determined to walk to Denver in 17 days small, almost frail, garbed like a gypsy, she plowed pluckily through snow above her sheetops during much of her journey of the last few days.

During the long journey she lost count of the days and when she arrived at Hartville Junction, 120 miles north of Cheyenne, she believed she was a day behind her schedule. To make up this supposed lost time, she decided to walk to Cheyenne without rest. A storm was raging Thursday morning when she left the junction, but she was not daunted and plodded along all day Thursday and Thursday night through the increasing storm. By the time she arrived here her drawn features gave her a pathetic appearance.

MRS. JOSEPH DREXEL GIVES STRADIVARIUS TO BOY.

Violin Is Bought of Widow of Late Antonine Dvorak, Noted Composer.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 4.—(Special.)—Few violinists, even after they become great, own a real Stradivarius, but this good fortune has fallen to Domanico Bove, a young Italian of this city, whose career, many believe, will rival Kubelik's Most interesting of all is the fact that this musical treasure was the property of the late Antonine Dvorak, the composer, from whose widow the violin was recently purchased by Mrs. Joseph Drexel and by her presented to the youthful Bove.

Mrs. Drexel is widely known as a pat-ron of music and interested as she has been in the young violinist's career it is but natural that she should choose him for the honor of owning a Stradivarius. It is whispered that Mrs. Drexel paid $15.000 for the instrument which gives an $15,000 for the instrument, which gives an idea of what such a gift means in prosale dollars and cents. Mrs. Drexel made light of the matter when asked today about the gift.

Bove is now in Prague, Bohemia, where it is understood the violin was transmitted to him. Madame Dvorak resides in

A Trial Box Free.

THE DOCTORS call it flatulency, but unprofessional folks know it as "wind on the stomach," and a most distressing state of things it is. It is a serious condition of this great motor organ. Always annoying and painful in the extreme, at times often leading to bad and fatal results. The stomach embarrassed and hampered with winds cannot take care of its food properly and indigestion follows, and this has a train too appailing to enumerate. The entire system is implicated—made an active or passive factor in this trouble and life soon becomes a questionable boon.

ALL THIS IS EXPLAINED in doctor books; how undigested food causes gasses by fermentation and fomentagasses by fermentation and fomentation in which process some essential fluids are destroyed — burnt up — wasted by chemical action, followed by defective nutrition and the distribution through the alimentary tra.. o. chemically wrong elements and as a consequence the stomach and entire system is starved. Plenty of food, you see, but spoilt in preparation and worse than worthless.

A DERANGED STOMACH is the epitome of evil: nothing too bad to ems-tome of evil; nothing too bad to ema-nate from it, but the gas it generates is probably its worst primary effect and is probably its worst primary effect and the only way to do away with this is to remove the cause. STUART'S DYSPEP-SIA TABLETS go to the root of this trouble. They attack the gas-making foods and render them harmless. Flatulency or wind on the stomach simply cannot exist where these powerful and wonder-working little tablets are in evidence. THEY WERE MADE for this were THEY WERE MADE for this very purpose to attack gas-making foods and convert them into proper nutriment. This is their province and office. A whole book could be written about them and then not all told that might be told with profit to sufferers from this painful disease, dyspepsia. It would mention the years of nations and expensive experiment in effort patient and expensive experiment in effort to arrive at this result—of failures in-numerable and at last success. It would numerative and at last success. It would make mention of the different stomach correctives that enter into this tablet and make it faithfully represent all. STUARTS DYSPEPSIA TABLETS are not alone intended for the sick, but well Yolks as well; for the person who craves hearty foods and wants to eat heartily and run no risk of bad effects, they act like a charm and make eating and diges-tion a delight and pleasure. They keep the stomach active and energetic and able and willing to do extra work without spe-cial labor or effort. Don't forget this. Well people are often neglected, but the STUART DYSPEPSIA TABLETS have
