WILCOX FOR WATER BOARD

Expected to Become Chairman of Body and to Direct Expenditure of $3,000,000 Voted for Additional Bull Run Pipe Line.

MAYOR-ELECT SIMON'S EXECUTIVE BOARD. George W. Brown, John F. O'Shea, John W. Campbell, Sylvester C. Pler, Louis G. Clarke, Robert T. Platt, Samuel Connell, Sig Schel, Henry Ladd Corbett, Charles Smith, Theodore B. Wilcox.

Mayor-elect Simon yesterday completed the selection and announced the appointment of his Executive Board of ten members. A review of the list of appointees discloses that they are all practical and successful business men who have not been actively identified with politics.

Board is Representative. The new Executive Board is regarded as the strongest body of men that has ever been associated with the administration of municipal affairs in this city.

Included in the membership of the board are found men who in the days of factional Republicanism in this state were identified with either the Simon or the Mitchell wing. In selecting his board, Mr. Simon dismissed all consideration of past political differences and measured the qualifications of the many men suggested to him for appointment entirely according to their fitness for the position and their ability to co-operate with him in giving Portland the best possible results through an intelligent direction of its administration.

Simon Discusses Appointments. "In determining the membership of my Executive Board," Mr. Simon yesterday, "it has been my purpose to select only representative business men. By surrounding myself with the men I have chosen, I firmly expect, with the advantage of their suggestion and co-operation, to make good and give to the people of Portland, as I have promised, the very best administration that is possible. In making the selections I have tried to be absolutely impartial and have given each side of the river equal representation, five of the ten members being taken from the East Side and the same number from the West Side.

Personnel of Board. Appended is a brief review of the personnel of the new Executive Board: George W. Brown—President Portland Realty & Trust Company. Mr. Brown is a retired contractor. He con-

NEW YORK, June 26.—(Special.)—"All-mony of $25,000 a year isn't enough. Why, it practically is nothing."

This comment on the award made her by Justice Dowling in her suit for separation from Howard Gould was attributed to Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould today. Jay Gould had six children. Three married unhappily, two happily, and one did not wed. The list is:

NEW ROW BREWING AMONG SENATORS

Who Shall Preside at Schively Trial?

HAY FORCES OPPOSED TO RUTH

Move Made to Choose Chairman for Impeachment.

SCHIVELY SPARS FOR TIME

Demands Ten Days in Which to Prepare Defense—Intends, He Says, to Prolong Session and Thus Wear Out Opponents.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 26.—(Special.)—Who shall preside over the trial by impeachment in the Senate of J. H. Schively, Insurance Commissioner, is likely to develop into an issue that will be as bitterly contested as the selection of the president of that body.

Precedents in other states may be followed either by retaining the president of the Senate as presiding officer or by electing a chairman for the impeachment, and the administration forces are now discussing different senators with the view of centering on one of them and displacing Ruth.

Anti-Hay Men Demand Ruth.

The anti-Hay faction is likely to insist that President Ruth continue in that capacity, but it is customary in impeachment trials for the chairman of the judicial committee to sit with the presiding officer and advise him in his rulings. The chairman of the judicial committee is Will G. Graves, of Spokane, one of Ruth's warmest supporters, and one who opposed investigation in the regular session and who voted yesterday indignantly to postpone the Palmer bill abolishing the Insurance Commissioner's office.

Hay Does Not Favor Lawyer.

These circumstances are spurring the administration faction to action. If it is decided to support a lawyer for the position, the choice will be confined in the administration forces to Ralph Nichols, of Seattle, or Harry Rosenhaupt, of Spokane. All the other lawyers in the Senate are with the Ruth faction. Governor Hay is personally said to favor a chairman who is not a lawyer, believing that one who has not a legal training will be able to pronounce just as fair a ruling as a lawyer, and will be less likely to permit legal technicalities to interfere with and delay the procedure. A candidate has not yet been selected.

Schively to Drag Out Trial.

Schively, it seems certain, will attempt to prolong the session as long as possible, hoping that by piling up the expense of the session he will be able to pull down criticism upon the Governor and those who have been proceeding against him. He declares

DR. JUDSON SAVES TRYING SITUATIONS

Keeps Brotherly Spirit in Convention.

DELEGATES ARE STILL COMING

Every Train Brings Quota of Baptists to Portland.

OVERFLOW MEETING HELD

Grace M. E. Church Thrown Open to Accommodate Crowds—Touching Tribute Paid H. L. Moorehouse in Afternoon Session.

Suave kindness and dry humor from Harry Pratt Judson, president of the Northern Baptist Convention, were the saving notes of the sessions yesterday. Time and time again the delegates threatened to lose the good feeling they had for each other and get a trifle heated but Dr. Judson managed to steer away over, around or under.

The reception accorded to H. L. Moorehouse, corresponding secretary of the Home Mission Society, did the last little thing to blow ill-humor entirely away. When the delegates had finished cheering, Dr. Moorehouse, his eyes red with tears and trembling with emotion, threw his arms round the neck of L. A. Crandall, of Minneapolis, who had moved the convention go on record as expressing its appreciation of the work of Dr. Moorehouse.

