

Mrs. Whitehouse, Mrs. Gordon Vorhies, Mrs. William Mac Master, Mrs. Marion P. Maus, of Vancouver Barracks; Mrs. Charles Scadding and Mrs. William Baker, of Detroit.

Mrs. George S. Whitehouse entertained with five tables of bridge on Wednesday afternoon at her Northrup-street residence. Mrs. Marion Dolph received a filigree perfume bottle, and Miss Rhoda Failing a silver desk knife for the highest scores. Mrs. Whitehouse's guests included Mrs. J. J. Andre Poulleux, Mrs. Samuel M. Meers, Mrs. E. C. Meers, Miss May Failing, Miss Rhoda Failing, Mrs. Marion P. Maus, Mrs. Guy W. Talbot, Mrs. George F. Russell, Mrs. John E. Young, Miss Olga Von Destine, Mrs. Frank E. Hart, Mrs. Robert Washburne, of Southern Oregon; Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, Mrs. Louis H. Turpley, Mrs. Fred H. Page, Mrs. David A. Shindler, Mrs. David C. Lewis, Mrs. Ole B. Wright, Mrs. Harrison Corbett and Mrs. Frederick G. Wheeler.

The Pacific Union Club, of San Francisco, is soon to erect new quarters on the site of the old Flood mansion, opposite the Fairmont Hotel. Miss Elsie De Wolfe, of New York, is to have full supervision of the furnishings and decorations of the interior and she is now in San Francisco consulting with the architect. This is a comparatively new departure for the former actress, but she has been wonderfully successful in this field. She was at one time a star in Frohman's galaxy, but is now wholly absorbed with decorative work.

Alfred R. Kelly, of San Francisco, president of the National Oil Company, with Mrs. Kelly, has spent the past week at the Hotel Portland. Mrs. Kelly was a Miss Kelly, daughter of the late Patrick Kelly, and a sister of Mrs. John M. Gearn and Mrs. Charlotte A. Trimble. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly will leave the first of March for a two or three years' tour of Europe.

William R. Moore is now at Pasadena, Cal., for his health.

Mrs. I. N. Lipman was hostess this week to the Fortnightly Bridge Club, the members of which include Mrs. I. N. Fleischer, Mrs. Rose Sellinger, Mrs. Charles Kohn, Mrs. Julius Meier, Mrs. Adolph Wolfe, Mrs. I. Lang, Mrs. Gustave Simon, Mrs. S. Steinhardt, Mrs. Marcus A. Fleischer, Mrs. Leon Hirsch and Mrs. Philip Gostinsky, of San Francisco.

Mrs. James G. Woodworth, of St. Paul, will visit this week with Miss Maud Alsworth and Mrs. Ralph Jenkins at their home on Portland Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ehrman are expected home today from a visit of several months in the East and South. Mr. and Mrs. Ehrman visited their old home in Baltimore, also visiting in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and with their son, Maud Ehrman, who is at Yale.

Miss Beatrice Wilson, a Portland child pianist, has recently been entertained in Washington, D. C. She is to leave for Europe soon, accompanied by her parents, to complete her musical studies, and a brilliant future is predicted for her.

Miss Kate Holman asked in a few guests to tea on Tuesday to meet Mrs. George F. Cartwright, of London.

For Mrs. George Cartwright, of London, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McCully were bridge hosts on Tuesday evening. Accepting were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Holman, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Lyman, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. M. Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hathaway, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Rumelin, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Froelich, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Casswell, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Fogarty.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Henry, who have been visiting in Honolulu, entertained at dinner on January 22, having a few Oregonians as guests. Place cards were made of tapa, and contained Oregon and Hawaiian views. Those present were Miss Helen Van Schuyver, Miss Caroline Benson and Mr. Edward Dekum.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Campbell will be hosts at a dinner of ten covers this evening at the Majestic Apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Polk Smith have returned from a six months' trip, during which they toured Canada, the principal cities of the United States and Old Mexico. Mrs. Smith was formerly Miss Letta Florence Lewis.

Mrs. Willard Metcalf Beam (Mary Adele Case), whose affairs de couer have been kept vividly in the public eye, it is said, intends to give a recital in San Francisco in April. In another year she will appear in grand opera as she planned during her training abroad.

