BY W. J. PETRAIN. To pretend for one solitary instant that they have a chance against San Francisco is asinine on the part of the Portcisco is asinine on the part of the Port-land players, at least such is the general conclusion reached by all who saw yes-terday's miserable effort of McCredie's team to stave aff another defeat-San Francisco won under wraps by the score of 6 to 1. The only mystery of the pro-ceedings is that Portland got one run. "Texas" Browning was sent against the home team, and it now appears the only thing necessary for him to do is to toss out his glove and the Portland team is out his glove and the Portland team is beaten. The McCredic squad of "near talent" managed to hit the ball quite fre-quently, but whatever good may have accrued from the series of clouts was entrely dissipated by the rankest quality of baserunning and stupidity. Any time anyone tells you Fortland has a chance for the pennant put a bot on it that the Seals will have to fall dead before the Poor Judgment Is Used.

Manager McCredie seems to lack gen eralship in the matter of changing pitchers. Friday he chased Carson when it was too late, and yesterday he sent Guyn was too late, and yesterday be sent Guyn to the dubhouse when that clever young pitcher was not at all to blame for the three runs scored off him in the second, for a palpable error by Ote Johnson, when a double play was simest a cinch, caused the trouble. However, Mac canned Guyn and trotted out Harkness. The speckled one got away without considerable damage until the sixth, when he gave a most editying exhibition of how ot to pitch, and San Francisco tallied

Yesterday's victory gives Browning a record of 15-atraight wins, and were be to pitch every day against Portland he could make it 100 without any trouble. Guyn's troubles started in the second. Immy Williams was an easy out, but Berry and McArdla hit safely between Johnson and Olson, both of whom had difficulty in moving very quickly, and Browning. Rolly Zelder hit sharply to Ote Johnson, and with a mede-to-order two o double play in front of him the prospective New York Highlander booted and Berry scored. Guyn then forced a run over with a pass to Mobler, and when the sealed they to Street Recognition and McCreek. Bodie flew to Spens, Browning scored the

A pass to Ort, Breen's single, a sacrifice Guyn and Olson's long sacrince fly to Williams gave the home guard its lone ace in its half of the second.

Harkness Goes on the Mound.

Harry Melchlor opened the fourth with a single and McCredle brought his det-rick into action, substituting Harkness for Guyn. "Speck" managed to get away with his thinging without damage until the sixth. Olson contributed a boot on the sixth. Olson contributed a boot on McArdle's tap and Browning sacrificed, A passed ball put Mac on third, but Harkness followed this by pussing Zeider and Mohler, a most clever piece of pitching, which filled the bases and brought results for Frisco. Bodie came to bat and hit through the infield and likewise the outfleld, taking three hases and scoring three runs on a grounder that would have resulted in naught had a little judgment been used in playing for butsung. With Garrett on the wick list it is doubtful who will pitch for Portland to-day, and therefore the game ought to be another "pipe" for San Francisco, thus making good Danny Leng's boast that is men would capture four out of the six Indianapolis Speedway Will Be Unique Course.

READY FOR RACES AUG. 13

Built in Saucer Form on Foundation of Crushed Rock, Surface Is to Be Dustless, Affording Good Grip to Speeding Tires,

Work on the Indianapolis speedway is nearing completion and the manage-ment has the assurances from the contractors that it will be in apple-ple order for the two days' racing events to be given under the auspices of the Fed-eration of American Motorcyclists on August 18-14.

August 13-14:
The speedway, when completed, will be the most unique motor course in the world. The actual work of construction is under the supervision of A. O. Nelson, of Philadelphia, an engineer of Nelson, of Philadelphia, an engineer of continental repute who has supervised the construction of several similar courses in Europe and America. The Indianapolis course has been his strongest effort. During the past week a crew of 500 men has labored on night and day shifts, in the hope of finishing the work at the earliest possible date. It is anticipated the course will be entirely completed and the floor allowed to dry and settle a week before the initial races. The major portion of the workmen employed is kept at work on the racer from plunging over the embankment should his vehicle become unmanageable.

The same principle of construction has been accorded to the course throughout. Stone and taroid are the principal ingredients. After the earth has been leveled and graded jnto the desired angles on the outer track, crushed stones, comparative in size to a goose egg, were haid to a depth of five inches. Over this stratum of rock a steam-roller weighing eight tons was run several times over the course. Insuring a stable foundation. Over this almost solid bed of crushed stone was applied a coating of taroid, two gallons to the square yard, which, when dry, served to bind the bed firmly. Upon this taroid was distributed some of the three days meet.

The Indianapolis speedway will undoubtedly become the scene of many National events. Barney Oldfield, in his new death-inviting machine, which he has dubbed "Old Glory," for reason of its patriotic pigments, will later endeavor to smash all his former records, as well as capture those held by other speeders on this unique track.

WHY DELANEY "KNOCKS"

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. L.—(Special.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 7.—(Special.)

—Jack Kipper, business partner of Jim Jeffries, is on the warpath looking for Billy Delaney's scalp in particular and in general scalps of all those who accuse Jeffries of faking. The plain statement made by the veteran trainer and schoed by others to the effect that Jeffries is "four-finshing" and will never fight Johnson got down deep under Kipper's skin and caused him to say a few frank words on the subject.

"Delaney is knocking Jeff merely because Jim will not act as a meal toket for Billy," said Kippen. "Jeff carried Delaney around the country for many months when he had no use for Delaney's services at all. Then, too, Jeffries gave Delaney hundreds of dollars merely out of the goodness of his heart. I suppose that it made Delaney sore when Jeff dropped him and he has been brooding over it ever since.

"Another thing, Delaney never got over the fact that Jeffries refused to fight Squires for him. Bill had it all planned to make a bunch of money out of the Jeffries-Squires fight. Jim couldn't see where it would pay him to fight the Australian, and so he refused to consider the proposition that he return to the ring at that time.

"Delaney's knocking will only come back to him. Jeffries is the real cham-pion of the world and he intends to re-turn and fight Jack Johnson."
