

LAKE LYTLE

Portland's Nearest Beach Resort—Sparkling Mountain Lake Nestling Close to Old Ocean—Unruffled Mirror Surface Protected From Ocean Wind and Surf

Right where the new railroad meets the ocean—the nearest beach to Portland, and the widest, smoothest, prettiest beach on the Pacific—that's where Lake Lytle lies, and it's there that Lytle and his associates are establishing what they propose to make the most delightful Summer playground within reach of Portland.

Read what Mr. Lytle himself says about it:

"To the Public—We will operate regular passenger trains between Portland and Lake Lytle; will build a depot there as soon as the railroad is finished, and will make Lake Lytle the most beautiful beach resort in Oregon. Garibaldi Beach, the ocean beach at Lake Lytle, has long been recognized as the finest stretch of beach in Oregon, and the location of the new resort, combined with this broad, smooth beach, is ideal.—E. E. Lytle, President, Pacific Railway & Navigation Co., Portland, Oregon."

Lake Lytle was picked by Mr. Lytle as the spot for this, the pet project of his and his associates. They had their choice of everything, and picked this location as the best, and will improve it lavishly.

Ideal surroundings for Summer delights—warm, sunny and protected on the cold, raw days when the wind blows hard off the ocean—cool, fresh and invigorating on the hot days when ocean breezes and the spray of the surf are so cordially welcome. No other beach can offer such a combination—no matter what the weather, it's always fine weather at Lake Lytle. Winters are fine, too—not cold, but invigorating and bracing.

No insect pests—think what that means. A wonderfully cozy nook is Lake Lytle, beautifully located about a thousand feet from the ocean, but protected from it by a graceful rolling ridge which offers ideal building sites for cottages. From ridge and beach the view of the ocean, with the San Francisco boats and an occasional whale or seal in sight, is of ever-varying interest.

Only a mile away is the mouth of the Nehalem River, where crabs, clams, rock oysters and flounders abound, making happy the young and old. Up the Nehalem, on both its wild, tumbling forks, is the finest trout fishing in Oregon. Five rushing mountain rivers, their clear, glistening waters roaring over the rocks one moment and resting in deep, green pools the next, empty into Tillamook Bay, only a few miles away down the beach, and offer a fisherman's paradise.

Harriman Drive, an auto road, is being built around the borders of Lake Lytle, and with the miles of hard, smooth beach and the splendid system of county roads in the Tillamook country, will make Lake Lytle the tourist center of the Oregon Coast for automobiles and carriages. Trails and paths lead the pleasure-hunter right into the mountains, whose crisp, dry air is perfumed with the balsam of fir, hemlock, cedar and spruce. All roads lead to Lake Lytle; all trails lead to Lake Lytle, and Lake Lytle is the first station of the new railroad after the Pacific Ocean is reached. It's right where the railroad encounters the ocean—the first stopping place for tourist and resorter.

And Garibaldi Beach itself—right at Lake Lytle—the wonder of all who see it. A great, wide expanse of hard white sand, like velvet under foot, a delight to tread upon and a dream to view. Along it curls the ever-restless surf, shallow for bathers for almost a quarter of a mile out, almost as level as a billiard table and just as smooth. Rising here and there, rugged sentinels of America's most beautiful state, are the great rocks, worn into grotesque shapes by the wind and tides of countless ages. Nowhere else are the convenient and picturesque so delightfully combined.

On the ever-placid waters of the dear little lake—only a mile and a half long and a half a mile wide—the fisherman and the canoeist pursue their pleasure in quiet and safety. Fresh-water bathing, warm in the shallow inlets of the lake, is ideally convenient and safe for the young folks. The quiet pleasures of life at a mountain lake are enjoyed to the rhythm of the pulsing surf, instilling memories never to be forgotten.

