SEASIDE, Or., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Seaside, a veritable park in itself, is one of the most attractive watering places to be found, and is enjoying an activity that is remarkable for the backward beach weather that is predominating along the coast.

The crowd at this resort on Sunday was one of the largest ever known here, and the delightful weather has accentuated the joys of an outing at this incomparable resort. At present a note of interest, both social and material, is lent by the fact that Battery A of the Oregon National Guard is in camp here, with Colonel C. U. Welch in command.
