BETRAYED BY WIFE

Los Angeles Man Confesses Killing Aged Veteran.

CRIME SEEN BY WOMEN

Salter, of Tacoma, Robbed of Gold, Knocked Downstairs, Neck Broken and Body Picked Up by Garbage Man.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Because Mrs. Willie Ernstein, of Elm-street, feared presentation on the charge of compounding a felony she told the police the hiding place of her husband, he was arrested today after a sensational hunt and as a result a startling mystery seems about to be cleared up. Ernstein is accused of having murdered William Salter, a wealthy Civil War veteran, aged 74 years, who came here from Tacoma and was found dying in an alley August 24, with his neck broken. The coroner's jury after a long but perfunctory examination found that Salter had been trampled by a horse driven through the alley at night. Mrs. Ernstein and the landlady of a rooming-house to which Ernstein is alleged to have taken the veteran for the purpose of robbery, are said by the police to have seen the crime committed. A verbal confession has been obtained from them. The landlady gave her secret to a prizefighter a few days ago, and he told the police, who had long since dropped the man.

Women's Story of Crime. According to the women's version, Ernstein and the old man talked so loudly in a room that they were attracted and saw Ernstein take a purse of gold from Salter. Ernstein then knocked the veteran down and crushed Salter's chest with his knees, according to the women. As Salter staggered up at the top of a rear stairway, Ernstein is said to have hit him again, knocking him backwards. The fall is supposed to have broken his neck. The dying man was carried into the alley half a block from First and Spring streets, where a garbage collector picked him up. Ernstein Admits Murder. Ernstein is held in the city jail. It is said he tells of being intoxicated on the night of Salter's death and of meeting him in a saloon and enticing him to his home for the purpose of robbing him. When Salter resisted and made his escape he says he followed and overtaking him, dragged him into the alleyway and struck him on the forehead with a club. Ernstein is 35 years of age.

SALTER FAMILY SURPRISED

Knew Nothing of Murder Charge. Salter Owned Much Property. TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Information from Los Angeles that William Ernstein, has been arrested for the murder of William Salter, the former Tacoma man, comes as a surprise to friends of Salter here. Dennis Foley, a brother-in-law, is sick in bed and could not be reached, but inquiry at the Tourist Hotel, where the arrest was positively stated by those close to Mr. Foley that no word of the arrest had been received here. Mr. Salter, a veteran of the Civil War, formerly resided here and owned considerable property. For several years he had spent the winters in California, and it was while on one of these visits he was killed. Detectives from here went to Los Angeles, but the case did not bear the earmarks of murder. The body was picked up in the gutter, and the verdict of the coroner's jury was that he had come to his death by being stepped upon by a horse.

SCIENTISTS DROP LEADER

MRS. AUGUSTA E. STETSON DISMISSED FROM CHURCH. Woman Talked of as Mrs. Eddy's Successor Let Out for Teaching Erroneous Doctrines. BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Alfred Farlow, chairman of the committee on publication of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, confirmed today a report that Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, of New York, has been dismissed from the body of Christian Scientists. Mr. Farlow declined to comment on the case, but in reply to a question as to the effect of the action of the members of the church, said: "It is to be hoped they will receive it in a Christian manner and treat it accordingly." Mrs. Stetson was one of the most influential members of the church and had been referred to as a possible successor to Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy as head of the organization. It is alleged that Mrs. Stetson had been teaching erroneous doctrines. Woman's Purse Snatched. While walking almost in front of her home after leaving a W. car at Nineteenth and Flanders streets, Mrs. James Wickersham, of 180 North Eighteenth street, had her handbag snatched by a youth about 20 years old, who ran down Flanders street toward the city. Mrs. Wickersham screamed and gave chase, but was outdistanced. The purse contained $50 in money and small articles of jewelry.

TRIO RULES ROADS

Harriman Lines Go Into Hands of Three Men.

EXTENSIONS TO BE PUSHED

Build About 2000 Miles New Road in Northwest and Middle West, Including Branches in Oregon.

(Continued From First Page.) of a master with consistent faithfulness. Subdues Fears of Shakeup. The New York conference have developed the fact that the Harriman policies are to be carried out to the letter if it lies within the triumvirate to carry them out. Even now Mr. Kruttschnitt is making a tour of the Western lines with a view to quieting any fears that may be entertained of a "shakeup" or a revolution. Rumors of radical changes, or new presidents, of going back to the individual form of operation, have been rife, as a matter of course. Mr. Kruttschnitt is assuring the men in his department that so far as he can make them, affairs are to move along in the same old way, without change of policy or of methods. E. O. McCormick, assistant traffic director, is also making a complete tour of the Western lines and is giving the same assurance officially to the men who are in the traffic department. Such trips are necessary to restore the full confidence of the staff and to allay all fears and all unrest. Carry Out Improvement Plans. "That the Harriman policy with all its aggressiveness is to be continued is evidenced by the fact that official announcements have been made of the fact that all the vast improvement plans which Harriman had planned at the time of his death are to be carried out to the letter. These improvements in their aggregate call for an expenditure of fully $100,000,000, and are to be undertaken with the view of intruding more securely the Harriman lines in their present strongholds and with a view to reaching out for new territory. There is to be no cessation of effort to acquire new fields for future tonnage. The extensions of the Union and Southern Pacific systems which have been determined upon will necessitate the construction of fully 2000 miles of railroads. Of this mileage approximately 500 lie in the territory of the Union Pacific, including 53 miles in Kansas on the Menominee line, with 60 miles in Colorado north of Denver. More than 100 miles of double track are now being laid through Nebraska, between Kearney and North Platte. On the Oregon Short Line 150 miles of extensions are nearing completion. In the territory of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, 191 miles of new line are being graded. Oregon and Grays Harbor Lines. From Centralia, Wash., between Portland and Tacoma, on the Northern Pacific, the section now being double-tracked for accommodation of traffic of the Harriman lines, a branch is being run to Grays Harbor, a distance of 58 miles. This will ultimately run northward 100 miles to Puget Sound through one of the finest sections of forest in the world. Extensions under way on the Southern Pacific total more than 400 miles. Of this 173 miles are being added to the Oregon lines.

NO PERPETUAL RIGHTS

MINING CONGRESS PROPOSES LAW ON WATER POWER.

Asks Repeal of Apex Law and Legislation Placing Ban on Wildcat Mines.

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Oct. 2.—The American Mining Congress closed its 12th session here at 12 o'clock today after adopting a resolution calling upon the National Government to legislate against perpetual rights for water power or water rights in Western states, and urging that similar state legislation be passed without waiting for Congressional action. The apex law, under which the discoverer of a mineral lode or vein can follow it outside the lines of his claim was another subject of discussion, and its repeal, with the substitution of a law making the side lines of a claim its limits when continued downward vertically, was urged. Wildcat mining schemes were placed under the ban by the congress, which urged state and National legislation to prevent the operators of such schemes from diverting money of investors that might otherwise be used in developing legitimate properties. J. H. Richards, of Boise, Idaho, the retiring president of the congress, was given a handsome silver service by the delegates. Los Angeles and Spokane have developed a lively rivalry for the next session of the congress. This question will be decided by the executive committee. Hold-Ups Continue Active. H. Isberg, of 490 Clay street, was held up as he was going home, at Fourteenth and Clay streets, by two masked men, and robbed of $5 and a gold watch and chain valued at $50. From the description he furnished the police, it is believed the men are the same two who are accredited with eight recent holdups. The Persian Gulf region holds the record for heat.
