

PACKING INQUIRY SEEKS BIG GAME

Dissolution of National Company One of Chief Objects of Prosecution.

CASES WILL BE PRESSED

Contempt Proceedings Likely and Criminal Action Regarded as Probable - Sims to Take Charge in Person.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—(Special).—Big game will be hunted in the alleged beef trust investigation by the Federal grand jury which will convene in Chicago next Monday, and the Government's pack will seek to drive the quarry behind the steel doors of the Federal penitentiary.

The National Packing Company, a holding concern, owned chiefly by J. Ogden Armour, Edward Morris and Edward P. Swift, will be the object of attack from two directions. A suit brought under the Sherman anti-trust law will ask that the concern be dissolved as a trust. Another possibility is the criminal prosecution of the officers of the company.

Witnesses are waiting. United States District Attorney Edwin W. Sims refused today to disclose the nature of his future plans and the evidence upon which the actions will be brought by the Government Monday, but it was learned from other sources that a mass of evidence suitable for use in the criminal action has been brought together by an investigation covering a year and a half.

Packers are silent. J. Ogden Armour, reported to be one of the heaviest stockholders in the National Packing Company, and, if that be true, one of the first to face prosecution by Government agents in the criminal statutes, returned from New York this morning.

It is said on high authority that the Government will start the fight against packers just as soon as the grand jury meets Monday. The investigation will be put over or handled elsewhere, and it is generally understood that District Attorney Sims will take personal charge of the case, assisted by Special Assistant United States District Attorney James S. Wilkerson and other members of his staff.

"Biggest Game" Sought. On the same authority it is asserted that the suit to dissolve the National Packing Company, the $15,000,000 corporation formed in March, 1903, arose from the investigation into alleged rebating started by the Government a year ago in connection with railroad shipments by Morris & Co. These officers are also officers of the National Packing Company. The investigation was dropped suddenly, and the reason was not given out. It now appears that the Government searchers, "being hunting for small game with bird shot," found evidences of big game and quit, going back for a heavier gun, as one official expressed it.

Three Methods in Reserve. In the Federal attack upon the packers the following three methods will be used successively unless results are obtained early in movement.

First—Criminal prosecution for alleged violation of the anti-trust law. Second—Civil action for the dissolution of the National Packing Company. Third—Contempt proceedings against the packers for alleged violation of Judge Grosscup's injunction restraining them from fixing prices and restraining trade.

The criminal line of procedure will be taken up first, and this will rest in its inception directly upon the shoulders of the members of the grand jury. Should the jury return indictments the District Attorney will attempt to send big business men to the Federal penitentiary.

RAILROAD FIGHT IS ENDED (Continued From First Page.) that construction work will be seriously retarded the old contest is likely to be resumed, but this contingency is considered as remote that the agreement is practically in force.

Both roads have made concessions in the adjustment of the conflict. The Harriman line has surveyed lines that jump the river several times in the lower canyon but now agrees to remain wholly on the east side for 70 miles. Between Celilo and the mouth of the Deschutes, the Oregon Trunk Line will have about four miles of road on the south bank of the Columbia, part of which will cross lands owned by the O. R. & N. The necessary right-of-way will be granted by the O. R. & N. to the Oregon Trunk Line.

Crooked River Crossing was one of the points where the Oregon Trunk Line pushed workmen to begin blasting approaches for a bridge site. This was at the point where the Harriman road had planned to cross. Crooked River, in that locality, cuts a deep and narrow canyon across a level plain. The distance across this canyon, which is about 350 feet deep, with precipitous rock walls, varies from 250 to more than 400 feet. The best bridge site was at a point between canyon walls, and this narrow piece was the bone of contention between the two roads. Under the terms of the agreement the bridge that will be constructed by the Oregon Trunk Line will be completed by both roads and it will probably be double tracked for that purpose. The Oregon Trunk Line also makes numerous concessions south of Madras and south of Crooked River, where the surveys have heretofore conflicted. Adjustment Reached in Chicago.

The adjustment of differences was reached at a conference in Chicago at which W. W. Cotton, general counsel, and G. W. Boschke, chief engineer, represented the Harriman road, and John F. Stevens, president, represented the Oregon Trunk Line. Mr. Cotton and Mr. Stevens returned to Portland yesterday. They gave out the following official statement:

"At a conference of the officials of the Deschutes Railroad Company and the Oregon Trunk Railroad Company, held in Chicago last week, all differences between the two companies in regard to right-of-way and entrance into the Oregon via the Deschutes Valley were settled to the mutual satisfaction of each party.

"Under this agreement the Deschutes Company will occupy the east side of the river and the Oregon Trunk Company the west side of the lower valley, 70 miles south from the mouth of the Columbia River, each company relinquishing its rights on the side to be occupied by the other.

