

COOK WILL HUNT FOR HIS RECORDS

To Abandon Lecture Tour and Try to Prove Story of Mount McKinley.

WILL INVITE SCIENTISTS

Explorer Wants Witnesses to Accompany Him to Alaska—Professor Parker Will Try to Make Ascent—Barrill Believed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Having failed in his effort to get Professor Hiram C. Parker and Anthony F. Plaia to conduct an expedition to ascend Mount McKinley, Dr. Frederick A. Cook announced here tonight that he would abandon his lecture tour as soon as possible and himself lead an expedition to ascend the mountain to obtain, if possible, the records which he says he left there in 1906. In announcing his decision, Dr. Cook said:

"I am fully determined to break off my lecture tour, complete my Arctic data for Copenhagen, and then lead an expedition to Mount McKinley to recover the records which I left there. My decision has been reached owing to the unavailability of the necessary funds in the last few days. I have not seen my lecture manager, but I believe I am bound to deliver four or five lectures next week. But although I am looking to the coast and back, I shall not go further than Minneapolis.

To Invite Scientists.

"I shall ask several unbiased scientists to accompany me and shall select a number of Swiss mountaineers to form the party. The funds will be got together without trouble—of that I am assured. However, I myself would not be able to provide all the finances necessary.

"As to my North Pole data, their completion will require six weeks or two months, but I intend to work on them day and night in order to finish them as quickly as possible. I shall not send them piecemeal, because I always have been my intention to show them in their entirety."

Parker Will Not Join.

Professor Parker stated positively this afternoon that he would have nothing to do with any expedition of Dr. Cook to Mount McKinley.

"Belmore Brown and myself will endeavor to find the top of the mountain next year," said Professor Parker, "but our expedition will not follow the route Dr. Cook says he took. If we should find Dr. Cook's records at the top, we would bring them back."

"I have read Edward Barrill's statement carefully, and from observations I made on Mount McKinley while with Dr. Cook, I believe Barrill told the exact truth."

Danish residents of Greater New York honored Dr. Cook with a dinner in Brooklyn.

COOK MAY GO INTO COURT

Consults Lawyer About Legal Aspects of Attack on Him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Neither Professor Parker nor Dr. Cook has answered Dr. Cook's invitation to lead an expedition to the top of Mount McKinley.

"I have received no replies from them yet," said the explorer. "Should neither of these scientists find himself able to undertake the expedition, I have several other names under consideration. I hope, however, they will join."

"I am now busily engaged with my legal adviser, Henry Wellington Wack," continued Dr. Cook, "in going over the legal aspects of the charges against me in connection with my Mount McKinley and my North Pole trips."

PIRATES TAKE PENNANT

Injured in a collision at third base in the first inning and both were forced to leave the game, although Morality remained until after he had hit a two-bagger in the second.

With Byrne on second and Clarke at first, Pittsburgh's manager passed a hit-and-run signal to Byrne. The third baseman started for third on the signal, but Clarke missed the ball. Byrne made a desperate slide for third and his spikes hit Morality in the leg. He was called out, but both men lay on the ground after the play. It was found that Byrne had a sprained ankle and he was carried from the field.

Shift Helps Pittsburgh.

This necessitated a shift in the Pittsburgh team and Leach was shifted to third base and Hyatt went to center field. Leach played a brilliant game at third, while Hyatt also starred.

Morality's leg bothered him, but he remained in the game until the next inning, and when he went to bat in the second he hit a two-bagger into the right field crowd, but could hardly limp to second base. O'Leary was sent in to run for him, and finished the game at third base.

The wildness of the Detroit pitchers is shown by the record of Fred Clarke. He had four bases on balls and a sacrifice hit in five times up.

Donovan Wild From First.

The outlook for Detroit was decidedly dark from the first. It could be seen that Donovan was wild, as he pitched a couple of balls to Byrne, and then hit him. Leach sacrificed, Donovan to Tom Jones, and then came the play at third which resulted in the injuries to Byrne and Morality. Clarke drew a base on balls and stole second. Wagner also drew a base on ball, and Miller forced Wagner at second, Bush to Deleahanty, ending the inning.

The poor work of Donovan was even more pronounced in the second, and Pittsburgh was presented with two runs. Abstein opened by drawing a base on balls, and stole second. Wilson bunted in front of the plate, and Abstein beat the throw to third, while Wilson was safe at first. Gibson popped to Bush, but Adams was given another pass and the bases were full. Hyatt sent a sacrifice fly to Crawford, and Abstein scored. Leach received another base on balls, and the bases were again filled. Still another pass was given to Clarke, and he forced Wilson across the plate. Cobb saved Detroit by making a great catch of a hard drive by Wagner.

Mullin Can't Stem Tide.

There was no scoring in the third, but it was prevented by a speedy don on play. Miller opened with a single to center and went to third. When Abstein drove a two-bagger into left field, Wilson hit a bouncer to Bush, and Bush's throw to Schmidt caught Miller at the plate. Abstein got too far off second base and was doubled up. Schmidt to Deleahanty. Gibson forced Wilson, Bush to Deleahanty, and the inning was ended.

Mullin went on the slab in the fourth inning, but he was unable to stem the tide of Pittsburgh. Hyatt drew a base on balls and moved to second on Leach's single to left. Clark sacrificed both runners along, Mullin to Tom Jones. Wagner was passed in order to bring up Miller. Miller upset the Detroit calculations by singling to right, scoring Hyatt and Leach and sending Wagner to third. Miller stole second, but Mullin showed a flash of his form of the previous games of the series by striking out Abstein, ending the inning.

