

SMITH'S SAVER IS VERDICT EXPECTED

Alienists Disagree as to Mental Responsibility of Salem Blackmailer.

Sheriff Says Letters Sent to Banker Bush Were of Most Vicious Nature—Prisoner Said to Have Had Trouble in Alaska.

SALEM, Or., May 29.—(Special).—The Albany man who held up the Hines jewelry store and is accused of having attempted to extort $5000 from Banker A. Bush and abduct the daughter, is in such a precarious mental state that if he is sent to the penitentiary he will within a comparatively short time be committed to the asylum, is the opinion of Dr. W. A. Cusick, of Salem, a member of the insanity commission appointed to examine into the mental state of Smith. The commission will hold another session Monday afternoon, when it is expected the decision will be announced. Dr. Cusick said tonight: "I am not ready to say that Smith is responsible or that he is not. There are some things about the case that confuse me. I was formerly physician at the prison, and I sometimes took two or three months to determine whether a man was shamming insanity or not. It is sometimes a very confusing thing to do."

Verdict of Sanity Expected. It is thought, however, that the decision of the commission will be that Smith is sane and that he should be tried. It is known that soon after Smith's arrest on the charge of holding up the jewelry store a private examination of the prisoner was made by Dr. Williamson, of Portland; Dr. Griffith, of Portland; and Dr. Frank E. Smith, of Salem. It is asserted that two of the three physicians were at that time convinced of Smith's sanity. The examination held yesterday was conducted before a commission composed of Dr. Griffith and Dr. Cusick. It is expected that there will be a majority report to the effect that Smith was sane at the time of the commission of the alleged crime.

When the letters addressed to Mr. Bush were first turned over to Sheriff Minto, the Sheriff sent the Postoffice Department a written request for a special agent to help ferret out the author of the letters. The agent either did not come to Salem or did not make himself known to the Sheriff for some time. Had Accomplishes, It Is Believed.

When Smith was arrested for the Hinges holdup, and some of his letters fell into the hands of the officers, the Sheriff at once concluded that Smith was the author of the Bush letters. He was so certain of this that he wrote the Postoffice Department that the special agent need not come. The agent, Clemens, showed up the next day, however, and the Sheriff turned over to him the letters and the Hinges holdup. In the letter and whether he is still in the city, the officers decline absolutely to say. Sheriff Minto declares the letters to Banker Bush the most vicious he has ever read, and does not hesitate to say that the man who could write such letters should never be allowed his liberty.

Alaska Record Not Good. Ten or 12 years ago Smith was a whisky salesman and traveled up and down the Willamette valley. For some years he has been in Northwest Territory, Fairbanks and Nome, Alaska. Last Fall he returned to Oregon. It is said that while in Alaska he was taken into Siberia with a stock of furs and having no permit from the Russian government, his stock was confiscated and he was ordered to leave the country.

FARM LANDS IN DEMAND Californian Pays $17,000 for Ranch Near Chehalis. CHEHALIS, Wash., May 29.—(Special).—There is a good demand for Lewis County farm land in this immediate section. There was one $17,000 sale this week, the purchaser being Niles Petersen, of Humboldt County, California. The deal was for 24 acres southwest of Chehalis from Fred Meek. Mr. Petersen will go into the dairy business. There have been a number of other deals in Lewis County from North Bend and Empire City, California, and buy farms and all are doing well. Secretary Merrill, who has charge of the publicity work for the local public city is daily receiving many inquiries from the Eastern and Middle West states regarding lands in Lewis County. He expects soon to issue for the local public city work an attractive folder to send East which will give a comprehensive description of local conditions and opportunities.

Roseburg Officers Suspect Local Parties of Robbery.

ROSEBURG, Or., May 29.—(Special).—Unknown robbers entered the Wells-Fargo Express Company's office in this city last evening, appropriating between $60 and $65 belonging to the Postal Telegraph & Cable Company. No evidence of forcible entrance has been discovered, tending to substantiate the theory of the officers that the person responsible for the crime possesses a key. Local parties are suspected.

COOS BAY WORK HALTED

Government Finds $25,000 Fund Is Tangled With Red Tap.

MARSHFIELD, Or., May 29.—(Special).—Captain Peters, who is in charge of the Government dredge Oregon, has received a telegram from Major Melndoe, instructing him to discontinue the Government work now on hand. There is some uncertainty about the $25,000 to the credit of Coos Bay in the petty fund being transferred to the dredger fund. However, the halting of the Government work being done by the dredger will not cause it to stop work. Many individual property-owners are anxious to have the work made, and the dredger will be worked on these private enterprises until the matter of the transfer of the money is straightened out in Congress. Representative Hawley has telegraphed the Chamber of Commerce that he is doing the best he can to get the matter settled.

Ejected From Grounds When He Objects to Erection of Peanut Stand.

