in Month of April.

The market of May made a good start and every indication is that next month will bring a larger volume of building permits. There was an increase in the number of per mits issued, and it is probable that another increase will be shown when the figures for June are available. The market is looking forward to another notable building season.

The most important accommodation on the market is for small 2 or 3-story frame permits and for 2-family frame dwellings. The market is looking forward to another notable building season.

The Great Industrial Center of the Pacific Northwest

Oregon has no considerable manufacturing center outside of Portland. Somewhere within the next five years such a city is bound to rise. The location of such a community is decided naturally. It requires certain definite factors which absolutely must be present. They are desirable manufacturing sites, deep water shipping facilities and the presence of railroads that will adequately serve the interests of the big industries. Destiny has decided that a manufacturing city shall have these essentials, and consequently, Destiny has selected BURLINGTON for BURLINGTON has all of them in abundance. If these facts are not already apparent to you, you will immediately become so if you will take a trip to BURLINGTON today over the UNITED RAILWAYS.