Appropos of music, Countess Marguerite Cassini, daughter of the former Russian Ambassador at Washington, is said to have created a sensation in Paris, when she recently appeared on the concert stage. This handsome young countess, who was one of the intimates of Alice Roosevelt's coterie, not long since announced that she would retire to a convent, but has doubtless changed her mind. When her father was transferred to Spain the countess took apartments in Paris and devoted herself to music. She is contemplating an engagement in America, which will no doubt prove remunerative through sheer curiosity. The officers of Vancouver Barracks entertained with a dancing party Tuesday evening at the post gymnasium. American flags covered the great room and music was played by the military band. Miss Dorothy Morrison went over for the dance and remained the rest of the week as the guest of General and Mrs. Marion P. Maus. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sharp went over as the guests of Mr. Sharp's cousin, Lieutenant Sharp, and among a few of the others seen were Miss Lisa Wood, Miss Leslie Leadbetter, Miss Marguerite Hume, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forbes, of New York, T. Scott Brooke, Henry Teal, L. A. McArthur, John Banks, Seaton Taylor, George Wentworth and Harold Wells.

Mrs. Maus was distinguished in amber satin, with a string of pearls. Mrs. Arthur T. Dalton, wife of Lieutenant Dalton, aide to General Maus, wore a smart gown of white fish crochet with violets. Mrs. James S. Rogers, wife of Lieutenant Colonel Rogers, a Battenberg lace gown, with touches of pink. Mrs. Sage, wife of Major William H. Sage, adjutant-general of the department in a flowered chiffon built over rose satin.

Mrs. Lacey, wife of Captain Francis J. Lacey, apricot satin studded with gold sequins.

Mrs. A. S. Johnston, black Spanish lace robe. Mrs. Alois, wife of Captain Alfred Alois, a smart gown of shell pink panne crepe with gold sequins.

Mrs. Lister, wife of Lieutenant Ralph B. Lister, blue chiffon with rose point trimming.

Mrs. Davis, wife of Lieutenant Arthur J. Davis, white chiffon.

Mrs. Philipson, wife of Lieutenant Irving Philipson, a gown of ivory lace over satin.

Mrs. Brady G. Ruttenutter, wife of Lieutenant Ruttenutter, a gown of Filipino cloth.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sears, a dainty lace frock.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Winch, after three weeks' stay in Los Angeles, Redlands, Riverside and Pasadena, are now at Hotel Potter, Santa Barbara.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cook, with Miss Cornelia Cook, will leave tomorrow for a two months' visit in California. Sigmund Schel and Miss Ruth Schel left for California.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Holbrook with Miss Dorothy Holbrook left last night for Del Monte.

Mrs. C. W. Hodson entertained with five tables of bridge Tuesday night. Prize winners were Mrs. A. L. Durham and Harry A. Sargent.

Owing to the Apollo Club, the dance of the younger married set was postponed until Tuesday. Following the dance Major and Mrs. James Canby gave a supper party which included Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honan, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Young, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Alvord, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warren, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Deinger, Captain and Mrs. W. S. Biddle, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Page, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Shevlin, Captain and Mrs. James Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Meers, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Bolso, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilbur, Rodney Glisan and Dr. H. D. Jeffers.

The Apollo Club concert on Monday evening at the Masonic Temple proved a strong drawing card. The selection of H. W. Dwyer, of Spokane, as soloist was a happy one, and the gifted tenor justified all the complimentary things said of him. He is the possessor of a beautiful voice of flexibility, range and quality, and his enunciation and interpretation are most pleasing.

Mr. Newton was accompanied by Mrs. Newton and their presence at the Hotel Norton occasioned considerable informal entertaining. On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hogue gave an elaborate luncheon at the Norton to which they asked: Mr. and Mrs. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. John Claire Monteth, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Lathrop, Ralph W. Hoyt, Frank Branch Liley and Henry Teal.

Following the concert Monday Mr. Hogue gave a stag supper complimentary to Mr. Newton, and on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. John Claire Monteth gave a tea for Mrs. Newton at her apartments.

