

STUBBORN FIGHT
ON TARIFF RATES

Issue Clearly Drawn on Revision Between Factions in Senate.

MAY FIGHT ALL SUMMER

Revisionists Demand Reduction on Lead and Threaten to Keep Question Before Country Till Next Election.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The battle over the lead schedule of the tariff bill continued in the Senate today and the issue was more clearly drawn between the Republican leaders and the Republican insurgents. The latter openly threatened to keep Congress in session all Summer rather than allow the schedules to be rushed through, and warned the leaders that an unsatisfactory bill meant only a renewal of the battle for revised two years hence. Aldrich retorted that, if every schedule were to be thoroughly explained, the bill would not be completed in 10 years.

Bristow Attacks Lead Duty.

As soon as the bill was taken up and Section 190, putting a duty of 2 1/2 cents per pound on pig lead, was read, Bristow arose and declared that the increase to 15 cents a pound and the increase of 10 cents on the rate of the Dingley bill, Bristow read from the tariff hearings held by the ways and means committee to show that it was there contended that this increase, if made, would necessitate an increase of duties on other ingredients that are used in making paint. He argued that the House had been judicious in its action.

"It makes no difference that the House did from time to time," said Aldrich. "We are here to do justice to this industry in view of the facts of this case."

He added that Mr. Leishberger, from whose testimony Bristow read, was "trying to break down the whole lead schedule."

"The facts stated by this witness are the important things," interposed Beveridge. "and it means that Leishberger is his personal views are on the tariff or on any other matter. We are here to know the facts, and if Mr. Leishberger's testimony is not true, we should know it."

Purchaser Has Some Rights. Snoot remarked that Mr. Leishberger is a smelter and a purchaser of lead and Bristow retorted by declaring that the purchaser of lead has some rights as well as the men who have lead for sale.

Bristow contended that the differential provided by the duty recommended by the committee on finance on pig lead was greater than the cost of smelting and unwarranted.

The reading of the testimony of Mr. Brush, of the American Smelting & Refining Company, approved by the Senate, during which Senators Smoot and Smith, of Michigan, suggested that he was influenced by his Mexican interests, and by the interests of his business, so that his testimony should not be taken as satisfactory.

Snoot declared that Mr. Brush, and had every confidence in anything he might say.

He was liable to be affected in his views, he said, and in his opinions, by his interests, as all men are, but he added:

Stay All Summer to Do It Right. "Whatever he says, whether or not under oath, I am certain he says what he honestly believes."

Burkett condemned the method by which the committee on finance prepared its bill without hearings. He declared that "sometimes not even a quorum of the committee is present in the Senate to give information."

"There are a whole lot of people," he said, "who are more interested in having this bill passed than in having it finished in a hurry, and I for one am willing to stay here all Summer to make it absolutely right."

Replying to Burkett, Aldrich said that if the Senate stayed in session until all the Senators understood every schedule in the bill, they would not only be here all Summer, but for ten years. The prosperity of the people of Nebraska, as of the country generally, depended upon the maintenance of the protective tariff.

Fight It Out Two Years Hence. In concluding his remarks, Bristow said that, rather than give the American people an improper tariff law, he would send the subject back to them to be fought over two years hence.

Carter retorted that the Senate had not had ample information regarding the schedules of the tariff. He exhibited the publications of the ways and means committee of the House and of the finance committee of the Senate as well as those of the various Government bureaus and departments. He said that the hearings held before the House committee would finally reach a cost of over $500,000 and asked if there was any reason for the duplication of this work at the Senate. He then spoke in opposition to a tariff commission.

Lodge Champions Protection. Lodge said that what made Senators on the Republican side laugh when the revenue aspect of duties was discussed by members of the minority was "the regularity with which the tariff became revenue duties, when they cross the borders of certain states." Calculating the number of people engaged in trade occupations in the United States at 20,000,000, the Massachusetts Senator declared that, including those who were dependent upon their wages for support, they make up "practically the whole population" of the Nation. Asserting that the protective system had been in force in some form since 1789, he related that to change it now would be to bring disaster upon the Nation.