Pittsburgh went out in order in the fifth, but scored three in the sixth. After Hyatt went out, Leach hit to left for two bases and Clarke walked. Wagner then smashed a three-bagger to left and scored on D. Jones' bad throw to third. One more run was added to the Pittsburgh total in the eighth.

Detroit threatened only two or three times. With one out in the second, Deleahanty walked and went to third on Morality's two-bagger to right, but Tom Jones and Schmidt were easy. In the fourth Deleahanty put a single to right, with one out, and O'Leary popped to Wagner. Tom Jones sent another safe hit into the same place, putting Deleahanty on second, but Schmidt's bouncer to Leach forced Deleahanty at third. Schmidt put a two-bagger to left, with two out in the seventh, and Deleahanty did the same thing with two out in the ninth, but neither man got any farther. Score in detail:

ROBS BANK TO PAY WIDOW

HARRIS GOES TO IGNORABLE END TRYING TO MAKE GOOD.

Gives Word to Widow to Settle His Shortage or Die—Dies Leaving Her $2000 in the Hole.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Lamar Harris, the Los Angeles attorney and robber, took a desperate chance of victory or death to pay a claim of $2000 held by Mrs. Ernestine Wolf and avoid threatened prosecution. In the latest attempt advanced for the man's daring attempt to rob the Highland Park Bank.

Mrs. Wolf came to Chicago from New York last night, according to the latest story told, and immediately went to Highland Park, where she identified the body of the self-slain bank robber as that of Harris, who had settled her husband's estate, and whom she had found to be $2000 short when it came to final accounting.

According to the story of Mrs. Wolf, Harris had handled about $10,000 for the last year, being $2500 from a life insurance company. When she learned that he had collected the money she demanded it, but Harris was unable to produce only $1000, and gave her a note for $2000. She had demanded payment of the note, and said that Harris had visited her in New York three weeks ago, promising to send her the money as soon as he returned to Los Angeles.

"Mrs. Wolf, I'll get you that money right away if I die in the attempt," Mrs. Wolf says the man told her when he left her in New York. That was the last Mrs. Wolf heard from him, and when the news of the robbery of Highland Park reached her she hurried to Chicago.

GANG'S WORK BETRAYED

ALDERMAN M'KENNA'S SECRETARY TURNS ON PAIS.

Shows Interest in Graft Inquiry and Madden's Labor Union Wrecking Crews.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—A full confession betraying the workings of the jury-fixing ring which has been in detail corroborated by documentary and other evidence, has been made, signed and sworn to by Nicholas J. (Nick) Martin, private secretary of Alderman Michael Madden, who is under indictment with John J. Holland, secretary and member of the Cook County Jury Commission, and Willis J. Rayburn, real estate man, on the charge of "jury-fixing."

The confession of Martin involves also the special interest which the jury-fixers' ring evinced in certain lines of official graft investigation by District Attorney Wayman and the close connection with the so-called "wrecking crew" or educational committee of certain labor unions in the control of Martin, S. (Skinny) Madden and his aides. Certain political combinations in the First, Twenty-first and other wards are also pointed to as having been interested in the jury-fixing and as parts of the general system.

In his confession Martin declared that Rayburn and Holland were direct links of the combination of which he was part. Martin declared that at regular intervals he furnished lists of names of persons who could be easily handled for fixing persons and that he received various amounts from Rayburn for such lists.

Flames Destroy Three-Story Building in Italian Colony on Sheridan Street—Firemen Fight Heroically, but Are Too Late.

Two lives were snuffed out and nine others imperiled in a fire in a tenement house in the Italian colony at 2724 Sheridan street shortly after midnight last night. Rosa Rizzi, 50 years of age, and Frank, her 20-year-old son, were overcome by smoke and suffocated while groping their way to an exit on the third floor of the frame building. Their lifeless bodies were found by Captain Jack Simpson, of English Company No. 4, after a heroic effort on the part of himself and several of his men to rescue the mother and son.

After battling with the flames for several minutes, Captain Simpson broke into the blazing building from the balcony on the third floor. He fell over the body of the woman after entering the window. At her feet lay her son. Both were dead, but evidently had battled for life for some time. The mother's face was slightly blasted by the flames. The bodies were carried from the building and after hasty examination by Dr. F. H. Dammaach, Assistant City Physician, were pronounced dead. Coroner Norden was notified and removed them to the morgue. The head of the Rizzi family, Victor Rizzi, is at present in Seattle and is ignorant of the tragic fate of his kin.

Around the neck of Mrs. Rizzi was found a scapular, and in a little bag attached to the scapular string was $100 in greenbacks, all folded up. This, the neighbors say, represents the savings for a long time.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—At a special election today Tacoma voted to adopt the commission plan of city government. The vote was light, resulting 2532 to 1002.

The new form of government will not go into effect until next April, when the usual Spring election takes place.

DIVINE SEEKS RED LIGHT

Gypsy Smith May Make Big Noise in Tenderloin.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Chief of Police Steward today granted a permit for Gypsy Smith's proposed evangelistic parade through the "red light" district of the South Side on Monday night, but he made it clear that, in his opinion, the only purpose of the parade is self-advertising. The permit was issued to the evangelist himself after a conference with the Chief.

Chief Steward will not allow the procession to move in Westworth avenue, for, he says, that is a street of small shops and residences, and a demonstration at that hour of the night will disturb residents along that thoroughfare. He will insist that the crusaders move east from the Armory in Thirty-third street to State, north to Twenty-second and then west into the proscribed district. Nor will the Chief consent to music by bands, if there be bands, until the territory of the underworld has been reached.

The procession must move quietly along State street, but will be at liberty to make as much noise as it wishes to make after entering the red light district. The Chief says the denizens of that section are not likely to be disturbed by the demonstration.