"The Deschutes Company will, through the O. R. & N. Co., grant the Oregon Trunk a crossing over the O. R. & N. line at Celilo, and will also convey to the Oregon Trunk the right of way through the lands of the O. R. & N. Co. along the Columbia River. The Oregon Trunk will complete its line along the east side of the Deschutes River opposite the Warm Springs Indian Reservation, taking over from the Deschutes Company whatever rights or property the latter may have acquired on the east side of the river. The Deschutes Company will occupy the west bank of the river for twelve miles through the Warm Springs Reservation, the grades of the two lines will be separated at points where they cross each other.

Hill Makes Grant. "The Oregon Trunk Company will grant to the Deschutes Company the right to use the bridge of the Oregon Trunk Company across Crooked River; and at all other points in the vicinity of Crooked River and south of Madras, where conflicts have existed arrangements for independent right of way have been agreed upon.

"All of this arrangement is subject to and conditioned upon the prompt and complete approval by the chief officers of the Interior Department of the maps of the relinquished lines of the Deschutes Company through the Warm Springs Indian Reservation on a water-level grade.

The agreement settles a controversy that threatened to develop into personal violence between crews engaged in construction work in the Deschutes Canyon. Last Summer Twohy Brothers contractor, built an expensive wagon road down the east side of the canyon from a point 13 miles west of Grass Valley. Porter Brothers, Oregon, with a heavy advance in average values per head at the same time. Cattle other than milk cows, total 48,780,000 head, worth on an average $20.75 each. ANTI-MEAT CAUSE GAINING CONVERTS

Setbacks Come, However, From Towns Where Prosperity Is Unbounded.

WOMEN PROMISE ACTION

Fraternal Societies Agree to Partial Abstinance—Farmers Have Been Benefited by High Prices Paid for Livestock.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Although the movement to combat the high price of food continued its spread today, there is little indication of a decrease in the price of meat. Milwaukee, which reported a big decrease in prices quoted by the butchers yesterday, today showed a general reduction in many places. None of the other cities reported any reduction, however.

The most noteworthy acquisition to the ranks of the anti-meat cause came from Louisville, where twenty-one lodges of a fraternal organization, adopted resolutions that all members refrain from eating meat more than once a week. The Women's Trade Union League and the Building Trades Council of St. Louis announced today that they would take action against the high price of meat next week.

Crusade Meets Setbacks. Indianapolis, St. Paul and Toledo reported that attempts to launch a crusade against prevailing high prices in those cities had failed. From Chicago came the report that Labor Commissioner McEwen had declared the inhabitants of Minnesota were too prosperous to feel the effects of the high prices.

Aprons of the movement the average farmer says that 1909 was the most prosperous year ever known in the livestock-raising history, according to Government statistics. "The total value on all classes of livestock in the country on January 1, 1910, was $4,880,000,000," says a prominent stock paper. "The year 1909 was the greatest in number of head in 12 months amounting to $600,000,000."

BRIDGE PLANS ARRIVE

CONFERENCE AT CITY HALL SET FOR TOMORROW. Officials, After Inspection, Favor Hoyt Street as Landing Place for Broadway Span.

Preliminary plans for the approaches to the Broadway bridge were received by Mayor Simon yesterday afternoon from Consulting Engineer Modjeski, of Chicago, and tomorrow morning a consultation will be held in the Mayor's office concerning these. Councilmen Menefee and Ellis and City Engineer Morris will be present. These are not the plans for the portion of the project concerning which the United States Engineers must be consulted, but simply for the approaches and the span up to the harbor line.

Mayor Simon, Councilmen Menefee and Ellis and City Engineer Morris yesterday morning made an inspection of the terminal yards and North Seventh street, where will be the western terminus of the bridge, in order to get an idea of how the big structure is going to land. It is believed by the officials that it will be best to make Hoyt street the landing place for the main approach, as that point affords good outlets in three directions. Irving street had originally been decided upon, but there is only two outlets—Seventh and west on Irving. In order to make the bridge 70 feet wide, if that width is decided upon, it will be necessary to secure a strip ten feet wide on the block between Hoyt and Irving. Relative to the plans for carrying the superstructure over the terminal yards, two propositions are being considered. Whether space for a pier can be secured from the company in the heart of the yard district is doubtful; if it cannot be had, it will be necessary to build the main span 435 feet long, which will cost more than it would if the bridge could rest on a pier. These points will be taken up by the terminal officials when the plans reach the Mayor.

Mayor Simon is anxious to proceed rapidly with the construction of this bridge, and wishes, as do his associates in the undertaking, to avoid as much as possible
