AUGUST BELMONT

EARL DE GREY, NOW MARQUIS OF RIPON

J. C. HAVEMEYER

DON ROMOLO MURI

BISHOP WRIGHT AND CHARLIE TAFF

NEW YORK, July 24.—(Special.)—Youth and old age were equally interested in the trials of the Wright airship in Washington last week. Bishop Wright, of Dayton, and Charlie Taff, the President's youngest son, were in the little group privileged to stand in the aviator's shed and watch the tests. Bishop Wright is almost as much opposed to publicity as his two modest sons; but he consented to pose for this picture for the George Grantham Bain Service. Charlie is used to publicity and doesn't shy at a camera. He went to the construction of a Secret Service officer, who remained by his side all afternoon.

Don Romolo Muri occupies a unique position in the Italian Chamber of Deputies. He refuses to ally himself with any of the parties in that body and is the sole representative in it of the National Democratic League, which he founded. He believes in a more distinct separation of church and state. He advocates a law something like the French separation law for the distribution of the ecclesiastical properties under the care of the state to religious associations. He wants the state also to guarantee freedom of instruction. His radical activities have brought on him from the church major excommunication. But he refuses to lay aside his priestly vestments. In spite of protest, and the church admits that though excommunicated, he remains an ordained priest, and therefore no one can deny him the right to wear a priest's dress.

August Belmont, the banker, started last week on the Lucania for Europe. It may or may not be significant that Eleanora Robson, the beautiful actress whose name was coupled with that of Mr. Belmont by rumor, is in Europe on her summer vacation. Mr. Belmont will probably return in August, which is expected to be a lively month in the street.

J. C. Havemeyer is one of the parents of the sugar trust, which is now under indictment for fraud against the Government. But he has not been actively engaged in the management of the trust for some years, so he is not among those whose liberty is endangered by the present prosecution. Mr. Havemeyer was born in New York in 1832. He began as a clerk in a sugar refinery, and afterward became a partner in Havemeyer Bros. & Co., which was the nucleus of the sugar trust. As a writer on moral and religious topics, Mr. Havemeyer must take a lively interest in the prosecution of his associates for stealing from the Government.

E. B. Vreeland, of New York, is slated to be chairman of the committee on banking and currency in the present House of

HSU PING CHEN, WIFE AND SON

Representatives. C. N. Fowler, of New Jersey, who has held the position, is to be retired by Speaker Cannon. Mr. Vreeland comes from Salamanca, and has been a member of Congress for more than 10 years. He is a lawyer, but since 1891 he has been president of the Salamanca Trust Company, and engaged chiefly in banking and the oil business.

By the death of the Marquis of Ripon, July 2, the Earl de Grey, his son, becomes the Marquis of Ripon. Earl de Grey is treasurer of the household of Queen Alexandra. He married, in 1885, Lady Constance Gladys Herbert, widow of the Earl of Londsdale and sister of the Earl of Pembroke and of the late Sir Michael Herbert, who died as British Ambassador to the United States. Lord de Grey has no children.

Hsu Ping Chen is the Chinese Consul-General at San Francisco. He is 40 years old. His family has held public office for many generations. His wife is a prominent member of the Chinese Women's Free-Foot Association, which is campaigning against foot-binding. Mrs. Hsu's feet were bound till she was 27; in the 12 years since, they have grown to nearly double their length. The Hsus have a son who is 30 who attends school at Berkeley, Cal. He dresses in American fashion and writes his name "Shi T. Hsu."

GIRLISH IDEALS TOLD

GERMAN MAIDENS WRITE ODD ESSAYS ON THEIR DESIRES.

Movement to Form Woman's Industrial League Reveals Unique Side Lines of Thought.

BERLIN, July 24.—(Special.)—An attempt to found a trading association something on the lines of the old Hansatic League has brought forth a multitude of demands from women all over Northern Germany to be received into the new league on equal terms, including the matter of voting with men. One applicant points out that according to the most recent professional census in Germany there are 1,000,000 women employed exclusively in trade and over 2,000,000 employed exclusively in industry.

To shut out these women from the political representation of labor, says the writer, "is to stamp them as the Helots of Work." The new association has not yet come to a decision, but meantime it may throw some light on the mental "capacity" of women in what is here termed the "Backkitch" stage.

At a school in the suburb of Berlin 50 schoolgirls were asked to write an essay on "My Ideal Future." That the modern feminine cry of "Down with Man" had reached their ears seems proved from the fact that of the entire 50 only five chose

Flanders Furniture

Those interested in distinctive types in furniture will find their time well spent in looking over our showing of correct reproductions of the quaint and artistic type known as Flanders Furniture. The original pieces were first produced during the latter part of the 18th century and during the first part of the 17th, in the Province of Flanders, which embraced a portion of Holland, Belgium and Northern France. The craftsmen of this period devised for their own native oak a style which was so appropriate to this material. The distinguishing features of this style of furniture are the plain, substantial designs and the finish, which is a rich, dark brown. It is adapted to living-room and library furnishing, the seating pieces being covered in appropriate leathers. See our corner window display this week.

Over 400 Room-size Rugs are shown on our Rug Racks

The constantly increasing demand for room-size rugs has necessitated improved facilities for displaying them, and our Carpet Dept. has just installed the most improved device—the rug rack, by which we can show over 400 room-size rugs of different patterns. This aids our customers in making a selection with comfort and avoids confusion. We have now on display 50 patterns of room-size Tapestry Rugs, 50 patterns of Axminster Rugs, 60 patterns of Body Brussels Rugs, 80 patterns of Wilton Rugs, and our usual extensive line of "Hofi" and "Kaba" Rugs, Ragstyle Rugs and Arts and Crafts Rugs. In addition, we show over 200 patterns in small rugs, in standard qualities and sizes.

Despite the popularity of rugs, we still maintain our large and exclusive stock of carpets in up-to-date effects, and are now showing the newest and best things in all the well-known floor coverings. The Carpet Dept.—sixth floor.