Cecil H. Bauer left on Wednesday for New York, where he will join Mrs. Bauer, returning home via California.

Dr. A. J. Giesky has returned from Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Kelly have returned from their wedding trip and are now occupying their home at 449 Fifth street.

Mrs. Charlotte Curtis gave a delightful and spiritual interpretation of "Parsifal" to the Monday class which met with Miss Sally Lewis last week. Miss Geraldine Courson played the motifs of the different characters, adding to the effectiveness.

With fine discrimination Mrs. Curtis traced Parsifal—the gift of love to humanity—in his development through the mystery of pity, pain and sorrow, as he grew in stature and knowledge. Two other poems were recited, Tennyson's "Invocation to Faith" and Browning's "Unanswered," fitting like jewels into the theme of Faith, Hope and Love.

For two hours Mrs. Curtis held her class enthralled as she gave her interpretation of Parsifal. This lecture being the fitting climax for her course in Wagnerian operas, running through Tannhauser and Lohengrin. All her interpretations are from the highest spiritual side, as she believes that any of the great poetic masterpieces she selects for her readings should be approached only from that standpoint.

The next Monday morning lecture will be on Sister Beatrice, by Masterlinck.

Miss Louise Leiter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Leiter, was the hostess at a Valentine party, Saturday afternoon. Miss Leiter's young guests were Miss Katherine Russell, Miss Louise Caswell, Helen, Katherine Mackenzie, Mary Louise Feldenhimer, Margaret Meers, Mary Warrack, Ruth Fraley, Dorothy Meredith, Esther Jones, Marion Dickens, Helen Wortman, Josephine Richardson, Nan Russell, Barbara Holcomb, Elizabeth Jones, Bess Jacobs, Margaret Hawkins, Ruth Teal, Clara Hirschberger, Rhoda Rumelin, Edith Oids, Delberta Stuart, Stella Wolfe, Harriet Carlow, Alice Dabney and Marion Van Horn.

MUSICAL AND SOCIAL.

An enjoyable soiree-musical was given complimentary to Miss Elizabeth Hoben last Monday night at 228 Grand avenue, North. Professor Becker played the piano solos: Chopin, "Nocturne, Op. 27, No. 2," "Ballade" A-flat; "Bird-Study," (Henselt); "Valse Mignonne" (L. W. Biehoff); "Brassier Fire Music" (Wagner); "William Graepier, one of St. Louis (Mo.)

foremost tenors, sang a group containing Thomas "Woods in the West" and "Salter's Autumn"; Gottschalk's "Thine Eyes, Marie," and Frank Jones "Fear Ye Not, Oh Israel." Victor Herbert sang modern lyrics by Victor Herbert. Miss Elizabeth Hoben contributed the songs "Ramona" (Harrison Millard), "Merrily I Ream" (George Schellfarth), "Good-Night, Sweet Dream" (L. W. Biehoff), and the "Girls of Seville" (Denal). Miss Hoben's piano selections were: "Gallo de Concert" (Schumann), and "Chimes" (Skiff). After the musical-dance refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. L. Becker. The invited guests: Roy, Father Lamb and Roy, Father Lewis, Mrs. Andrew Hoben, Miss Elizabeth Hoben, Mr. and Mrs. William Graepier, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Austin and Frank Jones.

One of those rare evenings, a delight to those musically inclined, was the recital given by Mrs. Alice Brown, Marshall at Eilers Recital hall recently. Probably the greatest enthusiasm was shown for Mrs. Marshall's rendition of Liszt's "Rondo Brillante" and the Beethoven "Sonata" for the playing of which at the Chicago world's fair Mrs. Marshall was awarded a medal of honor by musicians of repute, including Fannie Bloomfield, Ziesler, Clarence Eddy and Theodore Thomas.

Mrs. Marshall showed fine taste and true poetic feeling in her selections. This was particularly exemplified in playing the "Lust 'Mazepa' by Mrs. Marshall and Miss Ethel Abbot, instructor of piano at St. Helen's hall, two pianos being used. Several other selections were rendered by Mrs. Marshall and Miss Abbot. Dr. Luther Dwyer read Byron's "Mazepa" as an interpretation of the playing, and Mrs. May Dearborn Schuchman sang. A reading was delivered by Miss Lacey, Baker of St. Helen's hall and Mrs. Warren E. Thomas acted as accompanist.

