

CITY EXTENDS EAST

Sandy Road District Building Up Very Rapidly.

BIG CONTRACT IS AWARDED

Forty Thousand Yards of Earth Will Be Removed in Grading Streets of Residence Tract Near Rose City Park.

The Jacobs-Stine Company has awarded the contract for grading the streets of Argyle Park and Wellesley Heights, at the end of the Rose City carline, to Joplin & Meeks. This single contract calls for the removal of 25,000 cubic yards in Wellesley Park and 15,000 in Argyle Park. The contracting firm will use an elevated crane drawn by a 10-horsepower power traction engine, which will handle between 80 and 100 cubic yards daily. The contract is one of the most extensive of the kind let on the East Side for some time. It is expected that the Rose City carline will be extended through these tracts this year, bringing them closer to the center of business.

The intention is to take over the Sandy road from East Twenty-eighth street from the county and make it a street. Measures to bring this about have been started and have progressed far enough to be advertised. That the Sandy road should be a wide street is considered of importance to the development and progress of the whole of the Rose City district, as the Sandy road is the main thoroughfare into the city from that section. It is also desired to start proceedings for the widening of the street which will mean another well paved thoroughfare into Portland. Besides the Country Club there is a great district depending on this district, and extensive street grading contracts have been let in many of the newer additions.

A movement will be started at once to get some disposition of the East Twenty-eighth street bridge across Sullivan's Gulch. Residents of the north side of Sullivan's Gulch want the bridge thrown open to the public as soon as it can be done to give them access to the Rose City carline. There is a big growth of homes north of the gulch and these all want the bridge. The Holiday Addition Push Club has taken the matter up with the authorities through a committee. The Irvington Improvement Association will also hold a meeting this month and take action on the matter. An open bridge at East Twenty-eighth street is considered essential to that entire section.

The school district has secured a block of ground in the Rose City district, and will erect a modern building there, probably this year. Need of a schoolhouse for this great section is pressing.

The Alameda Park improvements are being crowded forward and all the grading will be finished by July 1. The laying of water mains and cement walks and curbs is well under way, which will be followed by the laying of gas mains and hard-surface pavements.

The Monarch Lumber Company, which is erecting a sawmill on the Lower Peninsula, will have one of the largest mills on the Coast. The smaller sawmill has been completed and lumber is now being sawed out for the large mill. Concrete work for the dry kilns is completed and rapid progress will be made on the mill. When completed this mill will, it is said, furnish employment to 500 men.

FINE CHURCH NEARLY READY

Building for Methodists South Will Cost $75,000.

Work is now in progress on the interior of the Methodist Church, South, McMonnagh street and Union avenue. The auditorium is now being plastered, metal laths being used on the most of the ceiling of the main sanctuary. The big edifice will be well along toward completion. The heating plant has been installed and the wiring for electric lighting has been done. For two years work has gone forward on this building. Furniture has been ordered, and most of it is ready for the building when completed. It will be one of the best-built stone churches on the East Side. Rev. E. H. Moore is the pastor. He desires to have the church dedicated while the exposition is in progress at Seattle, when many prominent men of the Methodist Church, South, will be present and assist. The total cost, with the furniture, will be about $75,000.

RESIDENTS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY FOR 33 YEARS CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN STALDER.

HILLSBORO, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. John Stalder, for 33 years residents of Washington County, celebrated their golden wedding at the German Baptist Church, Bethany, nine miles northwest of this city, last Sunday. Over 200 guests were present. All their children, seven daughters and three sons, were in attendance, and of their 55 grandchildren, 50 were present. Three great-grandchildren were also there. The wedding march was played by Miss Nettie Johnson, a granddaughter, and a programme was given by the members of the family, chief of which was a paper by Mrs. Stalder, relating the 50 years of her wedded life. The party enjoyed luncheon in the church dining-room. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stalder were born in Switzerland, and they came to America and settled at Bethany 33 years ago. Mr. Stalder is 80 years old, and his bride of 50 years ago is 73. Both enjoy good health.

cept the place for so small a figure. To the end that a better rate of pay may be established, the people having voted down the propositions carrying larger wages, it is said that a movement is soon to be started to induce the Realty Board, Chamber of Commerce and perhaps other organizations to combine and make up enough to insure the next head of engineering department at least double the amount paid by the city.