It was long before Dr. Moorehouse could speak and when he did there was difficulty in hearing what he said, but he recited a poem of his own composition on the musings of a 70-year-old man.

Committees Present Reports.

Reports by a number of committees were presented at the afternoon session and all the recommendations made were adopted with the exception of one in the executive committee's report, in which that body placed itself on record as seriously differing from the convention of last year. The convention at Okinohama City advised that the executive committee be more representative of the churches, but the committee declined the recommendation. When the report of the committee was read, the clause in which this was made was laid on the table.

The common sense of Rev. Dr. Blackburn, of Baker City, Or., struck the delegates forcibly in connection with this. He told the convention the pastors ought to have something to say, they had to raise the funds.

The proposal of the women that they be admitted to the convention was read by Corresponding Secretary Bitting at the session yesterday morning and referred to a committee of delegates from each state delegation. Some disagreement was manifest among the members of the committee, but it was understood the majority was in favor of giving a convention vote to the recommendations of the society. When the proposal was read on the floor the con-

BALLINGER STARTS OUT UPON WARPATH

After Conference With Sorenson, Chief of Department Leaves for Tour of West.

HEAD OF INDIAN BUREAU WILL SCALP INCOMPETENTS.

CHICAGO, June 26.—(Special.)—Secretary R. A. Ballinger, the "big chief" of the Department of the Interior, sharpened his long knife and tomahawk today while he was in Chicago, to go after the scalps of a large number of Indian agents on reservations in the West.

He spent the greater portion of the day with Frank Sorenson, superintendent in the Indian warehouse, and then announced that he was getting ready to rid the Indian agencies of numerous incompetent hands.

"I am not afraid to cut away the red tape when I see that it is hampering the work of the department," said Mr. Ballinger. "I think the principal difficulty is with the incompetent agents. They are not unscrupulous, but it takes good business men and men who understand the manners of the Indians to deal with them."

WOMAN IS SLAIN; MONEY MISSING

Hood River Tragedy Mystifies.

FARMER'S HOUSEKEEPER DEAD

Warm Body, Bruised and Battered, Found in Her Bed.

YOUNG MAN IS MISSING

Officers Search for George Robbins, Farmer's Son, Who Disappears When Community Hears of Crime—Victim Is Robbed.

HOOD RIVER, June 26.—(Special.)—Choked and beaten to death, the body of Mrs. Emaline Casto, housekeeper, was found lying on her bed by William Robbins, a rancher in the Belmont district, at 6 o'clock tonight.

George Robbins, 19-year-old son of William Robbins, who was playing cards in town this afternoon, is missing and officers are searching for him.

There is no direct evidence upon which to accuse anyone of the murder of Mrs. Casto, although the motive is believed to have been robbery, as $50 in cash and a check for $75 are known to have been taken from her room.

William Robbins, who gave the alarm on his return from town, says that he was notified by telephone this afternoon that his daughter had arrived from Washougal and was waiting here for her father to take her home. When Robbins reached town he could find nothing of his daughter and cannot learn who sent him the false telephone message.

Bruised and Battered With Stone.

When Robbins started for town, about two miles distant, he left Mrs. Casto holding strawberries in company with Miss Nora, a neighbor. When Robbins returned about 9 o'clock, Mrs. Casto's dead body was found in her room. The body was still warm, although life was extinct. There were bruises about the throat, believed to have been made by the hands of her assailant; and her breast was bruised and battered. A stone found in the room is believed to have been used by the murderer to inflict the death blows.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Morse was notified and started at once with the coroner for the scene of the murder. No clues could be found. Neighbors make the statement that a man in a buggy was seen near the Robbins home a short time before the murder. No one has been found who can identify the man seen in the buggy.

Suspect Only Lately Returned.

George Robbins, for whom the officers are searching, was arrested last Fall on a charge of forgery. He was traced from here to Goble, Or., where Constable Ganger arrested him. George has been absent from Hood River for several months, returning only a few days ago. He was employed for a while here as operator of a moving picture machine.

Little is known here of Mrs. Casto, the murdered woman. She came here about six months ago, and had been employed for the past five months as a housekeeper for Robbins, who is a widower. The woman was about 45 years old, and is said to have been twice married.

A coroner's inquest will be held at the scene of the murder tomorrow. It is believed that a reward will be offered for the apprehension of the murderer.

SHERIFF OFFERS REWARD

Officer Morse of Hood River County Starts Hunt for Woman's Slayer.

Sheriff Morse, of Hood River County, has personally offered a reward of $50 for the capture of the murderer of Mrs. Casto. He telephoned this information to the Multnomah County Sheriff's office and to the Portland police station shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, urging the local authorities to make every possible effort to guard all the avenues of approach to this city.

Sheriff Morse was away from Hood River attending to business at The Dalles when the crime was committed, and news of the affair did not reach him until late last night. He will return to Hood River today, he said, and endeavor to have the county authorities offer a substantial reward for the apprehension of the murderer.
