MRS. JOHN EDWARDS, OF HAY CREEK, OREGON
A POPULAR ENGLISH MATRON WHO IS THE GUEST OF MRS. DAVID HONEYMAN.

WITH the 400 beginning its exodus to summer homes and the many of graduates and others lying to the coast and mountain resorts for the vacation period, Portland last week registered seven days of social inactivity, which, however, were interspersed with numerous weddings.

Mrs. Holt C. Wilson was a luncheon hostess on Friday, entertaining for Mrs. L. B. Frisell, of New York; Mrs. John Edwards, of Hay Creek, and Miss Peale, of New York, who is the guest of Mrs. Robert Lewis, in whose class she was at Wellesley. Additional guests were Mrs. W. S. Ladd, wife of Colonel Mallory; Mrs. W. S. Ladd, Mrs. C. H. Lewis, Mrs. Howard Mather, Mrs. Herbert Nichols, Miss Elizabeth Bryan, Mrs. T. B. Wilcox, Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Mrs. Sherman Hall, of Kansas City; Mrs. S. B. Luthcum, Miss Susan Clarke, Mrs. David Honeyman, Miss Emilie Frances Bauer, Mrs. David C. Lewis, Mrs. Norman Lang, of Oregon City, and Mrs. L. Allen Lewis. Luncheon was arranged at small tables and coffee was served in the garden.

Mrs. R. B. Johnston, widow of the late Professor Johnston, has returned from Europe and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cotton.

Fred Greenwood, a prominent bachelor and clubman of San Francisco, is again visiting in Portland and is with John D. Carson, William Moore and Frederick Underaker at their bungalow on Gilman street. Mr. Greenwood brought with him on this visit his small yacht, on which he will do considerable entertaining this summer. It is essentially furnished and boasts of a small baby grand piano. On Friday evening Mr. Greenwood gave a stag party on the yacht and a dinner at the Rock Island Club. His guests were Norman Lang, of Oregon City; John D. Carson, Carl Wernicke, Henry Teal, Edgar Pettit, of San Francisco; Chester G. Murphy, George Trowbridge, Ashley Vantine, Karl Holzer and Ernest J. Folger, of San Francisco.

Mr. Fairbanks, of New York, the fiancé of Miss Frances Lewis, arrived on Saturday, June 12, and has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Lewis, whom he visited last winter. Commencing on Monday, each day of the week has been devoted to entertaining for Miss Lewis and Mr. Fairbanks. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Lewis being dinner hosts that evening at the Golf Club in their honor. Mrs. David T. Honeyman and Mrs. David C. Lewis gave a luncheon for Miss Lewis on Tuesday at the Portland grill, to which they asked Mrs. Peter Kerr, Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Miss Louise Flanders, Mrs. Herbert Nichols and Mrs. Hunt Lewis. The table decoration was a centerpiece of lavender sweet peas.

Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Nichols gave a buffet supper party the same evening for Miss Lewis and her fiancé, when the guests included Mr. Arthur Minott, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Alsworth, Mrs. Carrie Lewis, Miss Louise Flanders, Mrs. Frederick Sykes, Miss Caroline Burns, Miss Elizabeth Sevan, of Virginia; Dr. H. C. Jeffers,

Tom Robertson, Rodney Gilman, Andrew Kerr, Roderick Macleay and Wirt Minor. On Wednesday evening Mrs. W. S. Ladd gave a dinner in their honor which included Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Frisell, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Thomas Scott Brooke and C. H. Davis, Jr. On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster gave a dinner for Miss Lewis and Mr. Fairbanks, their guests including Miss Alta Smith, Mrs. Fender, of Scotland; Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Nichols, Elliott Corbett, W. C. Albert and Walter Beebe. Miss Carrie and Miss Louise Flanders entertained for the bride-elect with a supper party of 30 covers on Friday evening. Mrs. John B. Bingham gave a tea on Thursday for Miss Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. L. Allen Lewis gave a dinner last evening, which included, besides the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Sherman Hall, of Kansas City; Miss Hazel Dolph, Miss Caroline Burns, W. D. Wheelwright, Roderick Macleay, Carl Spohn, and Captain Lang, of Vancouver Barracks. Table decorations were bride roses.

W. L. Largey, a capitalist of Butte, Mont., with Mrs. Largey, motored from Los Angeles in their big touring car and arrived in Portland Tuesday. On Wednesday Chester Murphy gave a dinner in their honor at the Rock Island Club. On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Largey left for the A-Y-P Exposition, going on a wager that they could motor to Seattle in less than 16 hours.