There is much speculation as to who will be named by Mayor-elect Simon for the responsible positions at his disposal. He will have many appointments to make, including a Health Officer, Chief of Police, City Engineer, a Board of Health, composed of three members; numerous deputies and inspectors and Executive Board of ten members. He also has the appointment of all the City Council members.

Speculation is rife as to who will be the next president of the Council. At the first session of the body after July 1, a successor to Councilman Rushlight as president will be elected. Mr. Rushlight is serving a term of one year in that capacity. Councilman Baker is more generally spoken of for the position than any other member.

Rock Quarry May Be Opened.

FORT STEVENS, Or., June 12.—(Special.)

Opening of a rock quarry almost directly across the river from Fort Stevens is being seriously considered by Government officials. The Columbia Contract Company is unable to furnish enough stone to meet the present heavy demands. The location of the projected quarry is between Fort Columbia and McGowan and the supply and quality of the rock is such as to meet the heaviest and most exacting demands.

ALBANY WOMEN WORK

MEMBERS OF MISSIONARY SOCIETY MUST EARN DOLLARS.

Prominent Society Matrons Wash Windows, Others Do Washing. Others Take Boarders.

ALBANY, Or., June 11.—(Special.)—Each member of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church of this city must earn a dollar by her own personal labor some time this month to contribute to the society. Some of the richest and most prominent women in Albany are doing unglorified work, therefore, to make the unique contribution.

The rule at the society for this month's contribution is that the money cannot be taken from the ordinary income of the members, or secured from their husbands or any member of their family unless it is saved by doing work for outsiders, and the plan is throwing some interesting sociological sidelights on how women who do not need to work for a living earn money when put face to face with an unprecedented condition.

The society will hold an "experience meeting" early next month, and the members will then be required to tell how they earned their contributions. How some of the women are earning the dollars has already leaked out. Mrs. William Bain, wife of the president of the Albany State Bank, is baking bread and selling it to her neighbors at 2 cents a loaf. Mrs. Alfred C. Schmitt, wife of the cashier of the First National Bank of Albany, is taking subscriptions for a magazine and will use her commissions to provide her dollar. Mrs. H. N. Cockerline, wife of a general agent of the Northwestern Life Insurance Company, will wash windows for a neighbor to earn her dollar, and Mrs. H. M. Crooks, wife of the president of Albany College, will do her own washing one week and save her contribution that way.

Mrs. J. N. Duncan, wife of the County Judge of Linn County, will act as secretary of a local lodge for a month to secure her contribution. Her husband is secretary of the lodge but she will do all the work for a month to earn the money under the rule of the society. Mrs. J. T. Watson, whose husband is one of the owners of Watson Bros. Iron Works, will pick and sell some fruit for a dollar.

Mrs. Frank J. Miller, whose husband is secretary of the Albany Iron Works and also State Senator from Linn and Lane Counties, will rent a room the coming session of the State Teachers' Association and give the proceeds to the society. Mrs. George Taylor, whose husband is a member of the firm of Ohling & Taylor, prominent local merchants, will also rent a room during the teachers' convention, and Mrs. Dr. F. H. Genselbrach, wife of the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will serve meals to some teacher during the convention.

EAST ST. JOHNS

SOON TO BE THE COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL CENTER OF THE PENINSULA

The following is an abstract from a letter, dated June 5, 1909, from T. L. Davis, cashier First National Bank, Omaha:

"The packing plants of Armour, Cudahy, Swift and the National Packing Co. are located in South Omaha, about five miles from the center of Omaha. They have practically built up the city of South Omaha, which now has between 40,000 and 50,000 inhabitants. They have brought a big industry here and have created one of the largest cash markets in the country."

This is the ONE addition that is assured of immediate progress. An $18,000 school has been started, several new stores are open, and more will be started soon; many houses are completed, and a score more will be erected very soon; a planing mill is in operation, and many factories will be established within a year. EAST ST. JOHNS is only two blocks from the North Bank depot, the only one on the peninsula, and is over 2000 feet nearer the SWIFT PLANT and MONARCH LUMBER MILL than the Swift townsite. Many inquiries are being made for houses, and those who build will find no difficulty in either renting or selling.
