Every person who could get into the White Temple was there for last night's session of the Northern Baptist convention. Alelies and passages were crowded and in addition there was a large overflow meet-ing at Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, which was addressed by Rev. H. R. Best, which was addressed by Rev. H. R. Best, of Sosh Dakota, and Rev. M. P. Fikes, of Detroit, Mich. After a brief prayer and scriptural reading by Rev. E. R. Pope, of Minnesota, President Judson introduced Rev. Harold Pattison, D. D., of St. Paul, Minn., who spoke on "The Modern Church-its Evan-selistic Ideals." Dr. Pattison is well-known in Portland, as he occupied Dr. Brougher's pulpit for two weeks. Dr. Fattlson said the modern church is in toluch with the century in which it exists and is giving life to that cen-tury. Evangelken must be seasonable, reasonable and durable, he contended. "This is an age that demands fair than to heaven as a saint.' was one of the speaker's bon mots. He severely criticised the methods by which church visitors whe frightened to the repentant's form by the process of isolation.

"Any message that speaks to the heart of man is an evangelical message," Social Ideals of the Church" formed his pattern. The church ought to delve into the modul problem, the speaker believed, and what Jesus was we ought to become. "This is a period of social renaissance," he said, "when men are looking at things from an altruistic atandpoint, because it is the viewpoint of Christ." "Almight@ God shall be my boss." was the platform on which Rev. Mr. Levy said a Mayor well-known to Portland was elected. "It is only when men plunge into business affairs in

Dr. Green concluded by quoting from the Standard, a denominational organ the following differences between the Bap-tists and other denominations:

DERBY DESKS

Are the best and best-known office desks made. They are guaranteed to contain sound and kilndried lumber, to be of the finest workmanship in the world, and of mechanically perfect construction. The terms "Derby design," "Derby finish" and

"Derby construction" have been used for a generation to denote the very highest attainment in desk-making.

We are now able to offer a large selection of Derby desks in the latest and best models. Moreover, they will be sold at prices never equaled or approached in Portland. We have a genuine Derby 60-inch low roll desk, of sanitary construction, for $42.50. Every other style and grade is similarly priced. See window display.

Out-of-town bankers, business and professional men will do well to take advantage of these extraordinary values. Cuts, prices and information gladly sent.

Large assortments of new Fall Carpets are ready for inspection. We are showing many novelties, exclusive designs and distinctive colorings. Included are Bigelow and Savonerie Axminsters, Vel-Carpets vets, Brussels and the new double-width Wilton Velvets.

Upholstering and Furniture Repairing

We are particularly well equipped to do fine upholstering, having the best workroom facilities and large stocks of fabrics of every sort. Send in your old furniture, or telephone to the drapery department, and we will send an expert to give estimates and advice.

The states have amounted to $2711.58. The amount on hand at the last report was $506.40 and this, added to the receipts brought the total to $3217.99. The total expenses of the year, amounting to $2681,52, subtracted from the debit total, left a halance of $536.47 on hand for the year 1909. On a motion of Rev. Briggs, of Massachusetts, the report of the treasurer was adopted. _

Budget of $1,000,000.

The report of the finance committee was presented by Andrew MacLeish, of Chicago, and was adopted as given. Three meetings were reported held during the past year. The important matter in the report of the finance committee was the consideration of the hudget for the year 1809-1810 ft committee was the consideration of the budget for the year 1909-1910. It was stated this would be raised in full without serious difficulty, although the committee recognized the necessity of thorough and painstaking work in laying the matter before the churches. The committee felt it was important to strengthen the existing work as far as new funds may be obtained, in place of taking on new work. The apportionment of a uniform budget to the three societies for the arrangement confines the work of rais-ing the unified budget to a period of seven months from September to March II. Thus five months in the year are practically lost. The convention was asked to take some action to prevent this loss of time. The treasurer's report showed that 16 men, among whom was John D. Rockefeller, had donated $1500 to the convention treasury. During the year H. Garrett: Colorado. W. T. Milliken; Connecticut, C. F. W. Ahrens; Delaware, W. L. Pettingill idaho, J. M. Green, of Evanston, III., yesterday, Dr. Green was asked by President Judson, of the Northern Baplist Convention, to make the matter plain, but Dr. Green said he had not the time to prepare a state-ment. He believed, he said, that his ideas in an interview would make the matter plain enough for the layman. Dr. Green said:

The Baptist Church originated in early protestantism, in still further protesting against compulsory baptism of infants. It was contended that only of intanue. It was contended that only those old enough to accept Chirst as their personal saviour should be baptised. Then emphasis was placed on the form, im-mergion, as the primitive act, symbolizing death to the old life and a rising to new life. 'They were called Baptists not because the form of baptism is the whole of es-sential part of their denominational con-victions, but it was the place where they had to take a stand. The mame 'Bap-tists' came as a nickname, because it was then the stand was made.

Every man had a right to the Bible in his own hands and to live up to his conscientious convictions as to what the Bible teaches. The early Baptists adhered closely to the Bible rather than any tradition as to their rule of faith. They had usually a so-called 'Declaration of Faith' which canned 'Decimation of Faith' which sammed up their views on leading doc-trines. More and more, however, there has come to be an ignoring of any dec-laration prepared by men of previous generations, and an insistence that ap-peal be made to the Bible itself.

That the churches throughout the constituency of the Northern Baptist Convention be urged to adopt a com-prehensive plan of missionary finance to include provision for the following: A missionary budget, a missionary committee, the use of the weekly en-velope for missionary offerings and the velope for missionary offerings and the enlistment of every member as a contributor to the missionary budget. In addition we suggest that the con-vention authorize the finance commit-tee to approve in April each year and the apportionment committee to ap-portion immediately thereafter the budget for the new year; with the understanding that the actions of these two committees will be subject to reby the convention at its annual ecting.

Some present thought the flacal year should be changed to begin on October 31. Dr. Brougher favored making one budget instead of raising the money in spasmodic efforts. There was a lively debate, which finally resulted in the recommendations of the committee be ing accepted as represented. One recommendation which stirred up a round of applause was from the