The first of a series of bridge parties was given on Friday afternoon by Mrs. Fred Alva Jacobs at their residence on Kings Heights, which they recently purchased from Dr. E. DeWitt Connell. Mrs. Jacobs' guests were Mrs. C. Adams, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Mrs. Andrew Poulhous, Miss Grace Warren, Miss Gile, Mrs. James Honeyman, Mrs. J. N. Weil, Mrs. L. H. Tarpley, Miss Gladys Peal, Mrs. Walter Cook, Mrs. Ralph Hoyt, Mrs. Edward Wight, Miss Lulu Hall, Mrs. J. C. Robinson, Mrs. Frank B. Riley, Mrs. Frederick Malpas, Mrs. Everett Ames, Mrs. Alma D. Katz, Miss Frances Warren, Mrs. George Pelgram. Coming in for tea were Mrs. A. A. Morrison, Mrs. A. T. Sargent, of Boston; Mrs. W. H. Skene, Mrs. Wallace McCumant, Miss Dorothy Morrison and Miss Betty Biddle. The prizes given at each of the five tables were artistic old English prints.

Mrs. Olcott, of New York, a cousin of Mr. Fairbanks, and Miss Fairbanks, of New York, have arrived from the East and are the house guests of Mr. C. H. Lewis. On Monday Mrs. L. Allen Lewis will give a luncheon for them.

Mr. Charles J. Schnabel and daughter, Kathryn, are in Seattle visiting the A-Y-P Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Sargent, of Boston, have come out to spend the summer in Portland, and are at the Portland Hotel. Mrs. Sargent was formerly Miss Elele Kimball, of Los Angeles, a bride of last year who is popular and noted for her smart sewing.

Mrs. W. H. Haslet, of Pittsburg, is visiting her sisters, Mrs. J. M. Leiter and Miss E. Altos Quigg, at 705 Gilman street.

T. Moylan, of Willamette Heights. Captain Kilgore was formerly a senior cadet in the revenue cutter service, but is now retired.

Following is a clipping from a Vienna paper, Sport and Salon, a weekly devoted to sport, society and court life: "Miss Flora Fieleschner, a young artist from Portland, Or., U. S. A., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus A. Fieleschner, who has been studying with Herr Weider, has just left for Paris. The young lady drew much attention at the various salons, particularly at the dancing on Friday at the Hotel Majestic. She is a talented musician, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Nunn, is Mr. Cady, of Boston.

An affair which promises to be unusually jolly is a picnic supper dance which Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Talbot are to give on Wednesday evening at Metcalf Park. About 150 cards have been sent, and a special train chartered to leave at 6:15 P. M. sharp, from the Oregon Electric Railway at Station, at Jefferson and Front streets. Upon the arrival at the park, supper will be served and is to be followed by dancing on a large dance platform. Hammocks and rustic seats will carry out the true bucolic idea provided the weather permits.

John Everding, of San Francisco, who is the guest of his brother, Henry Everding, of this city, was the guest of honor at a family reunion held Friday night at the Everding home on Thirteenth street. John Everding is 54 years of age but is, however, hale and hearty and personally looks after his business interests in San Francisco and Berkeley. He was a member of the California party to the Portland Mr. Everding spent the entire time with his relatives. Three generations were represented at the dinner table and many interesting reminiscences were related by the venerable visitor, dealing with family history in California during the past 50 years. Those who were present at the reunion were John Everding, his brothers, Henry and Richard Everding, and their wives; his sister, Mrs. Sophia Clarke; his nieces, Mrs. Theresa Baxter and Miss Clara Clarke; his nephew, H. B. Everding; and Mrs. Everding; his grandnieces, Miss Clara Clarke Baxter and Miss Carolyn Everding, and his grandnephew, Master Clarke Baxter.

The infant son of Lieutenant and Mrs. Arthur J. Davis, of Vancouver Barracks, was christened on Wednesday by Dr. A. Morrison and named De Alby Ingalls Davis. Mrs. Davis is a daughter of the late and distinguished Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, a man of pronounced intellectuality and the author of "Opportunity." The same evening Lieutenant and Mrs. Davis gave a small dinner at the post which included Dr. and Mrs. Morrison, Miss Dorothy Morrison, Major Stalk and Major Mohle.

