KELLY CLAN TO CELEBRATE.-The annual reunion of the Kelly Clan of the Northwest will be held next Saturday, June 26, at the home of P. J. Kelly, East Twenty-eighth and Holgate streets. Mrs. A. B. Manley, Mrs. Mary Shaver and Mrs. O. P. S. Plummer comprise the committee of arrangements. The members of the clan will be kept busy this week preparing for the feast that will be apread under the trees. There are now about 200 members of the Kelly Clan now about 200 members of the Kelly Clan scattered in Oregon, Washington and California, and the attendance ranges from 100 to 150 of the members. These are descendants of Clinton, Albert, Gilmore and Thomas Kelly, well-known Oregon pioneers, who came in 1848-50. Rev. Clinton Kelly was the first to cross the plains from Kentycky to Oregon in 1848. plains from Kentucky to Oregon in 1848. He homesteaded a section of Government land which now comprises Waverly-Richmond, Kenilworth, Waverleigh and Williams tracts through which the Powell Williams tracts through which the Powell Valley road runs. He was well known in Portland for his sturdy character. He died in 1875. The three other ploneers came a little later. The programme consists of the feast prepared by the matrons and maidens of the clan. At the consulusion of the banquet letters from always. clusion of the banquet letters from absent ones are read and reminescences given. Guests also are invited to make remarks. The secretary reads the record of marriages, births and deaths and the after-noon is given over to a social reunion, it being the one time of the year when the members can nearly all get together. The reunion closes by singing "My Old Kentucky Home." Mrs. Van B. Delssh-mutt is the high priestess of the clan.

ALL WORK SUSPENDED.—Nothing has been done on the improvement of Grand avenue south from Belmont street for nearly two weeks, although the street is torn up between Belmont and East Clay streets. The street has been graded and double tracks laid, and a little crushed torn up between Belmont and East Clay streets. The street has been graded and double tracks laid, and a little crushed rock put down. Hassam payement is to be laid on this street, but the Hassam Paying Company is not able to get crushed rock. It is openly charged that the crushed rock company is refusing to crushed rock. It is openly charged that the crushed rock company is refusing to sell the Hassam Paving Company crushed rock to complete this improvement. Whatever the cause of the delay, there is much complaint. Grand avenue is the principal street in Central East Portland, and the unfiniabled condition of the street works a hardship on the public. The business men intend to insist that the improvement be completed at once. They improvement be completed at once. They do not know who really is to blame for

"BLOCKHOUSE" SMITH A VISITOR.—One of the best-known characters of Chehalls of the best-known characters of Chehalis County, Washington, "Blockhouse" Smith, of Montesano, a ploneer of 1854, attended the ploneer reunion last week in this city, and remained a few days later. Mr. Smith came to Washington territory from Massachusetts. In the Fall of 1855, at the opening of the Yakima Indian War, he built a large blockhouse, and invited his neighbors to occupy it as a place of refuge, without cost to them. This generous and neighborly act gave rise to the term "Blockhouse," as his given name, by which he is much better known than by his true given name which is James. In the early days of Chehalis County there were three Smiths, James being the given name of each. In order to disthere were three Smiths, James being the given name of each. In order to distinguish one from the other nicknames were applied. One has been alluded to already. The other two were "Lying" Smith and "Gassy" Smith, and as might be expected, they died long ago; but "Blockhouse" Smith is still a sturdy man notwithstanding that he is now entering his 57th year, and is good for a tering his 87th year, and is good for a dozen years yet. Rose TEA.-A "rose tea" was given last Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Robert A. Reid at her home, 876 East Everett street, in honor of Mrs. Frances A. Reid, who came from Eugene to see the Rose Festival. The principal feature of the occasion was a rose contest, Mrs. M. M. Brannan winning the first prize, a harfit-some bouquet of Frau Karl Druschki roses, and Mrs. Louisa Walker the second, an elaborate bouquet of Caroline Testouts. Refreshments followed, those serving being Misses Mildred and Lucib ing being Misses Mildred and Larah Himes, Anna Reid and Margaret Purvine. In addition to those already mentioned the following were present: Mesdames W. P. Jones, George H. Himes, G. W. Ailen, T. J. Povey, W. W. Plimpton, Philip Blampied, Irving W. Pratt. Douglas W. Taylor, Helen P. Rice, W. A. Kirts; and Misses Emma Riggs, Nannis E. Taylor, Anna M. Braunan and Allan H. Reid. Fuelic Library Notes.—The library is delighted to announce that courses of free lectures in literature and history, and possibly in other subjects, will be given in the dibrary some time during the coming Fail or early Winter by profes-sors of the University of Oregon. University extension courses in many of the cities of our country have not only been very popular, but have given opportuni-ties for study and improvement which have been eagerly seized. Announis made thus early in order that those wishing to attend these lectures may make their plans accordingly. For further particulars please inquire at the librarian's office.