These delights and beauties can become part of the life of you and your family, and the money cost will be trifling if you are wise enough to make an early purchase of a building lot before the improvements are finished and before general appreciation of the resort raise values and prices to many times what they are now. At present lots may be purchased on easy terms for $100 up. For particulars call or write

U. of O. Opposes Sending Men to Seattle A. A. U. Meet.

METHODS ARE OBJECTED TO

Hayward Will Train Seattle Club, but Oregon Students Frown on Star Athletes Competing Unless Under Multnomah Colors.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., June 26.—(Special.)—If any Oregon athletes enter the games of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition under the colors of the Seattle Athletic Club, they will do so in direct opposition to the wishes of students, alumni, members of the faculty and the athletic authorities of the University. The athletic council, however, does not pretend to exercise control over athletes in matters of this kind and is, therefore, powerless to prevent competition by Oregon students under the colors of the Seattle Athletic Club or any other similar organization during vacation time, unless it is evident that the rules of the Northwest Conference are being violated. It is not known whether or not any of the local athletes will join the ranks of the Seattle team during the summer season, although efforts are being made to secure a number of the best performers of the season just closed, among them being Huston, McCredie, Davis, Reed, Johns and Hawkins.

Prior to the engagement of Trainer Bill Hayward's services by the Seattle Athletic Club, it was the intention of a majority of Oregon's athletes to enter the A.-Y.-P. games under the colors of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club. It being understood that Hayward was to train the Multnomah team for both the P. N. A. meet in June and the A. U. championship in August, it was the general belief on the campus that Multnomah could make a strong bid for first honors at both meets and that the sudden abandonment of the P. N. A. games by the exposition management caused Multnomah to dispense with Hayward's ser-VICES, for the reason that the Portland club did not care to incur the expense of putting a team in the field for competition in only the A. A. U. meet. Hayward is going to Seattle and his acceptance of the position of trainer of the Seattle Athletic Club's team was altogether agreeable to the Multnomah management, as well as to the University, for it does not interfere with his duties here.

The Oregon athletes are now in a quandary. They do not desire to compete against Multnomah, for the reason that most of them are bona fide members of the club, and for the additional reason that seeing Multnomah with the colors of the Seattle Athletic Club is altogether friendly, and that Oregon men generally would like to see Multnomah win the meet. On the other hand, it is argued that Multnomah has no trainer and that Seattle has the services of the man who has trained and developed all of the Oregon men. Few, if any, of the Oregon men care to go up against Huston, a member of the Multnomah club and prefers to represent that institution, but does not care to go to the meet unless he has been regularly trained by Hayward or some man equally as good. If any Oregon men do compete for the Seattle Athletic Club, they will do so because of the superior advantage offered there. It is quite likely, however, that none of the Oregon men will compete for either Seattle or Multnomah, but will keep out of the games altogether.

Among local athletic enthusiasts, there is a general feeling of disgust over the whole situation, principally because of the action of the Exposition management in juggling the date of the Northwest Conference meet and holding it on a date that precluded competition by the local varsity men, and also because of the abandonment of the P. N. A. meet and the subsequent alterations in Multnomah's plans for the season.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, June 26.—Jas. R. ### Ewing Wants Waiver Rule to Cripple Portland.

PURPOSE CLEAR TO FANS

President of League Strikes at McCredie as Result of Transfer of Kennedy to Northwestern Club.

BY W. J. PETRAIN.

J. Cal Ewing is reported to have called for a mail vote on the proposition of adopting the waiver rule in the Pacific Coast League. Like all of his actions which are intended to benefit the league, Ewing's motive in desiring to cripple this is simply another subterfuge on the part of the "almost" league president, who is also the owner of the San Francisco club.

The idea of a waiver rule, which means that a club cannot sell or release a player without first asking the consent of the other clubs, percolated through the brain of J. Cal Ewing simply because the McCredie have seen fit to transfer Ed Kennedy temporarily to the Northwestern League Club, and now the "honored" and "straightforward" president says it shall occur no more.

Of course, J. Cal, being practically the owner of the league and the guiding spirit in everything right or wrong, can have no ulterior motive in desiring to cripple McCredie's chances of helping his other club when players get hurt—none whatever. Cal's gentle little heart would never countenance such a thing. He simply wants to be boss and McCredie has not appreciated his power, so he desires to show the recalcitrant Portlanders, who try to assert that Portland is as much a part of the Coast League as any other city, that it is nothing of the kind. According to Cal's way of thinking, Portland is merely a filler in the "near great" league, owned, controlled and dominated by J. Cal Ewing.

The edict has gone forth from San Francisco that a mail vote must be forthcoming immediately on the question of waiving on players. Portland has offended J. Cal Ewing seriously by turning Ed Kennedy over to the Northwestern League to help out while Mullin is laid up with a broken leg. Portland must not be able to do this
