

Mr. Mann, Miss Lisa Wood and Miss Olive Felling. Presiding at the dining-room table were Mrs. I. H. Amos, Miss Sally Lewis, Mrs. George MacMahon and Mrs. J. W. Cook. Circulating about the large drawing-room were Mrs. Arthur Minott, Miss Flanders, Miss Louise Flanders, Mrs. B. G. Whitehouse, Mrs. John McCracken, Mrs. Edward Felling, Mrs. Charles Scadding, Mrs. Francis Seeley, Mrs. Francis J. Bailey, Mrs. Wells Gilbert, Mrs. William Mattorn, Mrs. George French, Mrs. H. D. Green, Mrs. T. T. Strain, Mrs. Alfred Tucker, Mrs. S. B. Luthicum, Mrs. William Blakely, Mrs. William Harrison, Mrs. K. A. J. Mackenzie, Mrs. T. G. Halley and Mrs. C. Adams. Lunch was served by Mrs. Henry Hewett, with the following helpers: Miss Gene Morrison, Miss Margaret Hewett, Miss Dorothy Huber and Miss Winifred London.

Mr. Thomas Scott Brooke was a dinner and theater host on Friday evening, entertaining for Miss Margaret Walter and her fiancé, Joseph Bradley. The dinner was given at the Hotel Portland grill and a box party followed at the Orpheum. Mr. Brooke's guests were Miss Lisa Wood, Miss Caroline Burns, Miss Josephine Smith, Miss Dorothy Morrison, Miss Frances Wilson, Antoinette Labbe, Hawley Hoffman, Maxwell Wood, Joseph Bradley and Mr. Smith.

Ronald Mackenzie, the eldest son of Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, has returned for the holidays. He has been for some months employed in the Deschutes country, but at the beginning of the second semester at the University of Oregon, will re-enter college.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCracken have decided to remain at the Hotel Nortonia until after the holidays. On Monday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCracken, who came down from their ranch near White Salmon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde N. Perkins, whose wedding occurred early in November, are now domiciled for the winter in a cottage at 835 Thurman street.

The engagement of Louis Lang and Miss Alice Lehr, of San Francisco, was announced last week. Mr. Lang is the president of Lang & Company, and a brother of I. Lang and Henry Lang. Miss Lehr was born in San Francisco, but was educated in Europe. The wedding will take place January 12.

Dr. A. C. Pantun has returned from a two months' visit in Boston.

R. P. Noble, who has made his home in Portland for the last two years, has returned to Chicago.

Joseph Tyler, of Spokane, the well-known tennis player, formerly of Seattle, has been a recent visitor at the Hotel Portland.

Mrs. Belle Oppenheimer, of Olympia, Wash., is the guest of Mrs. J. Kauffman.

The sale of Red Cross stamps has been tremendously successful the past week, and in spite of the proximity of Christmas philanthropic women and girls have devoted much time and energy to the cause. The public has responded generously, contributions in many cases coming from unexpected sources. In connection with the work there have been many amusing incidents, as well as pathetic touches. An old farmer went into Olds, Wortman & King's to exchange 10 cents' worth of Red Cross stamps, saying: "Please give me a dime's worth of them fancy postal cards for 'em, the folks to home think they ain't pretty enough by gum." At another booth a small lad approached, holding three pennies in his grimy hand, "You cure consumption, don't you?" he asked with a note of pathos. "My mama's got it."

Miss Alice Lloyd, the English comedienne who is appearing at the Orpheum, donated her services yesterday at the Hotel Portland from 12 till 1 o'clock and made record sales. With Mrs. Edward Howe, the actress passed through the grill at the luncheon hour and convinced all present with her "talking" ways. One bachelor who had bought generously of stamps offered to help along the cause by paying a dollar for a single violet of the dainty comedienne's corsage bouquet.

Mr. Fred Greenwood left last night for San Francisco to be present at the Bohemian Club Christmas dinner. He had planned to leave earlier this week to be a host at a dinner the opening night of the new Palace Hotel, but was detained by business. Mr. Drake C. O'Reilly and Ion Lewis also left last week for San Francisco, where they will spend the holidays.

Mrs. Caroline Donaldson-Griffith has closed her suburban residence, and is now at the Hotel Nortonia for the winter.

