particulars of Clohesy & Smith, 401 McKay bldg., Third and Stark.

FATHER SUES DAUGHTER.—Father and daughter are parties to a suit filed with the State Circuit Court, yesterday. Andrew Gordon, a real estate dealer, asks the court to issue a decree relieving him from the necessity of paying his 18-year-old daughter the sum of $75 a month which was awarded her mother as alimony before the mother's death in 1907. Gordon says that the alimony check hanging over his head puts a cloud on all his property and for that reason he wishes it annulled. His wife, Blanche Gordon, on securing a divorce in 1904, was awarded $200 a month as permanent alimony for support of herself and daughter. It is Gordon's present contention that the death of his divorced wife relieved him from the payment of alimony and that the daughter has no legal claim to the sum named in the decree.

PRESBYTERIANS WILL MEET.—Arrangements are being made by the Presbyterian Brotherhood for a convention to be held in Portland, June 8-9, during the Rose Festival. The convention will be attended by well-known Presbyterians from all parts of the country, who will come here from the assembly, which is being held in Denver, May 20, and it is expected that a great impetus to Presbyterian work as well as the brotherhood movement will come as a result of the meeting. Conventions of the organization are to be held also in Spokane, San Francisco and Seattle during the month. Dr. William Hiram Foulkes is chairman of the local committee.

SUES HUSBAND FOR SUPPORT.—Clara Campbell brought action with the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon to compel her husband, John Carter Campbell to pay her $50 a month for the support of herself and 18-month-old baby. She says that he conducted himself in such a manner during April that she was compelled to leave home. Since then he has failed and refused to contribute towards her support, she says. Saying plainly in her complaint that she does not wish a divorce, she asks support money and an allowance of $300 to pay for bringing suit.
