SHOW COMES TO GLORIOUS CLOSE

Display of Blooded Horses Is Seen by 11,000 People in Three Days.

CLIMAX COMES AT NIGHT

Oriental Building Is Bright With Jewels and Fine Gowns, and Judges Pass on Some of Finest Classes.

exceptional programme, marked the final day of Portland's third annual horse show. There was an assemblage in evidence last night that taxed the capacity of the big Oriental building. Had there been double the number of boxes all would have been taken, for scores of applicants had to be turned away. And in the reserved-seat sections every seat was occupied. A few people stood through the concluding

Eleven thousand was the total to which the attendance reached during the three days of the show, so it was found last night. Yesterday's total was 4000, the afternoon attendance being approximately 1500 and the night attendance 2500.

It was a brilliant scene that was presented last night, for the temperature of the show building was such as to permit the removal of wraps. Those tens of thousands of dollars' worth of fine gowns that had to remain under wraps for the most part on Thursday. wraps for the most part on Thursday and Friday night were out in full force. So the creations of the dressmakers for the first time had a fair field for competition with the creations of the horsebreeders. Society was out as a whole, and stunning gowns were the rule in the round of boxes.

Smallest Pony is Winner.

The smallest pony of the lot won the blue ribbon in the children's pony class, which was the first to appear for judgment at the matinee. The winner, Martinette, a little brown mare, measured up to 13 hands and a fraction and proved a showy animal.

Dorothea, a classy chestnut mare owned by Andrew Laidlaw, of Spokane, stepped away with the blue ribbon in the class for single harness horses, Judgment was based on true allaround action, conformation, quality and manners. Lady Tuck, Mrs. F. W. Leadbetter's black mare, was a close second.

In the class for saddle tandems the blue ribbon was captured by Miss Georgiana Leadbetter's bay maye, Bessie L., and gray gelding, Monte Cristo. Mrs. James Nicol's chestnut geldings, Laddle and Thistle, got second place. Officer's Horse Outpointed.

D. E. Frederick, of Scattle, captured the blue ribbon in the class for trot-ting pairs with his bay mares Trix and Mar. This event was followed by the judging of horses suitable for Army officers' mounts, judgment being based upon size, color, soundness, disposition unknown will be felt surging in rich red blood through the arteries and veins and life's greatest ambitions may be realized as never before. If the following special treatment is followed by those men, and women, too, who are stricken with that most dreaded of all affictions, nervous exhaustion, accompanied with such symptoms as extreme nervousness, incomnia, cold extremities, meiancholla, headaches, constipation and dyspepsia, kidney trouble, dreadful dreams of direful disasters. Initidity in venturing and a general inability to act naturally at all times as other people do. Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health and all the happibees accompanying it, the following home treatment is given. It contains no opiates or habit-forming drugs whatever. Mix it at home and no one will be the wiser as to your affilection. The treatment is simple, thorough and correct. Leading druggists supply the main tinctures, extracts and essences in one-oince bottles, ready to mix. Get three ounces syrup sarsaparilla compound, mix with one ounce compound fluid balmwort, and stand two hours. Add one ounce compound essence cardiol, and one ounce tincture cadomene compound into tracture cadomene compound into cardomene cadomene compound and cortardamomy. ship of the Pacific Coast between Credential, owned by T. J. Smith, of Vancouver, B. C., and Foxcatcher, owned by J. D. Farrell, of Seattle. Credential won with a clean leap of 8 feet 5 inches. Foxcatcher also made the leap, but knocked down the top bar, which gave the event to the Vancouver horse.

Andrew Laidlaw, the successful Spokane exhibitor, also had the satisfaction of carrying off the championship honors of the show with his Ambassador, as well as of taking second prize in this event with his handsome mare. Sunshine. Only two awards are made in championship events, and the Laidlaw entries captured both, which is a notable victory.

Exhibition driving by Miss Helen Farrell, daughter of J. D. Farrell, of Seattle, and Miss Edna Minsinger, daughter of C. Minsinger, of Portland, for which two Landsome trophies were offered, also proved a feature. Both young ladies, who are under 14 years of age, also received floral tributes. The other events were keenly relished.

Quaint Furniture

As made by the Stickley Brothers' Shops, is famous everywhere for its unusual beauty and strength. In its manufacture only the finest oak, seasoned for three years, is used. It is fumed by ammonia to a rich, permanent nut-brown color. Only the finest Spanish Morocco leather is employed in the cushions. Every piece carries our guarantee of perfect construction. The designs are all in the Craftsman spirit, but lack the crudity and heaviness of the earlier styles. Every piece is distinctive and durable in the highest degree. A carload of the Quaint Furniture has just arrived. See it while the line is full. We are also showing, for the first time in Portland, the new

Tudor Furniture

This new product of the same shops is also in fumed oak, but in design introduces some lines from the Old English Furniture of Tudor days. It is entirely out of the ordinary and lends a charming air of quaintness to Living-Room, Library or Hall.
