

Dainty Soprano Soon to Sing Her Own Songs in Portland

Mabel McCane, Who Sang Here at Exposition, Will Be Heard at Orpheum in Many of Her Latest Hits.

MABEL McCANE.

MABEL McCane, the dainty entertainer and singing star, is on the Orpheum Circuit and will be seen here in the near future. Her offering includes a number of her latest song hits, such as "On the Telephone," "April Fool," "Jealous of Me," "Days of Old," and "Garden of Love's Desire." The press of the Middle West on the occasion of her recent appearance was more than lavish in its praises of her offering.

Miss McCane is a most energetic young woman and when she needs a song she makes it—just like a clever woman who wants a new dress—just makes it. She needs many new songs, too, and as she is adverse to making use of the product of the music publishers, she relies upon her own resources.

IN PORTLAND THEATERS

acted in the annals of vaudeville. The act has been brought to the Pacific Coast by Alexander Pantages for a very limited engagement at heavy expense, and packed houses have welcomed it everywhere.

The special added attraction will be the Great Buckner, famed from coast to coast and all over Europe as the most sensational cyclist in the world. His pedestal work has never been equaled by anyone of his many hundred imitators. In a ladder run from the stage to far out into the audience he makes a thrilling dash for life and besides this dare-devil feat, Buckner rides up and down a long flight of stairs and risks his life with his marvelous work.

Another act which has appeared as a topline in many of the large Eastern theaters is Seymour's Happy Family, a really remarkable collection of trained cats who play a drama entitled, "A Villain at Lunch Time," in which each little animal plays an important role.

A remarkable duo of banjoists are the Clarkes, a man and woman with wonderfully nimble fingers who pick the latest ragtime and the most difficult classical selections with equal ease. Ned Nye is a monologue comedian who is really funny and tells a half hundred truly wonderful funny stories. J. G. Mack & Co. have a comedy sketch called "My Mother-in-Law." Leo White has returned and will be heard in a new ballad.

"Lo" at Bungalow Nov. 12 and 13. The favorite comedian, John E. Young, and the excellent supporting company that was scheduled for four nights, beginning tonight (Sunday) at the Bungalow Theater, in the merry musical comedy, "Lo," have been put off until November 12 and 13, owing to the time being extended to cover several cities in the Puget Sound country, which have posted guarantees to see this brilliant offering. Portland theatergoers are promised a great treat in this musical play.

JAPANESE TROUPE AT GRAND

Kitabanzai Acrobats Topliners on Big Bill Opening Tomorrow. Only adjectives can do justice to the vaudeville programme which Sullivan & Conditine are sending to the Grand this week. This new bill opens with the matinee tomorrow. The Kitabanzai troupe of Japanese acrobats has been secured for the headline act. This is one of the most wonderful troupes of jugglers, balancers and all-around acrobats and gymnasts coming to America from the land of the Mikado. A special feature of the act is the gorgeous drop curtain used by the company. This represents a large Japanese battleship fleet under full steam. The fleet of vessels are headed straight toward the audience. Every inch of this picture is made of embroidery. It required 80 embroiderers six months to sew the curtain, which is now valued at $10,000.

"The Battle of Lly Rum" is the title of the added feature of the bill. This is a screaming farce, a kind of ocean-going travesty, for Ed Gallagher and

IRENE ARNOLD, CHILD SOUBRETTE AT THE STAR.

Lou Shehan appear as German tars. Their talk is bright and breezy and they keep up a steady fire of fun and absurdity. Something a little different from the acts usually found in vaudeville is "The Markham Divorce Case" in four acts will be presented by John Sturgeon and company. Sturgeon is a well known actor and this little playlet gives him an opportunity to appear at his best. It is also a new idea on the divorce question.

Steeley and Edwards are musicians who have made a name for themselves over the circuit. Those who appreciate melody will especially like the act "Herald Square Jimmy," a sketch of life on the East Side, New York, will be given by Dick and Alice McAvoy, Dorothy Dahl, a stouff comedienne, will appear and there will be an illustrated song and motion pictures.

Splendid Bill to Open With Matinee at 1 o'clock This Afternoon. The best blended show that the Star Theater has yet presented to its patrons will be in with today's matinee. Each picture presented will be of a nature that does all but talk. The acting in each is superb and there can be no mistake in the meaning intended to be conveyed by the various actors engaged by the different companies. That which is the best on the bill is a historical production entitled "Unrequited Love," which is so gripping in its power that it cannot fail to bring forth a sigh of a tear.

Another very great offering produced by the Vitagraph Company will be "Entombed Alive," being a presentation of an Italian love romance. In order to have this bill perfectly blended and offer something of a lighter nature the Star management has been able to secure a costume comedietta, "All Je Fair in Love," produced by the Edison Company, and another Edison picture entitled "The Three Kisses," and very humorous in character. These four great subjects, handled exquisitely from a photographic point of view, will be supplemented by new pictorial views and an illustrated song just recently published in the East, and other extra attractions engaged especially for the patrons of the Star Theater. The doors will be opened at 1 o'clock and the performance will be continuously until 11 o'clock and the management is confident that the entire bill will afford to its patrons complete satisfaction.

"THE TALK OF NEW YORK"

Victor Moore in Famous Musical Success at Bungalow Next Sunday.

The attraction to occupy the stage of the Bungalow Theater, Twelfth and Morrison street, for four nights, beginning next Sunday, November 7, with a special-price matinee Wednesday, will be George M. Cohan's musical play, "The Talk of New York," in which Cohan & Harris introduce as a star Victor Moore, who will be recalled for his delightful conception of the role of Kid Burns in "45 Minutes From Broadway." In "The Talk of New York" the character of Kid Burns is continued, but with an entirely different environment. In this new play the kid is discovered at the Sheephead Bay racetrack, where he has succeeded in running a $5 bill into a fortune. "The Talk of New York" is written in four acts, the first showing an exterior of the clubhouse at Sheephead Bay; the second, the lobby of the Hotel Astor, New York City; the third, the booth lawn at Claremont on White Plains, New York City, and the fourth, the home of Kid Burns at New Rochelle.

"Honeymoon Trail" at Baker.

Mabel Melvine, the prima donna of the brilliant musical success, "Honeymoon Trail," which will open next Sunday at the Baker for the week, possesses a voice of remarkable sweetness, as well as a delightful personality. Her first appearance was made with George Sidney, the comedian, with whom she played leading roles for several seasons, where, her singing soon attracted the attention of the big manager, and she was quickly engaged to appear in "The Time, the Place and the Girl" company in Chicago and New York. In both of these cities she made an instantaneous hit, and she is now recognized as one of the leading prima donnas in the musical comedy field.

Atlantic Turkey had a civilization thousands of years ago. The interior of that country is populated today by farmers to whom modern knives and forks are unknown. The spoons they use are of wood and each family makes its own.

The Chilean Minister of the Navy has been authorized to advertise for bids for the construction of a drydock at Talcahuano large enough to accommodate war vessels of from 15,000 to 20,000 tons. It is estimated it will cost about $2,800,000.
