VIOLENCE KEPT UP

Conditions in Georgia Grow More Serious as Racial Feeling Is Increased.

TRAINS CARRY INSPECTORS

People Hesitate About Attacking Mailcars, but Blacks Are Houghly Handled by Strike Sympathizers.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 29.-The strike of Farm Manager Seeks Out Authorithe firemen on the Goorgia Railroad was officially declared off today. An hour and a half later the first train after the resumption of serivce was sent out of Augusta with a negro firemen in the cab The men agreed to return to work pending final adjustment under conditions existing when the strike was begun. All negro firemen at the terminal stations Whether negro firemen shall be eliminated is yet to be decided. If not adjusted by by arbitration under the Erdman act.

by arbitration under the Erdman act.

The settlement was announced in a statement issued by Martin Knapp, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and Charles P. Neill, Federal Commissioner of Labor. It is generally understood that the railroad agrees to recognize the semiority of white firemen. The employment of certain negro firemen who have been with the road many years will be continued. in spite of the fact that the Georgia Railroad strike was called off today vio-lence still continues along the line. While residents in the railroad towns realize that any overt acts against trains carrying Government mail and inspectors may result in serious com-plications, racial feeling is still in-tense, and further rioting would sur-

Railroad Policy Resented.

There is intense excitement at Thomp-Anere is intense excitement at Thompson and Union Point, and there is a firm determination that no trains save those carrying mails solely will be allowed to pass those points. The action of the railroad in sending the mail trains out with negro firemen is bitterly resented. It is feared that these trains are not safe from attack.

It is feared that these trains are not safe from attack.

There are many negroes residing in these towns along the Georgia Railroad, and to the great majority of them the manifestations of excitement on the part of the white people are not fully understood. There is no denying the fact that it is imperative that something in the way of settling this strike be done without delay, else there probably will be bloodshed.

There was a renewal of last night's rioting when a negro fireman was badly benten at Augusta.

In the morning the people of North heaten at Augusta.

In the morning the people of North Georgia in the strike district had delivered an ultimatum that negro firemen should not be put on engines except on the mail

Many leading citizens openly declared that the moment the Georgia road attempted to move passengers or freight with nearo firemen, life and property might be destroyed and that certainly a chaotic and dangerous condition would result.

State Officials Called On.

The state officials had instructed the Sheriff, at Lithenia to summon a posse of sufficient size to protect and insure the movement of the stalled freight cars from Lithenia to Atlanta. This was the first interference by the state in the strike, and it applies only to the situadred High School pupils will sing the National anthem, and the programme of the day will be started.

Invitations have been issued for 1500 persons to occupy seats on the amphitheater singe. After the exercises luncheon will be served on the platform and at the New York State building. Ex-Governor J. H. McGraw will preside at the luncheon. Addresses of welcome will be extended to the Government, the several states represented and to the counties. Kenneth C. Beaton, of Seattle, will make the principal welcoming address. Responses will be made by Jesse E. Wilson, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, on behalf of the Government; by State Senator E. M. Wilcox, of New York, for the states, and by Charles W. O'Neal, of Walla Walla County, for the counties.

Reception at State Buildings.

There will be opening receptions at all of the state buildings. The Callfornia building has been made to appear like a bit of California itself. The building itself, made in the style of the Spanish renaissance, is a beautiful structure. Lemon and orange trees bearing fruit and a great variety of semi-tropical plants, have been used to decorate the grounds. California's exhibit is distinctive in many features, and is unquestionably the handsomest state building on the grounds.

The programme during the afternoon incindes concerts by the Innes and the A-Y-P bands, a reception in the Washington State Women's Building and the first flight of the dirigible balloon.

"Alaska," response by Governor W. B. Hoggutt.

The programme at night will be concluded with a musical concert in the auditorium and a display of fireworks on the Pay Streak, the amusement street of the Fair.

Tomorrow there will be a general inspection of the grounds by the offi-cers of the Exposition. The Govern-ment board of managers amounced to-ment board of managers announced today that the Federal exhibit was ready to the last detail. The last exhibit was brought from Monterey, Cal. by the Government's special fish car and was installed in the Fisherles building.

California's exhibit has been in the

BARK HIT BY FIERCE GALE Gulf Stream Forced to Put Into Port

Stanley for Repairs.

ASTORIA, Or., May 25 .- (Special.)-The British bark Gulfstream arrived in this evening 3% days from Antwerp, with 1850 cases of cement and general cargo for Portland.

Captain David Nicol, sailed from Antwerp in July, and all went well until October 8, when in latitude 56 south, longitude 73 In July, and all went well until October 8, when in latitude 56 south, longtitude 73 west, during a heavy gale, the wind suddenly shifted from north to west and a huge sea broke over the vessel. The poop was swept, the companion carried away, the skylights smashed and the cabin flooded. At the same time the mizzen topmast, the main top gallant mast and the spanker boom were carried away. The wreckage was cleared away, and after battling with the gale for seven days, the bark was able to reach Fort Stanley, Faulkland leland, on October 15. There repairs were made and the Guifstream sailed again on February 15.