Newlands Has New Scheme. Newlands declared that the question before Congress was a reduction of duties on imports, which involved a variety of information not accessible to Senators. Newlands announced his policy for the establishment of a bureau in the interior Commerce Commission, which "upon complaint could determine the excessiveness of any duty, according to a rule to be established by law."

Aldrich, saying that a vote on the lead schedule could not be taken then, suggested the Senate adjourn. Before that action was taken, Bacon referred to the great cotton industry of the South, which he said could not share the benefits of the protective tariff. He declared the tariff put on cotton was as useless as would be a tariff on cotton. The section from which the Senator from Massa-

DRUG CONCERN TO BUILD
Establishment Will Manufacture
Chemicals in Portland.

A large wholesale and manufacturing drug establishment is to be located in Portland by the American Druggists' Syndicate, of New York, which has already begun the construction of its first building.

The syndicate has purchased a lot on Flanders street and is erecting a three-story brick building. Other buildings will be added to the plant in the future. The property will cost approximately $75,000, and stock valued at $100,000 will be installed. The syndicate is expected to be ready for business by August 1.

The American Druggists' Syndicate has 14,000 druggist stockholders and covers the entire manufacturing plant in New York. The syndicate, by manufacturing its own drugs, is able to supply stock at cost of manufacture to its stockholders for retailing. Goods are sold only to stockholders, but any druggist is admitted to membership upon payment of certain fees. The syndicate has branch houses in Chicago, Omaha and San Francisco.

The San Francisco branch has been supplying the stockholders in the Northwest, but the Portland branch will occupy that territory after this Summer and will manufacture stock for the San Francisco house. The territory of the Portland house will include Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho and Alaska. The officers will be: K. E. Williams, president; T. Wigman, vice-president, and G. N. Cherrington, secretary-treasurer.

BIG PROFIT FOR SOMEONE
Movement to Purchase Holbein Picture Is Opposed.

LONDON, May 8.—A lively campaign has been started by a section of the press against the suggested purchase of Holbein's "Christina of Denmark," which the Duke of Norfolk has just sold to an art dealer with an option that the nation might purchase it within a month.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that the picture is not worth anything like the $500,000 demanded for it. This sum is approximately the price of the $8,000 for someone, as the Duke of Norfolk sold the canvas for $205,000.

FALLS FROM HIGH TRAPEZE
Circus Performer Sends Thrill of Horror Through Spectators.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—In full view of more than 5000 terror-stricken spectators, Miss May Scott, a trapeze performer with a circus, slipped and tumbled from her trapeze bar to the ground, a distance of 60 feet, during a performance this afternoon. She was dangerously injured.

So unnumbered were hundreds of women and children by the accident that notices of the circus had to circulate among the spectators, and state that they had been strictly hurt by the performance could be continued.

MEAD AND MILLS IN LINE
Ex-State Officials Apt to Feel Probe of Legislative Inquisitors.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 8.—(Special.)—As the result of the recent exposures in the state office, a campaign of investigation is being started which is expected to include every state official in Olympia and some of those whose terms of office have expired.

At present the plans of the legislative investigating committee, as made public today, include ex-Governor Mead, ex-State Treasurer George D. Mills, son-in-law of M. J. Gordon, of Spokane, and C. W. Clatsop, present State Auditor.

The investigation of Mead and Mills is the outcome of a cursory examination of the records of the Hamilton trust, in which Mills "O. O." the payment of $50,000 for this building and it has been determined to the satisfaction of the committee that the building could have been erected for half that amount. The committee feels that if there was no graft in the construction of this building there was a carelessness in the handling of the state's money that is worthy of probing.

In addition to an investigation in connection with the building of the Governor's residence, Mead will also have to tell the committee why he allowed his name to be stamped on Hamilton's vouchers without making any effort to know whether the state was getting value received.

With Mead in this trouble is C. W. Clausen, who, as State Auditor, passed on the Hamilton vouchers without giving them the formal attention.

