"This was my first transcontinental automobile trip, and it will be my last—at any event in a race," said Mr. Scott last night at the Hotel Oregon.

"It is mighty hard work. During the last five nights of the race I got only four hours' sleep. The best roads in the country are in New Yorg state. From New York to Buffalo you never have any trouble.

"Yes, we overhauled the car before starting back. We went down a 20-foot embankment in Kansas and bent the frame, but did nothing to it until we reached Seattle. There I straightened it out and put on two new tires. The car is now in as good shape as ever aside from the body finish."

which Henderickson and his spouse dulged vesterday afternoon at the indulged yesterday afternoon at the Union Laundry, where the latter is employed.

According to the story told by the wife, she and her husband parted a year ago. Since that time she has gained a livelihood by working in laundries. Henderickson, on the contrary, has become indolent and shiftless in his habits, and since their separation has had an abhorrence for toil. Several times since the same of their domestic affairs was reached, the wayward spouse has endeavoyed to offect a reconciliahas endeavored to effect a reconcilia-tion, she says. Each time he not only failed in his purpose, but was awarded the proverbial cold shoulder by his former helpmeet. After months of fu-tile effort again to intrench himself in the heart of his wife. Henderickson dethe heart of his wife, Henderickson de-cided to become a soldier. Recently he applied for enlistment, and was advised that, in order to comply with the regu-lations relative to his subsequent serv-ices as a soldier, it would be necessary for him to secure the signature of his wife upon the regulation wife upon the regulation enlistment

With the necessary blanks stowed away in his pocket, the patriotic Henderickson hied himself to his spouse's place of employment yesterday noon. His efforts failed to secure her signature to the papers. As a climax to the tirade of abuse he heaped upon her, it is said he struck her several times, and then made a hasty departure. After rethen made a hasty departure. After re-covering her equilibrium, Mrs. Hender-ickson sought out the authorities and swore out a complaint charging her husband with assault and battery. Up to a late hour last night the re-calcitrant husband had not been appre-hended.

Demand That Each Bale Show Grower's County and State.

PORTLAND, July 10 .- (To the Editor.)—The local hop trade is in receipt of a pamphlet issued by the United States Bureau of Plant Industry, titled

"The Necessity for New Standards of Hop Valuation," in which its author, W. W. Stockberger, an attache of that bureau, sets forth the reasons why some such action should be taken.

Mr. Stockberger visited the Pacific Const a year of the programme blanks. Mr. Stockberger visited the Pacific Coast a year or two ago, presumably to make some kind of investigation relating to the hop trade, but spent his time almost exclusively in the company and on the ranches of certain large Sacramento hop concerns. I have been waiting with some anxiety to hear the result of these investigations and this pamphlet is what I was waiting for. I now desire to call attention to what appears to be the ulterfor motive what appears to be the ulterior motive of this movement. It is a well known and universally acknowledged fact that Sacramento hops are of poorer quality than Oregons, and command a lower VANCOUVER, B. C. July 10 .- Spewill undoubtedly cost Julius Hender-ickson his liberty until such a time as the court adjusts the charge of assault and battery preferred against him by cial.)-The striking fishermen of the ning the company's boats. Today, on the report that half a dozen men had been slugged up town and others threatened they left the boats, Manager Hager, of the company, appealed to the police for protec-tion and stated that he would have all the strikers arrested who interfered with his men. Next week he intends to apply for an injunction against the strikers' pickets.

Captain Selness, of the New England, was among the men attacked by the strikers. Delegate C. T. Pratt, from Seattle, is the man who has been responsible for the local agitation, and Canadian fishermen are very indignant that an American should be allowed to put 70 men out of work.