The brilliant flood of sunshine on Thursday brought out many callers at the handsome new home of Mrs. E. L. Thompson, on Portland Heights, at which time she gave a large reception for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lewis Irvine Thompson. Mrs. Thompson is a recent bride, and was formerly Miss Sadie Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jackson. Several hundred guests were entertained by the hostess, her honor guest, and Mrs. Allan B. Slauson. Circulating about the drawing-rooms were a bevy of matrons, but in the dining-rooms, the maids did the serving. The receiving line stood in a drawing-room fashioned after the Louis XVI period. Harmonizing with the delicate tapestries were long-stemmed pink chrysanthemums and bridesmaid buds. The hall was banked with palms and in the upper hall the orchestra was stationed. In the dining-room of the Elizabethan period the flowers were a profusion of vivid yellow chrysanthemums against an effective roll of old blue and gold tapestries. Serving at the round table were: Mrs. Walter V. Smith, Mrs. David Shindler, Mrs. J. N. Teal and Mrs. James D. Hart. In the large drawing-room with dull green hangings, the flowers were scarlet carnations and poinsettias. Circulating about the various rooms were Mrs. Adolphe Dekum, Miss Marshall, Mrs. E. L. Hartman, Miss Vida Marshall, Mrs. C. R. Templeton and Mrs. Herbert Holman. Mrs. Thompson received in a gown of pame apricot crepe, attired with gold sequins; Mrs. Lewis Thompson, in a gown of deep cream, with Irish lace, and Mrs. Slauson, in gray voile with violets. Mrs. Shindler appeared in a pastel blue satin, Mrs. Teal was in a turquoise shade of chiffon, with an overdress of black jet. Mrs. Herbert Holman wore a gown of pink chiffon; Mrs. James Hart, white lace, with orchids; Mrs. Hartman, gray crepe de chine; Mrs. Adolphe Dekum, delicate blue crepe, with princess lace; Miss Marshall, in a French gown of broad order chiffon crepe, and Miss Vida Marshall, in a coral panne velvet of foreign make.

About 60 of the young people will give a ball New Year's eve at the Concordia Club, which will be of a more informal nature this year, taking the place of the usual elaborate ball given at that time.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Hill will leave the first of the week for Shoemaker, N. M., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Morris Van Houten. Dr. Hill will later visit in Washington, D. C.

soon for Mexico to spend the rest of the winter.

The reception given on Monday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A., celebrating the opening of the new building, was an event of some social prominence. The building is wonderfully artistic, especially the great lobby, with its handsome paintings, its early English furnishings and tapestries of rich golden bronze tints. Several hundred visitors called to inspect the new building, which brought forth many compliments. Tea was served in the huge auditorium. In the center of the room the tea table was placed, and with its elaborate lace covering, bright masses of Christmas holly and unshaded brass candlesticks, the effect resembled somewhat a handsome old feudal table. Different matrons presided at the tea table during the afternoon, among them being Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph, Mrs. H. W. Corbett, Mrs. H. W. Coe, Mrs. A. L. Veazie, Mrs. Thomas Roberts and Mrs. Jesse Honeyman. In the receiving line were: Mrs.

A. E. Rockey, chairman; Mrs. W. M. Ladd, Mrs. Robert Livingston, Mrs. A. L. Veazie, Mrs. Fletcher Linn, Mrs. I. H. Amos, Mrs. A. L. Smith, Mrs. R. F. Barnes, Mrs. C. M. Wooncott, Mrs. H. W. Stone, Mrs. Philip Buchner, Mrs. M. Walton, Mrs. W. Y. Masters, Mrs. Fletcher Linn, Mrs. Frank Dayton, Mrs. Thomas Roberts, Mrs. S. A. Brown, Mrs. James F. Felling, Mrs. Ralph Wilbur, Mrs. R. B. Perkins, Mrs. J. C. Clark, Mrs. A. M. Griley and Mrs. A. R. Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Logan have returned from a several weeks' visit in California. Mr. Logan, who was in poor health, has greatly benefited by the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Elmore, of Astoria, have gone to California, where it is thought the change will prove beneficial to Mrs. Elmore, who has been in ill health the past year. Mr. and Mrs. Elmore purchased a new motor car and will tour California points of interest.
