Never a Better Holiday Showing of Furniture than this Season

We've made preparations months and months ahead—planned to make this the most complete, the greatest Christmas showing of furniture the store has ever known. Thousands of feet given over entirely to its display—grouped and arranged to the best possible advantage—meaning that selection can be made here with ease and comfort. To go from floor to floor is to become convinced that surely here is a representative showing of Christmas-gift pieces. Just a few in the way of suggestion:

The quaint designs in the fumed oak—the large, comfortable leather-upholstered arm chairs and rockers; the library tables and home desks, the many little inexpensive pieces—stools, stands, umbrella stands, etc. The music cabinets, in mahogany, golden oak and walnut; in design and finish to match any piano. The home desks, in all finishes and styles, from the massive Colonial in mahogany to the dainty style in birds-eye maple. And the arm chairs and arm rockers—there's endless range of styles and prices—in mahogany, in golden oak and the less expensive woods. Some very pretty styles in the Windsor and Colonial patterns, with wood or rush seats. The leather-upholstered arm chairs, Turkish rockers and arm rockers—you know what splendid gift-pieces are these.
