32d DEGREE IS CONFERRED

Class Elects W. L. Morgan President, Grand Commander Richardson Is Banqueted—He Addresses Initiates at Dinner Given.

With grander ceremonies than usual, due to the presence of Grand Commander James D. Richardson of Washington, D. C., as presiding officer, the 29th semi-annual reunion of Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite Masons, Southern Jurisdiction, has passed into history and will be long remembered by both initiates and officers. Last night, at 8 o'clock, the Grand Commander's class had the thirty-second degree conferred upon it. It was the finishing touch of Scottish Rite Masonry. From 9:00 A. M. yesterday the class had a busy time of it, but found more opportunity to know one another socially. The first duty was to pose for the class picture. This appears elsewhere in this issue of The Oregonian. The class then elected officers as follows: President, W. L. Morgan; vice-president, W. P. Richardson; secretary, H. Wise; of Astoria; treasurer, F. W. Skiff; orator, Dr. J. W. Brougher. Grand Commander Richardson was elected a member of the historic class. He promptly accepted an invitation to give the address at the White Temple, Sunday night, June 20.

From 2 to 4 o'clock a reception was tendered Grand Commander Richardson in the cathedral upstairs, and was largely attended. At 5:30 P. M. the new officers and out-of-town members of the class were entertained at dinner at the Commercial Club, while a dinner was given at the Portland Hotel in honor of Grand Commander Richardson. Then the class assembled at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, where the 32d degree was conferred. The Grand Commander listened to an impressive address by the Grand Commander. Pleasant features of the occasion were the sociable, informal suppers daintily served in the banquet-rooms downstairs in the Cathedral building, after the labors of the night sessions were concluded.

Public Bids Farewell to Baker Company

With Close of Season All but Two Make Final Bow to Local Show-goers.

VALE, Baker Stock Company! Also a fond goodbye to most of its members who have supplied Portland with entertainment for nearly two years past. At last night's performance at the Banglow, when the curtain rang down on the last act of "The Girl of the Golden West," a demonstration of the like of which is seldom seen upon a local stage followed and lasted until every individual member of the company had received a tumultuous ovation. It indicated that never in the history of local stock has there been such a popular organization gathered under the Baker banner. Of all the favorites who have worked so faithfully during the season which closed last night but two will be on hand at the opening of the season which begins September 5. These will be the brilliant young leading woman, Letitia Jewel, and Donald Bowles, stage director and leading juvenile. Sidney Ayers, the capable leading man, and a universal favorite, will go to the Liberty Theater, Oakland, Cal., next season, where he will be especially featured at the head of that fine stock company.

Louise Kent, second woman, goes into vaudeville for an engagement of 22 weeks on the Pantages circuit, with her own sketch, "Sold." Associated with her talent, the sales of "Donna Bonanno" in private life Mrs. Walter Reed, of this city.

The Gleasons, William, Miss Crolius, James and Lucile, a family that has legions of friends all over the Coast, will go to California for a rest during the summer and will probably appear in San Francisco next fall. "Jimnie" has received flattering offers for New York productions and may accept one of them.

Maribel Seymour will return to her home on the Atlantic seaboard and may go into vaudeville next year. Howard Russell, William Ellis and others who are much in the public eye are somewhat undecided as to the future, but will remain in Portland for the present, considering it the ideal summer resort.

The season just closed has been one of the most prosperous Manager Baker and his associates have ever had.

Until the opening of next season the Banglow will be used to house the Klaw & Erlanger attractions, which formerly played at the Helbig.

FAMILY DINES; ROOF BURNS

Spark From Chimney Causes Blaze of Which Occupants Are Unaware.

Sparks from a chimney caused a fire on the roof of the dwelling of J. S. Shields, at 44 College street, shortly after 6 o'clock last night. The building was damaged to the extent of $300 before the arrival of the firemen. Mr. Shields, his wife and their infant son were at the dinner table when a passerby who discovered the flames bursting from the roof ran to the door and notified them. An alarm was turned in and neighbors assisted in removing the household effects. The blaze was subdued quickly by the firemen.

NOTORIOUS "DIP" IS FREED

Though Pickpocket Is Identified as Criminal, He Is Released.

Identified by photographs, records and his own virtual admission as the notorious pickpocket and crook known as "The Dipster," H. W. Howard, alias George Wilson and George Mortensen, was released from the city prison last night at 11:30 o'clock. "The Dipster" was released by order of Judge Van Zante in the Municipal Court yesterday morning after he had been tried on a vagrancy charge. He was turned over to Captain Bary, with orders for his release last night at the hour named.

Captain Bary, while loth to set Howard free, declared he will ever think in his power to see that Howard leaves the city. Howard is said to be wanted in Boston, Mass., for a crime committed six years ago. Three pictures of him in the rogues' gallery at the Police Detective Bureau, with attached notations, give a history of his career.
