

JURORS SEE NEED

Report Advocates Guards for North End Lodgers.

RING BOUTS TOUCHED ON

"Prizefights" Should Be Suppressed, Declare Investigators in Final Report, but Boxing Contests Are O. K.

For the protection of roomers against robbery officers should be stationed in North End lodging houses, according to the final report of the county grand jury submitted yesterday. The grand jury makes the recommendation that these guards should be selected by the Chief of Police and that their salaries be paid by the owners of the lodging houses.

"Prizefights" also receive the attention of the grand jury. "We have listened to Chief of Police Cox in regard to gambling, vice and alleged prizefights that have occurred lately. We recommend to him that all these matters be suppressed" is the language of the report.

"In instructing the Chief of Police to stop prizefights in the city," said Frank Wilnot, foreman of the grand jury, last night, "the members of the grand jury had no reference to the boxing bouts which have been held recently in the city. We investigated the conditions under which those contests were held and concluded that they were strictly within the law and not prizefights. We approve of Chief Cox' policy in regard to them, and that is to have these boxing exhibitions under the surveillance of the Police Department."

Three Cases Are Dropped.

The grand jury failed to find true bills in three cases involving cases of immorality which had been referred to the members by the Municipal Court. One of these was in the case of Michael Goldberg, charged with conducting a disorderly house. Another case constituted joint charges against Sam Rubin and Pauline Brown, who were tried in the Municipal Court for having wrecked the furniture in Goldberg's house, while the third case was that of Frances O'Connor, wife of John O'Connor, and J. E. Holfield, charged with a statutory offense, committed in a rooming-house.

The grand jury returned three true bills before its retirement. Amy E. Parker, who was brought from Tacoma some time ago on a charge of having sold the same furniture to different dealers, was indicted for stealing a deed to real estate from Caroline McKinzie, a nurse who cared for Mrs. Parker while the latter was sick.

A second indictment against Mrs. Parker charges her with transferring the deed she had obtained from "the nurse to S. C. Priestley for $200. No indictment was returned against her in the furniture case.

Ross Accused of Bigamy.

The other true bill returned by the grand jury charges John Ross, an electrician of San Francisco, with having married Helen Jenkins, of Portland, December 23 while he had a legal wife living in San Francisco.

The report of the grand jury, with the exception of some compliments paid the District Attorney, is as follows: "We, the grand jury for the February term, herewith hand you a brief outline of the findings of this term. We have found 15 true bills and seven not true bills. We visited the county jail and found the same in a satisfactory state, and also visited the city jail, which place we found to be entirely inadequate as to size.

"In the discharge of our official duties we listened to Chief of Police Cox in regard to gambling, vice and alleged prizefights that have occurred lately. We recommended to him that all these matters be suppressed.

"We further recommend that an officer be placed at each lodging-house in the North End for the protection of lodgers against robbery and so forth, to be selected by the chief of police, and the owners of the lodging-houses pay the expenses of their hire.

"Owing to the limited time of our term we have been unable to investigate the outward swinging of doors to all public buildings, but recommend that this matter be referred to the March grand jury."

PUBLISHER'S BONDSMEN SUED

Telephone Directory Contract Not Kept, Company Avers.

A. K. Bentley and Dr. W. A. Wise, as bondsmen for Joseph Collins, who failed in his contract to publish directories for the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company, were sued by the latter company in the Circuit Court yesterday for $5000, the amount of the bond asserted to have been forfeited by Collins' failure.

The contract, filed with the complaint, sets forth that Collins had agreed to publish the company's telephone directories in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and in return to receive all the advertising space in the directories as payment. The company charges that Collins used the money he had collected for other purposes than the payment of the cost of printing the directories and that the company was forced to meet these expenses.

Dan R. Murphy, attorney for the defendants, said yesterday that the bondsmen had been induced through a third man to become Collins' sureties, with the understanding that in any case Bentley and Wise would not be called upon to make good any losses that might result.

LIFE MENACED, WIFE SAYS

Divorce Complaint Charges Claude C. Palmer With Using Threats.

Claude C. Palmer is charged with having threatened to do away with his wife and her family, in a divorce complaint filed against him yesterday by Bessie M. Palmer. Mrs. Palmer charges her husband with being intemperate, with failure to work for their living and with cruelty.

For eight months, Mrs. Palmer declares, she worked as a cook in a restaurant, paying for his board for that period, and when she took sick as a result of her hard work, her husband denied her proper attention.

Mrs. Palmer also charged that she had mortgaged furniture owned by herself to pay her husband's debts.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN DIES

Phlander T. Davis Succumbs to Heart Disease While at Work.

Phlander T. Davis, aged 66, senior member of the firm of Davis & Webster, lumber manufacturers at Estacada, died suddenly of heart failure at his place of business Thursday. Mr. Davis was a native of Indiana, where he was born March 20, 1844. In 1862 he enlisted in Company D, 29th Iowa Infantry, and served during the Civil War, being mustered out on August 15, 1865.

He came to Oregon in 1868, locating on a homestead near what is now Clackamas Station, subsequently removing to Milwaukie, where he was living at the time of his death, although he looked after his business at Estacada.

Mr. Davis is survived by a widow and three children, as follows: Charles

OPERATIC SINGER WILL APPEAR AT WOMAN'S CLUB BENEFIT.

Marion de la Parelle, who recently came from New York to locate in Portland, will appear at the benefit given by the Portland Woman's Club on the night of March 14 at the Bungalow Theater. Mr. de la Parelle has had wide experience in operatic work, having studied in Paris, Munich, Leipzig, New York and Chicago. He will give the "Mad Scene" from "The Bells of Cornville." The New York Examiner gives the following criticism of his work:

"The most difficult part, that of Gaspard, a miser, was portrayed by Mr. de la Parelle. In the second act a weird ghost scene, where the miser is caught by the Marquis counting his money, and the bells toll slowly in the belfry. Mr. de la Parelle displays wonderful ability. With his hollow eyes, sunken cheeks, his facial expression, the audience for a time is held in awe. The miser goes insane, throwing his gold about, and falls crying to the stage, losing his reason."

R. Davis, of Newport, Or.; Mrs. H. A. Webster, of Estacada, and A. C. Davis, of Milwaukie. The funeral services will be held at the late residence in Milwaukie at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon, under the auspices of the Odd-fellows. Burial will take place in the Clackamas Cemetery at 2:30 P. M.

NOTARY TELLS OF DEED

Mrs. Cartwright Said to Have Understood Property Transfer.

PORTLAND, March 5.—(To the Editor.)—Relative to the article which appeared in The Oregonian today, under the heading of "Defrauded by Son, She Says," permit me to say that I did, as a notary public, take the acknowledgment of Mrs. Charlotte Moffett-Cartwright to a deed in trust, which she executed in favor of her son, James P. Moffett.

I was very particular in this instance, as I always am, to read the body of the deed over to her and discuss its features with her, and after doing so, she said that the deed was just as she wanted it to be and then she signed it and acknowledged to me that she did so freely and voluntarily, for the purposes therein set forth, and at her request. I affixed my notarial seal, and

I didn't. I did.
