WEDDING OF PENDLETON GIRL AND PORTLAND BUSINESS MAN.

October 3, at 2 P. M., at the home of the groom, 542 Fargo street, E. P. McCroskey, a Portland business man, and Miss Beale Luper, of Pendleton, Or., were married in the presence of a few relatives and friends. They will be at home after November 1.

DISCUSSES ISSUE OF 1896.

"The real issue in 1896 was whether this country would be conducted in the interest of a few of the people or in the interest of all the people; but the surface question was the money question, and the Democratic party declared for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the existing legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation."

GOVERN PHILIPPINES AS COLONIES.

"What was the question in 1907? The paramount issue then was imperialism. We are governing the Philippine Islands today upon practically the same theory that our colonies were governed before the Revolutionary War and on practically the same plan England governed her colonies in India. And all these years the Republican party has drifted along, and how much have we spent on our colonial policy? If I put it at more than $100,000,000, I am putting it at a minimum."

WILL NOT SEEK NOMINATION.

"I have not promised that I would not again be a candidate for the Presidency, but I have said, and I say now, that I shall not seek nomination; that I do not want it; but I cannot say what I will do if it is forced upon me."

TRIBUTE TO TAFT.

"As a tribute to the President, Mr. Bryan said: 'It is hard enough to be defeated by a great man; it would be humiliating to be defeated by one not great. It is hard enough to be defeated by one highly esteemed; it would be unbearable to be defeated by one who had not the universal respect of the people.'"

BRYAN TO FIGHT SALOONS

Prediction Made He Will Stump Nebraska in 1910.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Jasper L. McBrien, Nebraska's ex-State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has made a prediction, backed, he says, by a good deal of evidence, that W. J. Bryan will, before the campaign of 1910 is far advanced, declare himself on the side of no license of saloons, and assist in a campaign of county option which is to be one of the paramount issues in this state next year. Mr. Bryan left this week for the Seattle exposition and a confirmation of the prediction will not be forthcoming for some time.

GRANGE KEEPS UP FIGHT

Insists County Fair Has No Right to $5000 Appropriation.

CHEHALIS WASH.

Chehalis, Wash., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The fight which was started some time since to prevent the payment of the $5000 appropriation made by the Lewis County Commissioners to aid in the success of the Southwest

Washington Fair is still on. Originally when the Board made the appropriation under a resolution adopted, County Auditor Swoford declined to issue warrants on the advice of his attorney. County Auditor Buxton and the Attorney-General of the state had given opinions in effect that he had a right to issue the warrants. On his continued refusal, the fair association went into the Superior Court before Judge Rice and was granted a mandamus requiring him to issue them. This he did this week, after duly certified vouchers covering the various expenditures had been filed with him, there being ten $500 warrants.

issued last Saturday. Had he done so, he would have been granted a hearing Monday morning. His failure to appear so incensed Tworoger that he promptly threw up the case and so notified Cornell. The accused Republican spellbinder and lawyer, whom all the detectives in the city are trying to find, is comfortably ensconced in an up-town apartment and is in constant communication with his friends by telephone. Tworoger talked with him yesterday and today over the telephone. Others acknowledged that they have done so. Nobody has been found, in spite of a careful search, who will go on Cornell's bail bond. The fast friends of Cornell have been approached on the matter, but have refused to trust their money on the man who in the last municipal campaign did much to elect John F. Miller Mayor.

Berntsen, lately refused to keep his promise and surrender himself for trial, Philip Tworoger, attorney for Cornell, at noon today withdrew from the case and will have nothing to do with it.

I wish to announce to my many friends that I am now associated with the Hovenden Soule Piano Co., 106 Fifth street, next to the Perkins Hotel, where I would be pleased to meet them and others who may be interested in a piano or player piano. I might say this is not altogether a new connection, as Mr. Hovenden was one of the principal stockholders in the Allen & Gilbert Hamaker Co., with whom I was associated for over five years.

In making this announcement to my friends and the public, I wish to state we are in no way connected with any other house here, but buy our pianos direct from the manufacturers for cash and are in a position to sell for cash or reasonable terms on the lowest possible margin of profit. Our stock embraces such well-known makes as the Ivers & Pond, Behning, Melville Clark, Gables, Davenport & Tracy and others, besides the king of all player pianos, the Apollo, the original 88-note player.

I would be pleased to have you call and see me, and hear this wonderful instrument, as well as our other line of pianos.

At Last the Grand

Superb Weber Grands, Having Pianola With Metrostyle and Themodist, Successfully Combined With and Entirely Concealed Within Their Cases, Now for Sale at Eilers Piano House.

The Supreme Pianola Achievement

Six years ago the problem of incorporating the Pianola with the grand piano was first considered. Numerous patents covering many truly wonderful features were granted the Aeolian Company at that time, but it was felt that not until the later features of the metrostyle and themodist could also be embodied in this, the supreme Pianola achievement, could the manufacture of so important an instrument be taken up.

Pianola enthusiast who examined one of these instruments as they were being unpacked at Eilers Piano House yesterday exclaimed:

"To say that I am amazed is to put it mildly. I never expected to live to see the day when they would combine Grand Piano and Pianola, so that the result would be entirely satisfying to both eye and ear.

"But this is exactly what has been achieved, and the idea has been carried to a point of unquestioned perfection. I had never dreamed it possible. It is beyond question the greatest accomplishment the piano world has yet witnessed."

Now that the solution has been secured, and that in a perfectly natural, simple and artistic form, music lovers of the piano in its highest form will take additional interest in the Pianola idea.

The Weber Grand Pianola-Pianos Comprise The Weber Grand Piano, renowned for its wonderful durability and its tonal resources, the choice of Paderewski, Rosenthal and other great artists.

While various models were evolved at various times by the experimental corps of the Aeolian Company, it was not until lately that we believed an instrument had been produced coming fully and in every respect up to Aeolian Company standards, and Eilers Piano House, with characteristic promptness presents tomorrow morning

The Pianola, the standard piano-player of the world. The Metrostyle, the only authoritative guide for playing a composition as an artist plays it. The Themodist, which brings out the melody clearly above the accompaniment.

The First Weber Grand Pianola-Pianos Ever Shown in the West

These Grand Pianola Pianos now on exhibition at Eilers Piano House are at once an achievement and a revelation. An old-time

The Graduated Accompaniment, furnishing a varying background for the main theme of the composition.

And it is equipped to play the regular standard roll and also the Full Scale Roll, covering every note (88) of the entire keyboard of the piano.