There is considerable speculation as to whether or not the office of State Land Commissioner Ross will be investigated. Hints and innuendoes have been going the rounds with persistency since the committee took up its work in Olympia. Ross was investigated two years ago and there was nothing of any great import discovered.

State Treasurer Insists His Books Shall Be Audited by Experts.

OLYMPIA, Wash., May 8.—John G. Lewis, State Treasurer, has handed a letter to Governor M. E. Hay demanding that his office be investigated, though he took up his duties only in January. He says that the office has been so conducted that no breath of suspicion has ever been cast against it, though he took up his duties only in January. FRENCH CONFLICT
MOVY DEFERRED

Employees Will Await Meeting of Parliament Before Striking.

BOTH SIDES GET READY

Government Will Put Carrier Pigeons in Service—Employees Issue Revolutionary Manifestoes by Wholesale.

PARIS, May 8.—The declaration of a strike by the postal, telegraph, telephone and railroad employees of the government has been deferred until next Tuesday in order to give Parliament an opportunity to intervene when it reassembles on Monday.

In the meantime both the government and the employees are making every preparation for the struggle. The government has posted troops and special police to guard the central post and telegraph station, the switchboard and the telephone and telegraph lines. It has also secured 150,000 carrier pigeons, trained for war. These measures are ridiculed by the strike committee, which promises big surprises.

Resign Rather Than Yield.

Premier Clemenceau is still confined to his room by sickness, but he is in constant communication with his colleagues, and declares he will resign rather than make terms.

M. Barthou, the Minister of Public Works, is of the opinion that a considerable proportion of the state employees will stick to their posts, and that with the aid of soldiers and the support of the chambers of commerce and the commercial associations, who are organized in auxiliary forces, the public service will be maintained.

The committee's manifestoes, which are couched in the phraseology of revolution, read as if the postmen were martyrs to liberty. For instance, in announcing the refusal of 17 postmen to appear before the council of discipline today on the ground that to comply would be an interference with their liberty, they are described as "going to the execution of their duty beyond the pale of the law, which conveyed the victims of the revolutionary tribune to the guillotine."

Railroad Men Ask Pensions.

Many of the groups of railroad men in the provinces have voted sympathy with the strikers, and have announced their support of the resolution of the railroad men's Congress to go on strike if Parliament does not vote a pension bill.

At the meetings, the strikers expressed the excitement and the apparent approval of a crisis, Paris is as gay as ever. The social season is at its height, and the boulevards are filled with pleasure-seekers. One newspaper describes the situation as follows:

"We are standing over a volcano, but Paris, as usual, only amuses itself. The postal employees made no further move tonight in reply to the dismissal of their leaders beyond adopting a manifesto announcing that all the association employees in the different services were agreed and that the success of the movement was assured. The manifesto states that the strike will be declared at the right moment if it is forced by the government. A few sectional meetings were held in the evening, and in the provinces. These included a meeting of the telephone girls, who voted to support the movement to the bitter end."

CROP PROMISES BIG RAIN WILL INSURE RECORD
YIELD OF WHEAT.

Conditions in Central Washington Are Very Favorable—Grain Is of Dark Green Color.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 8.—(Special.)—With rain in the next two weeks, it is assured that Central Washington will yield the largest harvest of wheat ever recorded in the history of the crop. Warm showers in the last three weeks have moistened the soil, which was cracking because of incessant drought. The whirlwinds in some sections of the prairies have whipped the earth away and exposed the Spring sown seed, but the larger areas, promising appearances. At Edwall the lack of rain is felt perhaps more than elsewhere. Farmers are preparing to sow a large acreage to winter wheat after the Fall harvest.

At Coulee City, only the fruit crop has been damaged by the elements. The cool weather following several rain storms has been favorable to green growing grain.

At Davenport the soil is beginning to dry in higher exposed spots, but weather has been cloudy and rains are threatened. At Ilwaco two years ago the greatest wheat shipping point in the world, wheat has a sturdy dark green color, and the yield is promising.

ROLLER FAILS TO DO FEAT
Only Throws Pardello Once in 30 Minutes.

