BEWARE OF A SWINDLER.

The Oregonian desires to warn the public against a man who represents himself as its agent, but whom it does know, yet who has been taking subscriptions, pretendedly for it, at lower rates than the regular rates for the paper. He has been beard from at Albany, Chemawa, Hubbard and St. Helens, nlwnys signing a different same to receipts given, but in each case giving the initials "J. H.," as "J. H. Harris," "J. H. Wilson," "J. H. Stone." Perhaps there are other victims than those so far heard from Every authorized agent of The Oregonian has proper credentials from the office, and if not known as a representative of the paper, should be requested to exhibit them. But in every town there is a known local agent of this paper. We should like to be put on track of this man, so we might catch him and present him for punishment.

DEFICIT IN SCHOOL FUNDS.-Unforeseen expenses that have recently been met by the school department threaten to make a deficit in the fund of the School Board. In the repair fund the deficit promises to be about $50,000 by the time the year ends, but in some other funds there will be a surplus which will make the general deficit less. The unexpected drain on this fund is due largely to the breaking down of heating plants, which have to be reinstalled. Another big expense was the repairs made necessary to the tower on the Stevens school. The general hullding fund, too, has been depleted more than had been expected. On the other hand, a sawing has been realized in the purphase of supplies for the year. This is oredited to the employment of a purchasing agent, who has found time to seek competition for the sale to the department of numerous articles that would otherwise have to be purchased. The the open market at any price asked. The Board is planning to economize in every way possible to make the threatened de-
