TOLD SHE IS AN ORATOR

Judge Parker Compliments Abigail Scott Duniway.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan. 19.—(To the Editor.)—Remembering a pledge to home constituents on the eve of my hurried departure for the Conservation Congress, which has closed its session just now, I hasten to my apartments at the Arlington to comment, as best I can, the day's doings for The Oregonian's many thousands of women readers.

Again passing over the brevities which have reached The Oregonian, I come to the points of interest in connection with the omnipresent and ever-intruding woman question which, like the ghost of Banquo, will down at the bidding of nobody. Although our resolution asking that the 44 states represented in the conference be requested to appoint an auxiliary commission from each state, consisting of two married women and one married man, to study into and compile statistics bearing upon the stability of the marriage relation and the cause and cure of the divorce evil, was ruled out on first presentation by objection of Mr. McFarland, chairman of the committee on resolutions, and afterwards snubbed by Seth Low, of New York, temporary chairman, at the 5 o'clock P. M. session on January 18.

I had the honor of appearing before the conference the next day, where, by courtesy of Judge Alton E. Parker, the presiding officer, I was invited to read said resolution with its whereases in full, and present my argument, which was received with gratifying and general approval by the house, the two great "reformers," Low and McFarland, not being present. My attitude toward the resolution was ably sustained by M. C. Reed, a delegate from Oregon, and member of the committee on resolutions, who explained that it would surely have been in proper form if the author's belated train from the Far West had been on time. Judge Parker ruled that the matter be made part of the official record, and said to me at the close of the final adjournment: "Madam, you are a natural orator, but you don't know it."

So, yes, I have known it for 40 years. "It is the East that doesn't know it." An enthusiastic encomium on Oregon and her apples followed, and the courtesy of Judge Parker's words, kindly countenance and hearty handshakes remains with me like a benediction as I write the course was honored in the forenoon by a pleasing address from Kip Kirtland, of Georgia, asking that the Governors of all states would impress upon their constituents the fact that women, who are one half of the people, be admitted to full recognition in all the future deliberations of the conference body. A sub-committee from New York was received during the day, representing the State Suffrage League of Self-Supporting Women, with Harriet Stanton Blatch, daughter of Elizabeth Cady Stanton at its head, who upon the floor of Governor Hughes of New York, supported by Governor Ford of New Jersey, and Governor Shafroth of Colorado, presented a three minute paper, stating that New York women, for instance, look with emotions of dissatisfaction upon the full political privileges accorded to the women of the four enfranchised states, functions which are still denied to the women of the rest of the Union, and asked that a committee be appointed to make an extensive study of woman's part in the political and industrial life of the various states, and make a report upon it at the next annual meeting. This request, like that from the women of Oregon, went into the official record, and will doubtless receive due consideration a year hence.

January 20.—A hurried visit to the National Capitol this morning brought me at noon into cordial greetings with Hon. H. H. Gilfrey, Chief Clerk of the Senate, and a little later with Senators Bourne and Chamberlain and Congressman Ellis and Hawley, whom I found ready and willing to accord me every courtesy the duties of the two Houses permitted. My stay was too brief to permit much conversation, but each gentleman expressed his cordial approval of Oregon's pending amendment to prohibit the disfranchising of any tax-paying citizen on account of sex; and all agreed with the undersigned that Oregon has a splendid opportunity to head the movement for the enfranchisement of women at the coming general election, with no matter what may be the opposition against it in other states, in gathering daily a momentum which will endure in any part of the civilized world.

Let Oregon be true to her motto.

Halsey Bothered by Gypsies. HALSEY, Or., Jan. 23.—Halsey's city officers are having their hands full trying to settle the troubles of a band of gipsy horse traders, who came to town a few days ago. One of the latter named Sid Williams got into an altercation with a man at Eugene before coming here, and was arrested. He escaped, coming to Halsey. Thursday night a Deputy Sheriff from Eugene came, and returned on the morning train with his man. John Rhodes, another member of the gang, was arrested here for drunkenness Thursday and fined $7.50. Then they got into a quarrel among themselves over four horses, which four of them claim. Justice Perry ordered the horses held at the feed stable until this dispute could be settled.

Steinway and Other Pianos Victor Talking Machines Sherman Clay & Co. SIXTH AND MORRISON OPPOSITE POSTOFFICE

You Can't Buy an Inferior Steinway

Whether You Pay $575 or $2500 for a Steinway Piano the Quality of the Inside of the Instrument Is One and the Same.

Enormously wealthy people purchase Steinway Pianos, because money can buy no other that can equal them. They have them elaborately cased, in rare woods, with fine art decorations, and pay the cost, however great. But the instruments themselves are not a whit different inside—musically—from those of their modest neighbors, costing $575.

THEREFORE:

You can own a Steinway as good as the best. There is no such thing as an inferior Steinway.

If you do not care for an expensive case you can have all that is in any Steinway—brilliancy, delicacy of touch, exquisite voicing, unlimited durability—for $575.

Vertegrand (Ebony) $575 Miniature Grand $850

Let us show you some styles of Steinways.

Notice—In a few days we shall be able to announce the arrival of a new instrument—the Steinway Pianola.

Sherman, Clay & Co. are exclusive Pacific Coast representatives of the Steinway Piano.