Among pleasant things during Lent will be two Saturday afternoon recitals by the Norwegian pianist, Alf Klindberg. They are promised for February 25 and March 12, at Sherman & Clay's hall, at 4:15 o'clock, the late hour making it possible for business men to attend. The following musical friends of Mr. Klindberg have been entrusted with tickets, each one, however, having only ten at her disposal: Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Mrs. Ernest F. Tucker, Mrs. William L. Brewster, Mrs. William E. Biddle, Mrs. Julia E. Hoffman, Mrs. Zern Snow, Mrs. Charles McCullough, Mrs. Sanderson Reed, Mrs. Richard Munn and Miss Susan Clarke.

Miss Hattie Wise, a member of the Rhina Amateurs, will give a piano recital at Eilers Hall on February 24, when the following will be patronesses: Mrs. W. B. Honeyman, Mrs. P. Wasserman, Mrs. Max Hirsch, Mrs. J. R. Meier, Mrs. Henry Waldo Coe, Mrs. J. D. Hart, Mrs. F. Rothschild, Mrs. A. Tilzer, Mrs. Frederick Eggert, Mrs. Sig Schel, Mrs. P. J. Mann, Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Mrs. Rose Bloch Bauer, Mrs. Ralph Hoyt and Mrs. Ben Selling.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.
Mrs. R. R. Rohr gave a charmingly arranged reception to Mrs. Gillespie's

Wednesday evening class of the School of Expression, at her home, 606 East Main street. The decorations were of Oregon grape, ferns and house plants. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Rohr, assisted by Miss Evelyn Condon and Miss Bock. The following musical and literary programme was rendered: Violin solo, Max Minor, accompanied by Mrs. E. B. Jones; reading, Adolph Lettow; reading, Alec W. Watkins; vocal solo, Beatrice May Whitcomb; reading, Sophia Shivers; reading, Anna

BRIDGE-BEACH SUPERIOR RANGES
ARE NOW MADE WITH A
Superior Gas Attachment

That makes them an ideal combination stove for house use. The attachment is fitted with a three-burner top, needle valves and adjustable gas mixers; has a baking oven 12x18 inches, also a broiling and toasting oven. Oven and broiler doors are nicely nickelplated. The attachments take but very little space and can be fitted to any Bridge-Beach Superior Range. Call and examine them.

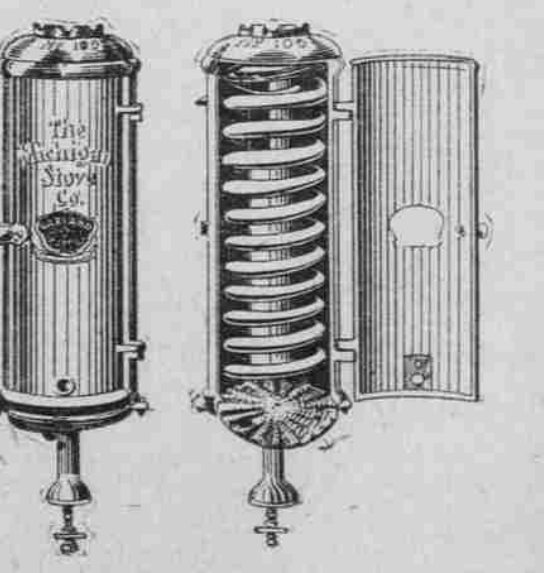

GARLAND GAS RANGES ARE PERFECT COOKERS

And are made from the best obtainable materials by the most expert workmen in the largest and best-equipped factory in the world. The style with elevated oven means much to the housewife—no stooping, no back-breaking in its operation.

GARLAND WATER HEATERS

The 10-G. size is made with double copper coils, which means quick service. If you are in a rush and want a hasty bath you can have boiling water in ten minutes. A 30-gallon tank can be heated to 115 degrees in one hour's time at a cost of 5½ cents. The jacket of heater is made of aluminum and will not rust. Save time and fuel bills by installing one now. We demonstrate them in the Stove Department.