FAIR BOARD APOLOGIZES

Report of Incident Is Made to Governor Brady at Boise, and Commissioner McKinlay Says He Is Satisfied.

SEATTLE, May 29.—(Special).—A. D. McKinlay, commissioner from Idaho to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, was placed under arrest by the Exposition guards today and escorted off the grounds. He objected to the erection of a selling booth on the grounds allotted to his state. When Mr. McKinlay attempted again to enter the grounds to visit the Idaho building he was stopped at the gate and his pass was demanded, which he refused to surrender. When prevented from entering the Exposition Mr. McKinlay sent word to J. A. Flicher, commissioner from California, who is president of the Commissioners' Association, and explained the status of the booth question through the fence on the university side of the grounds. Mr. Flicher then brought the matter to the attention of President J. E. Chibberg and Director-General I. A. Nadeau, with the result that an apology was offered and the booth ordered removed.

Lawn Will Be Repaired.

Director of Works Frank P. Allen, Jr., under whose orders the booth was installed, was ordered to fill up the excavation and to replace the sod in the condition in which it was found. In speaking of the controversy, Mr. Flicher said tonight:

ASTORIA, Or., May 29.—(Special).—During the past few years five or six deaths from typhoid fever have occurred among the employees on the tug Samson, which is used for hauling rock barges to and from the jetty, and there have been several other cases of the same disease which fortunately did not result fatally.

Idaho's Governor Informed.

"Falling to get within the gates, Mr. McKinlay sent for me at the Oregon building and I met him at the University fence. We talked through the wires and I promised him that I would lay the matter before the executive committee of the Exposition. I also advised him to wire a report of the affair to Governor J. H. Brady, of Idaho, which he did. I met President and Director-General Nadeau and they expressed deep regret that the Commissioner of Idaho had been humiliated. They informed me that they desired to remove the booth from the Idaho grounds and to place the grounds in condition. If an apology is offered, the Commissioners' Association will take no action.

IN AID OF FLAXGROWERS

Salem Man Invents New "Thresher" With Great Capacity.

SALEM, Or., May 29.—(Special).—Eugene Besse, of Salem, the leading flax expert of the Willamette Valley, has received from the United States patent office complete rights on a new flax machine, which is believed will make flax-growing feasible and profitable in this country. The machine is composed of three departments, and would commonly be known as a threshing machine. The machine will do away with the present expensive process of retting the straw. It is said the machine will turn out from

Advertisement for Fine Furniture by J. G. Mack & Co. Located at Fifth and Stark. Text: "By 'fine furniture' we mean all furniture that is finely designed, finely finished and finely made, whether it be expensive or not. Fine furniture will remain fine furniture, wearing for a generation after the trashy kind is worn out and thrown away. Ten or twenty years after its purchase it will still be a source of pride and comfort, while in as many weeks the ugly and poorly-made kind will be an eye-sore and a source of humiliation. Our furniture, in all prices, is chiefly 'fine furniture' and we ask nothing more than an opportunity to prove that it costs no more than the other sort. STORE CLOSED ALL DAY TOMORROW, FOR DECORATION DAY."

Weyerhaeuser Company Protests $45,000 Payment.

CHENAILLE, Or., May 29.—(Special).—Today the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company paid a balance of $45,000 taxes and interest aggregating almost $7000 on its 1907 taxes in Lewis County. The tax was paid under protest. George S. Long accompanying the company's check with a letter. The company alleges that payment is made to avoid payment of extraordinary and arbitrary penalties in the way of interest, and for the purpose of simplifying any litigation which may result. Further, Mr. Long alleges that the valuation of the company's land was found and determined "not in the true and legal manner after a view of said land, but in an arbitrary manner, which is in violation of the true and actual value of the several subdivisions." Unfairness in valuations as compared with other properties is also alleged, and the claim is made that a large amount of Lewis County property was omitted from the tax rolls.

High Tax Fought

With this big payment, some aggregating fully $7000, over $25,000, and the company intimates that it will contest payment of the balance, amounting to about $6000. When the June warrant calls for the balance of ten-year-old general fund warrants will be reduced. On deferred taxes the big timber company has paid Lewis County more than $100,000. Had the present payment not been made, several thousand dollars' worth of delinquency certificates would have been taken out against the company. Many applications for same were already on file.

Fire Under Control

LEBANON, Or., May 29.—(Special).—At 7 o'clock this morning about 10 hours of steady fire fighting, the flames in the big wood rick at the Lebanon Paper Mill were under control. At 11 o'clock last night the Salem engine with a crew of firemen added two more streams on the mass of burning wood. The big pump of the mill has kept three streams on the fire continuously for 26 hours and has poured water at the rate of 1200 gallons a minute for a minute for 26 hours. The engine has added 600 gallons a minute and to this the big Salem fire-fighter has added 1000 gallons more every minute. No accident has happened to either the machines or the pumps, nor to any of the several hundred men working at the house or woodpile.