A wedding at which were present a number of the oldest Portland families was that of Miss Hannah Adair and Mr. Samuel D. Adair, of New York, which was celebrated yesterday at 2 P. M. at St. Stephen's Pro-Cathedral by Bishop Scadding. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Samuel D. Adair, and Miss Mary Adair, who returned recently from Manila, where she has visited with her brother, Lieutenant Adair, acted as bridesmaid. Mr. Rogers was attended by Mr. Morris Adair. The bride wore a handsome gown of directoire satin and carried brides' buds, while a shiny veil fell to the hem of the robe. Miss Mary Adair was groomed in pink voile cut on empire lines. A picture hat massed with pink sweet peas and a bouquet of sweet peas completed the costume. A reception, which included the relatives and a few young friends of the bride, followed at Mr. and Mrs. Adair's home in Irvington, the reception taking the form of a garden party. Mrs. Henry Cruger Walton, of Philadelphia, an aunt of Mr. Rogers, came west for the wedding, and while here is a guest of Mrs. B. Wistar Morris, the widow of the late Bishop Morris. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers will spend a week in Portland before leaving for New York on Friday. Mr. Thomas Scott Brooke gave a luncheon at the Portland Hotel in honor of Miss Adair and Mr. Rogers.

Mrs. David T. Honeyman entertained with a bridge party Wednesday afternoon, when her guests were asked to meet Mrs. Edwards, of Hay Creek. Prizes were won by Mrs. George Marshall and Miss Smyser.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schreiber, the latter the handsome Miss Floretta Elmore, have returned from their wedding trip through California and spent some days of last week with Mrs. and Mr. Samuel Elmore, of Astoria, paying a farewell visit and superintending the packing of their wedding presents. On Friday they left for their future home in Oshkosh, Wis., visiting en route for a day with Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Talbot.

Mrs. Warren E. McCord, and her two daughters, Mrs. J. Sherman O'Gorman and Mrs. Jesse R. Sharp, have cards out for a reception to be given June 25 at Mrs. McCord's home on Kings Heights.

With Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Draper, of Charlotte, N. C., as the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Voorhies gave a dinner-dance at the Golf Club last night. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Luthcum, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Corbett, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Nunn, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Captain and Mrs. William Biddle, Miss Elizabeth Bryan, of Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. John Edwards, Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Mrs. Earl Wilbur, of Berkeley; Dr. and Mrs. S. F. Friesell, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Byron E. Nicholas, Andrew Kerr, Wirt Minor and Dr. H. C. Jeffers, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brewster, John Lewis and Douglas Grant, of San Francisco.

Miss Josephine Large, of Chicago, who with Miss Villa Whitney White, of Boston, has visited in Portland for some Summers, arrived last week to be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Nunn. Miss White, who arrived some time ago to be the guest of Miss Maud Alsworth, is one of the prominent singers of Boston and has given programmes here on a number of occasions. Miss Large is a brilliant pianist, a woman of strong and pronounced intellectuality, whose playing is in perfect accord, her technique being subservient to her art. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Nunn invited about 100 guests to a musicale at which Miss Large gave a charming and difficult programme which evoked much praise. Another distinguished musician, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Nunn, is Mr. Cady, of Boston.

Mrs. Flavel, of Astoria, and her daughters, Miss Nellie and Katie Flavel, are expected soon from New York, where they have spent the winter at the Hotel Majestic. Flavel is expected to spend some days in Boston and Chicago.

Mrs. Robert M. Howland and Miss Louise Howland, of San Francisco, who visited in Portland two years ago, going from here to Europe, have just returned from their interesting trip abroad, and are visiting Mrs. Howland's daughter, Mrs. Gunn, at the latter's residence, on Twenty-fourth street. Miss Howland made many friends while here. She is an attractive girl and talented musician.

Miss Ilse Koehler, who was one of the bridesmaids at the Dolph-Houghton wedding, gave a luncheon on Friday in compliment to the bride, Mrs. Marion Dolph. Miss Koehler's guests were Miss Grace Warren, Miss Ilse Koehler, Miss Hazel Dolph, Miss Nan Robertson, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Miss Milla Wessinger, Miss Ernestine Felling and Miss Olive Felling.

Miss Lulu Hall has returned from a Hood River visit, where she has been recuperating. At the same country home belonging to Mrs. Alma Howe were sev-
