SLEEP-WALKER DROPS 5 STORIES.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Joseph Donovan, while walking in his sleep plunged from a fifth-story window of the Ironside Hotel last night alighting on the pavement below, but escaped injury aside from a slight fracture of the left ankle.

his home at Larkspur last night by firing a bullet into his brain.
While there is no apparent reason for the suicide, and Von Meyerlink left no letter explaining his deed, it is thought he was in some difficulty with the bank over his accounts. The bank officials have declined to make any statement in this regard, but it is understood that Von Meyerlink's books were under examination the last day or so, though this may have been in connection with the statement asked for by the bank examiner.
Von Meyerlink was a member of an old German family and leaves a wife and son 16 years of age.

Rockhill Says Boycott on American Products Has Ceased.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—William W. Rockhill, recently American minister to China, who has been promoted to the position of Ambassador to Russia, arrived here today on the steamer Tenyo Maru, accompanied by Mrs. Rockhill. After a short stay in Washington he will proceed to his new post of duty at St. Petersburg.
Referring to present conditions in the Orient, Mr. Rockhill said: "The China was making great progress in every direction. Political quiet prevailed, and the industries of the country were flourishing. There was no longer any boycott or prejudice against American products, and trade relations with this country were of the most satisfactory character.
Other passengers on the Tenyo Maru were Rear-Admiral Theodore F. Jewell, retired, who is returning home from a visit to the Far East, and several prominent Japanese business men, who will make a tour of the principal cities of the United States.