Light winds and calms were encountered during practically the whole trip, and the vessel was 101 days in sighting the Columbia River lightship, which she saw first on Thursday evening.

That there should be a duty of 3 per cent on raw cotton merely for revenue was advocated by Eacon.

Hoot spoke for the New York lemon most spons for the New York lemon consumers, insisting that the rate of his cents per pound, as fixed by the finance committee, was too high. Fint, speaking for the lemon-growers, supported the advance and said the lemon industry of California would be wiped out if this duty were not levied. The schedule was still under discussion when the Senate adjourned.

WILL EXCLUDE FOREIGN HOPS Increase in Duty Welcome to Oregon Hopgrowers.

An announcement of the greatest importance to hopgrowers of the entire country was contained in a dispatch last night from Washington to the effect that the Senate has adopted an increased duty on hops, the new duty amounting to 20 cents per pound. The present duty is 12 cents.

This action by the Senate is largely due to the efforts of Herman Klaber, of Portland, and E. Chemens Horst, of San Francisco, who appeared before the Senate committee last November on behalf of the hopgrowers of the United States. While the request was made for a 24-cent raise in the tariff, Mr. Klaber regards the new amount as a substantial victory for American hopgrowers. Mr. Klaber said last night:

"While it is not certain that we will enjoy the increased tariff, as it must

While it is not certain that we will enjoy the increased tariff, as it must yet be adopted by the House it is a source of gratification to the hopgrowers to know that they are to have some further protection from the imported article. During the past year nearly 8,900,000 pounds of hops were shipped into this country, as against an average of about 3,000,000 pounds the three previous years.

'There is no doubt but that a 20-cent duty will keep out a large quantity of foreign hops and will directly affect the hopgrowing industry, especially on the Pacific Coast, where 75 per cent of the hops of the country are produced. As Oregon stands at the head of the hopgrowing states, the action of the Senate committee is of great moment to the growers here."

Aldrich Condemns Sending of Report on German Wages.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Attempts by the German government directly to in-fluence American tariff legislation were charged in the Senate today by Depew and Aldrich, when a message from the President was read transmitting a report of the German government as to wages in Germany, for which the Senate had called. The President said the report in question had been sent to the finar committee April 11.

Depew opened the discussion by in-timating that German manufacturers were

"Mr. Lincoln was well liked by the men even before he began to rise, and when people began to look up to him everybody was anxious to hear him talk, and when his body was brought to Springfield it seemed like one of the family was dead."

Speaking of Grant, Mrs. Bowman stated that her husband had hauled him home in his wagon upon several occasions. Grant lived 14 miles southwest of Springfield near the Bowman farm. He erected a fine residence upon his country home and married one of the farmer girls. He moved to St. Louis and was engaged for awhile in hauling coal. Mr. Bowman worked with Grant in coal banks.

A surprising incident connected with Mrs. Bowman's reminiscence of Grant occurred during the war. Mr. Bowman, her husband, served three years in the Union Army along the Mississippi, and the name of Grant was familiar to him because of his commanding position. One day along in the Summer of 1863, Mr. Bowman came face to face with General Grant and recognized him as the old neighbor with whom he had associated upon the farm in Sangamon County, Illinois. The surprise was complete. Mrs. Bowman says that Mr. Bowman had never associated the name of the commander-in-chief with the retired seldier he knew so well.

REPORT ON BRITISH TAXES

Special Agent Pepper Says Income Tax Great Thing.

WASHINGTON, May 29 .- That the inme tax of Great Britain, which has been in force almost continuously since 1842, produced more revenue for the fis-cal year than any form of taxation, and that the inheritance tax yields more than half the revenue produced by the income tax, are two of the interesting statements made by the report of Special Agent Pepper, of the Department of Commorce and Labor, which has been sent to Congress. For the year 1908, the income tax produced for the government $165,090,000, being layled on a population of 44,500,000, while the Inheritance tax yielded $94,230,000. Incomes under $1890 are exempt from taxation, and gradeated abatements are allowed on incomes between $1800 and $3400. The income tax is levied on the profits accruing from that the inheritance tax yields more than is levied on the profits accruing from land tenements, heritages and the occupation of them, on all profits from interest amurities, dividends and shares of annuities payable to any person or corporation out of any public revenue, on poration out of any public revenue, on the annual profits accraing to any per-son in the United Kingdom from any kind of property and from any profession, trade or employment, and upon every public office or employment of profit and upon all pensions paid out of the revenues of the government.
