Admits Morgan's Collection.

WASHINGTON. June 12.—Having completed the consideration of items of the tariff bill that had been passed over under objection by Senators during its second reading, the Senate by its adjournment today until Monday, marked an important period in the progress of the measure. When the bill is again taken up, it will be upon its third reading for the final disposition of items upon which the most pronounced objections have been made.

In completing the second reading of the bill, a number of items in the free list were disposed of. Works of art over 20 years old, and collections Illustrating the progress of art over 100 years old, were retained in the free list by a vote of 53 to 15.

This amendment will permit the great art collection made by J. Pierpont Morgan at an expenditure of many millions of dollars and now stored in London, to be brought hore.

The starch industry received protection by a reversal of the recommendations made by the committee and taploca and sage will be subject to a duty of one cent a pound, when not imported for food.

Crude potash, yams, and radium were placed upon the free list.

the order of withdrawal was vacated and the land restored to entry.

Mr. Ballinger then proceeded to take up this power question in accordance with the law, and ordered the Geological Survey to make examinations and determine just where water-power sites are located. In instances where there are no filings, but where it may seem advisable, he may later order temperary withdrawals and put up to Congress the question of whether or not it is the purpose to lease such sites.

If Congress decides in favor of the leasing system and enacts a law to that effect, it will be expected to order the permanent withdrawal of all public land on which is located valuable water-power when I graduates were presented diplomas. The symnasium of the school was decorated for the occasion with foliage and flags, giving a martial appearance to the room. Friends and relatives were present to see the class of 1999 receive the diplomas, which indicate the end of the cadetship for the young men of the institution.

The address to the graduates was made by Dr. Luther R. Dyott, who complimented the cadets on the successful termination of the course and paid a high tribute to Dr. Hill as a trainer of young men with military qualities for the battle of life rather than for the battle of bloodshed.

After the completion of the address a competitive drill was held among the members of the senior and junior companies, who were jut through a prolouged test in the manual of arms. The gold medal offered for the winner in the senior company was awarded to Marmaduke Estridge, of St. Louis, and the silver medal to Matthew Troy, of Portland. Albert Reit of Doctard.

PRESIDENT GOOD GOLFER

With Lard Defeats Sherman and Travis, Who Praises Him.

WASHINGTON. June 12.—President Taft played a notable golf game today, when, playing as a partner in a foursome with C. A. Lard, of the Chevy Chase Club of this city, he helped defeat Vice-President Sherman and Walter J. Travis, international champion, by a score of six up and five to play.

The President played an excellent game. His driving was particularly good. Mr. Travis declared today that the President had few faults as a golfer, and that with more practice, he will make a most excellent player.

POWER FIGHT IMMINENT

Ballinger Puts Water Right Problem Up to Congress.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washnext Winter over legislation which will be proposed to authorize some system of be proposed to authorize some system of Government control of water-power sites on public lands. The defunct Conservation Commission, which came into existence late in the Roosevelt Administration, recommended that all such power sites be withdrawn from entry and be held permanently by the Government, to be leased for a given period to private interests desiring to develop power. In accordance with the recommendation of that commission. Secretary Garfield wither forwer from entry several million access of public land lying along the streams of the Western States, on the assumption that regulations would be issued authorizing him or some other Government of ficial to lease these sites at rates to be arbitrarily fixed.