MILWAUKEE, May 8.—Leo Pardello, the Italian, fought backed out of the fish wrestling match with Dr. E. F. Roller, of Seattle. Dr. Roller tried to throw the Italian twice in 30 minutes, but failed. Dr. Roller secured only one fall and that in 10 1/2 minutes by a reverse Nelson hold. Pardello wrestled entirely on the defensive and several times crept or ran off the mat.

Lumber Schooners Clear.

ASTORIA, Or., May 8.—(Special.)—The steamer Johan Paulsen cleared at the Custom-house last evening for San Francisco with a cargo of 800,000 feet of lumber loaded at Portland, and 150,000 feet loaded at Knappton. The steamer Yosemite cleared for San Francisco. She carries a cargo of 900,000 feet of lumber, loaded at St. Helena.

GROWING TOO BIG
Balinger Says Work of Government Is Enormous.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Richard A. Balinger, Secretary of the Interior, was the principal speaker tonight before a gathering of members of the Zeta Psi fraternity at the Hotel Astor. Mr. Balinger said: "The growth of governmental agencies is enormous. The appropriations of my own department amount to more than $30,000,000 a year and there are 800 employees scattered throughout the country."

TOO MUCH FOR ONE MAN
Details of Departments Have Become Difficult to Control—Cleaner Public Sentiment Due to Roosevelt.

"It is entirely beyond the power of one individual to oversee all the details of the work. In the course of its development every department has taken upon itself a tremendous system which is becoming more and more difficult to control. Agencies are growing extremely broad and vast in extent, not alone in the Federal Government but also in state and municipal government."

"There is today a cleaner and healthier civic sentiment throughout the United States than ever before, and I think that there is nobody who is more responsible for it than Theodore Roosevelt."

ASYLUM KEEPERS BRUTAL
In Subduing Insane Patient They Inflict Fatal Injuries.

VIENNA, May 8.—(Special.)—In a public lunatic asylum of Vienna George Feigl, a bookbinder, has been for some time an inmate of the ward for paralytics. He went raving mad, and as the attendant on duty could not grapple with him single-handed, he called two of his colleagues to his aid.

The three attendants decided to wrap the patient in linen cloth. He still offered resistance, however, and they then brummed and dragged him to the ward with their fists and then kicking him. Numerous injuries were inflicted, including a broken rib, and bruises all over the body. Finally they tightened a bandkerchief so tightly round his throat that he was all but throttled. When they had finished the brutalities the man was more dead than alive and he succumbed in a few hours without regaining consciousness.

The three attendants were at once dismissed and were subsequently arrested.

SPOUSE TOO GOOD FOR WIFE
Baroness von Hutton Divorced From Man Without Vice.

ROME, May 8.—The Baroness von Hutton has been divorced. The decree was granted to her husband today by a German court on the ground of desertion. There is no alimony, and the Baroness is permitted to see her children for one month each year.

Before her marriage the Baroness was Miss Betsy Liddle, one of the smartest girls of the Erie, Pa., smart set, a niece of the late Thomas Scott, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Baroness told her friends that the disagreement and divorce were due to her husband's "artistic temperament."

"The real trouble is that Freddy is too good," she added. "If he only had one small vice, like smoking, for instance, I could almost tolerate him, but the reality is too good."

GETS DINNER BY RUSE
Tramp Poses as Count and Imposes on Caterer and Cabman.

PARIS, May 8.—(Special.)—A man named Daval, who has only lately been released from prison, obtained an expensive dinner with wine and all else of the most expensive description, by an ingenious and amusing trick.

Calling a cab he told the driver that he was the Count d'Aberville, and that he had bet a friend a large sum of money that dressed in tramp's rags he would enjoy a dinner at one of the most exclusive hotels. If the cabman would arrange the matter for him with the manager of the hotel, the Count would pay him handsomely.

The cabman, driving up to a luxurious restaurant, took the manager aside and whispered the information that his disreputable-looking "fare" was really a Count in disguise, and then related the story of the bet. The manager at once fell into the trap, and the ex-prisoner
