

Millinery, Muslin Underwear, Infants' Wear and Corsets Are Now Located on 2d Floor, Annex—General Offices on 6th Floor, Annex

Two Immense Buildings Now Occupied by The Meier & Frank Store

Main Floor of the Annex Opens for Business Tomorrow

The Sixth-Street Entrances Ready

The Greater Meier & Frank Store is a reality. Tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock the Sixth-street doors swing open for the first time, the main floor of the new Annex being ready for business. Departments are all permanently located but not entirely completed, as far as fittings and arrangement are concerned. The enlarged establishment provides an ideal shopping place for the entire Northwest, every new and improved method for the prompt and satisfactory operation of a large business having been introduced. No expense has been spared to provide shopping facilities second to none in the land, all branches of the store service being extended to meet every requirement. The largest pneumatic tube cash system in the West, with one or more stations in every department, giving quick service to both cash and charge patrons. A transfer system that will appeal to those having a number of purchases to make; delivery service doubled in size; 200 telephones connecting all departments; 400 additional employes added to the ranks the past ten days, and last, but not least, the Merchandise—the assortments, the range of qualities on the same lavish scale that has characterized this business for fifty-two years, while prices at all times will continue to be "Portland's Lowest." This last important point is one we shall never lose sight of.

OUR NEW TEN-STORY STEEL FIREPROOF ANNEX, SIXTH AND ALDER STREETS, NOW OPEN IN CONNECTION WITH THE MAIN STORE.
