A GROWING INDUSTRY

About three years ago V. E. Campbell, then residing in Goldendale, Washington, exhibited in the office of the Oregonian his first Automatic Gas Cut-off, a device of which was made in the columns of this paper at the time, and later the same device was attached to a jet in the office of the Portland Gas Company, in this city, and was also demonstrated during the last few days of the Lewis and Clark Exposition in the space occupied by the Fairbanks-Morse Company, in the Machinery building.

CAMPBELL AUTOMATIC SAFETY GAS BURNER CO.

Patents having been obtained on the device, a company was organized for the purpose of manufacturing the devices, with a capital stock of $500,000, and Portland was decided on as the city in which to develop the industry.

AWARDED GOLD MEDAL

The attention of certain Californians having been called to the invention, Mr. Campbell was invited to visit San Francisco, for the purpose of demonstrating the utility of the device, with a view, if found practicable, of enlisting capital in the enterprise.

Automatic Self-Closing Valves for Liquid and Gaseous Fuel Burners

The company again took up the work, which has been pressed forward as fast as conditions made it possible, and now the company has purchased all of block 16, at the corner of Twenty-second and Thurman streets, with a three-story factory building, covering a floor space of 29,520 square feet and equipped with the best tool and die-making machinery on the Pacific Coast.

Practically every part of these devices will be manufactured here, and a large force of skilled and unskilled labor will be constantly employed.

The officers and directors are all well-known business men, and the future prospects of this company appear without a cloud.

The company made an exhibit of their devices as applied to gas-burners and gasoline stoves, in the Machinery Hall at Seattle during the A-Y-P Exposition, and was awarded the highest award gold medal for all of their automatic devices, a cut of which appears for the first time in today's issue of this paper.

The company has withdrawn its stock from sale while selling 100 per cent above par, and Portland holders of this stock are being congratulated on their investment.
