

afternoon, in an original clever alligator scene. The Saytons are European novelty gymnasts and present an act which is among the very best of its kind. They carry a special jungle setting. In the first scene a young woman appears in hunting costume, carrying a gun. A big alligator creeps out on the stage and the young woman runs away. Then another big alligator comes out and also a small one about three feet long. They are said to be thrillingly real in their makeup. After clever contortion work, the huntress reappears on the stage and shoots at them. The alligators throw off their skins, and two men appear. The smaller alligator proves to be a dachshund and runs off the stage carrying his alligator skin.

New York engagement, and with Harry Herman heading the long list of players, it will surely be welcomed by more than usual interest. Harry Herman is a warm local favorite and numbers his friends by the thousands. Besides the star, the company includes Phemie Lockhart, Leo Kendall, Fred Bailey, Robert W. Albright, J. J. McCreary, George McKinick, Joseph P. Rooney, William H. Richards, Martin Mack, Marie Grandpre, the Lockhart sisters and the original kangaroo girl.

Bungalow Theater Notes.

Manager George L. Baker of the Bungalow announces that "The Girl of the Golden West," which opens Sunday matinee, will run one week only, as previous contracts and the closing of the season make it impossible to continue longer, no matter how great the demand for it. An extra matinee will be given Wednesday.

LYRIC SOPRANO COMES TO PORTLAND FROM GERMAN SUCCESSES.

ELSA THORNSVARD, PRIMA DONNA OF FERRIS HARTMAN COMPANY AT THE BAKER.

Elsa Thornsvard, the prima donna of the Ferris Hartman Company, is a young and gifted singer whose personality is as charming as her voice is beautiful. She is a native of San Francisco, but has spent the last ten years in Germany, where she has been perfecting her vocal studies under the best masters. She has appeared with great success, both in Paris and Berlin, her last appearance in opera in Europe having been at the Staats Theater in Elberfeld, where she appeared in the Wagner opera, "From this it must not be inferred that her voice is of the heavy, robust kind. It is, on the contrary, a lyric soprano, of the greatest purity and sweetness. Her most striking performances have all been in the lighter Italian operas, though she has sung the leading soprano roles in "The Love Tale of Hoffman" with great success. She is considered a great addition to the Hartman Company, and her performances here will be eagerly welcomed. She will be heard here first in "The Toy Maker."

a woman who play on French horns, freak harps and violin. The woman wears some handsome gowns, and the novel ending of the act is always a hit. Abrahams and Johns will be remembered by Pantages patrons for their clever comedy sketch which was given earlier in the season. They return with the same act, but with new comedy through it. The Lincoln Four present a novelty singing and dancing act. The men have splendid voices and their comedy is a scream. The quartet is expected to prove one of the strongest numbers of the bill. Shale and Cole are clever singers and dancers who have an original act. Leo White, the silver-voiced tenor, will sing a new picture ballad and the Pantagescope will present the very latest animated pictures. Today will be your last chance to see the present bill of advanced vaudeville acts, which is headed by La Loie, the world's greatest pantomime dancer.

ROSE FESTIVAL ATTRACTION

Famous Musical Comedy, "The Burgomaster," at the Heilig.

"The Burgomaster," the most tuneful of all the many musical shows, is the Rose Festival offering at the Heilig Theater, June 5, 7, 8 and 9 with a special matinee Tuesday. Coming as it does from a most phenomenal Chicago and uses. The first act is an hour long, and no one can be seated while the curtain is up, so be on time by all means. Children under 5 cannot be admitted except on Saturday matinee. The present season of Baker stock company will positively close Saturday night, June 12, Rose Festival week, with Ouida's "Under Two Flags."

Comic Opera at Lyric Next Week.

This is the farewell week of the Lyric Stock Company, Manager Flood having given the members their notices some time ago, and beginning with next Sunday's matinee Edward Harrington will present for an indefinite engagement the Imperial Musical Comedy Company in a repertoire of high-class musical comedies, burlesque and comic operas. The company has beautiful dancing girls, beautiful costumes, good comedians and will give a clean, moral and up-to-date show for men, women and children. The company will give two performances nightly, at 8 and 9:15 o'clock, with matinees Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

"The Merry Widow" is coming. All the reviewers who have written about that great international success, "The Merry Widow," the delightful Viennese operetta soon to be heard here, burst into eloquent panegyrics based principally on the sentiment that all the world loves a lover. By this same token the Lehar Waltz, which is the chief feature of the second act and had a swinging theme running through the entire performance, reaches to the souls of men and women of all races, stirs them with the magic which is in it; fairly captivating the senses of everyone. Henry W. Savage will send "The Merry Widow" to the Heilig Theater for one week beginning June 20.

"Under Two Flags" Next.

Following "The Girl of the Golden West," Baker Stock Company will present the well-known and always popular play, "Under Two Flags," with Letta Jewel in the role of the wild little army follower, Cigarette, and Mr. Ayres playing Louis Victor. The dramatization to be used by the company is by Robert Morris, first stage director for Manager Baker, and is known as one of the very best. Special attention will be given to the scenic effects, which include the exciting sand storm, through which Cigarette rides in order to secure the pardon for her soldier who is to be shot at sunrise.

TIMELY BILL AT THE STAR

Feature Film Will Tell Story of the Civil War.

As an illustration of how completely motion picture entertainment is up to date, reference need only be made to the programme which opens at the matinee today at the Star Theater, the supreme feature of the programme being the pictorial presentation of a military drama entitled "Brothers in Arms," which tells the story of two brothers who, though they were friends, wooed the same girl, with the result, naturally, of the rejection of one. Then the great civil strife came, and both went to battle to fight for their country's cause. One rises and the other becomes one of nature's derelicts. After various trials and tribulations one of these men becomes a common tramp and the other an honored judge on the bench, and that brother who has been successful is able when his less fortunate brother appears before him to show that blood is thicker than water, and to render such a sentence as redeems the unfortunate one and makes a successful citizen again of him.

"A Visit to the London Zoo," which is said to be the largest menagerie in the world, is another picture which has peculiar educational value. "A Wife's Devotion" is another offering describing a story of domestic loyalty. The other good things are "A Pig in a Poke," comedy; "Bottled Up," mystic tricks, and other various offerings of excellence.

A novelty will be offered for the fourth week of Signor Defre's engagement, in which this distinguished artist will work with a background of pictures appropriate to the selection. Mr. Dow Brink will sing the latest song hit. The entries in the prize baby picture contest will be closed during the week, and the date for announcing the winner will be soon set. During the first week something over 3000 votes were cast, with several pictures running neck and neck.
