BRIDGE RENT PLAN CITY ADVANTAGE

Lease of Upper Deck of Proposed Steel Span Cheaper Than Building Viaduct.

FRANCHISE ALLOWS TOLL

Railroad Anthorized to Adopt One of Three Methods in Exacting Payment if Portland Makes. Floor Free to Public.

Should the city desire to make a free bridge out of the upper deck of the projected railroad structure spanning the river, between Glisan and Oregon streets. it can do so at much less expense than if the municipality should build and own a

Or, if the city should not desire to open the upper floor of the bridge to free transit of the public, the railroad will then be authorized to collect tolls at rates then be authorized to collect tolls at rates fixed by the County Court. The franchise awarded by the Port of Portland last August to the railroad for the river span requires the company to permit any other railroad to use the bridge and also to use 500 feet of the track approaches on the East Side and 1000 feet on the West Side, at rates to be fixed in last resort by the Railroad Commission of Oregon.

Three Methods Proposed.

Should the railroad enter into contract with the city or the county for free use of the upper deck by the public, the rallroad is authorized in the franchise to demand of the city or the county the following terms:

First—Payment to the rallroad annually of the road annually of of 5 per cent interest of the cost of build-ing the upper deck addition to the bridge. (This cost will be between $450,000 and $500,000 according to O. R. & N. authori-

Second-Payment to the railroad of actual cost of operation and maintenance of the upper deck. Third-Payment to the railroad annually of a sum for depreciation, which com-pounded semi-annually at 4 per cent, at the end of 20 years will equal the cost of the end of 20 years will equal the cost of the bridge.

These three charges would not exceed $50,000 a year, from which a deduction of between $10,000 and $20,000 would be made for tolls that the streetcar company would pay. The cost of the projected Broadway bridge will amount according to engineering authorities to between $2.000,000 and $4,000,000 involving an interest payment by the city of close to $100,000 a year, in addition to cost of maintenance and operation and depreciation.

The O. R. & N. Co. secured from the Port of Portland Commission last August a franchise for spanning the river and the franchise was subsequently approved the franchise was subsequently approved by authorities at Washington. The fran-chise requires the company to begin work of construction within one year of the time the franchise was granted and to complete the bridge within two years.

Toll Bridge Not Likely.

According to its terms the compan may enter into a contract with the city or with the county for public use of the upper deck, but the payments demanded shall not exceed those specified in the foregoing. In case relitier the county nor the city shall accede to the terms of tolis to be fixed by the County Court, but the tolls shall not be so low as to make a return to the company of less than 5 per cent interest on the investment, cost of operation and maintenance and the anper cent interest on the investment, cost of operation and maintenance and the annual sum specified in the foregoing for depreciation. However, inasmuch as the company could not compete with the city's free bridges, it is not believed that the company, would wish to make the pupils. "Noodles" had some trouble the company, would viaduct a tell bridge.

Article II.

As a condition for the right to construct said bridges at the proposed location, the O. R. & N. Co. shall, at its own cost and expense, construct an upper deck over the vallroad bridge, and suitable approaches thereto, the west approach to commence near the northeast corner of Third and Glisan streets and the east approach to land at or near a point where Oregon street and Adams sircet converge, in said City, of Portland, said upper deck to be for the purpose of travel by streetcars and wagons, automobiles and rebicles of all kinds and passengers and pedestrians, but for said additional expense involved in the construction of said upper deck and approaches and maintenance of the same, said railroad company shall, subject to the provisions hereinsiter stated, be entitled to charge tolls for the travel over said upper deck of said bridge by streetcars, all chasses of vehicles and passengers, or it may contract with the City of Portland or the County of Multnoman for furnishing said upper deck as a highway between said respective portions of said city of Portland on apposite sides of said river, but said railway company shall not exact or receive, either from the city or county or from any sources or

Particularly dwelling on the respon-stibility which a boy should assume to-wards his home, "Noodles" touched the hearts of his hearers with a homely description of what "mother" has done for every one of them. His idea of the treatment to be accorded the mother treatment to be accorded the mother was to make her the best friend in the world to the boy, and to appreciate that friendship through little attentions. He argued that a boy who was good to his mother could be depended upon to make a good citizen. A testimonial which "Noodles" treasures was presented him by Frank Rig-ler, superintendent of the Portland High Schools. It reads as follows:

"Mr. Noodles Fagan, while addressing our two high schools today, was listened to with the closest attention and with boundless enthusiasm. There is that about the history and the person-acty of the man that makes him interesting to young people, while the ear-nestness of purpose and correctness of viewpoint make one of his talks a real

CLUB TO HONOR WILLIAMS

State's Distinguished Citizen.

In celebration of his 87th birthday, Judge George H. Williams, Oregon's most distinguished citizen, a banquet will be tendered to him at the Hotel Portland Saturday night, March 26. In vitations to the dinner, which will be a $6 a plate affair, have been sent to many of the prominent men of the state and the committee is leaving nothing undone to make the occasion a happy one.

Judge M. C. George, president of the Republican Club, under whose auspices the banquet is being arranged. will be the toastmaster. The programme of toasts has not been arranged finally, but F. A. Moore, chief justice of the Oregon Supreme Court, and C. E. S. Wood, of this city, probably will be two of the speakers. The dinner will begin at 6:20 o'clock, and, it is appropriate to the speakers.

it is announced by the committee, will not necessarily be a formal affair. The members of the committee which is arranging the details are: Judge George, Mayor Simon, C. W. Fulton, W. D. Fenton, W. D. Wheelwright, C. F. Beebe, R. L. Glisan, and Charles E. Lockwood.

unprecedented crowds, the O R. & N. farming demonstration train will leave the Union station at 11 o'clock tonight on its nine days' tour of Eastern Washington.

So strong is the interest in the movement that connecting lines not under O. R. & N. jurisdiction are naming special rates and advertising special trains to carry farmers to the points were demonstrations will be given. This assistance to the movement is being given by the Sumpter Valley Railroad, the Central Railroad of Oregon, the Great Southern and the

of Oregon, the Great Southern and the Mount Hood Railroad.

More than 15,000 itineraries have been distributed throughout the terribeen distributed throughout the terri-tory that will be visited. Included with this 15,000 were more than 10,000 let-ters containing special invitations and which were mailed to farmers in the Eastern portion of the state. In addi-tion two representatives of the rail-road have been kept on the road for more than two weeks distributing Itin-eraries and advertising the train. In this they have been assisted by all this they have been assisted by all passenger conductors and station agents and by the commercial organisations in the towns comprising the Over Ton of Bulletins.

The train, in addition to the demon-stration paraphernalis, livestock and experts, is to carry a considerable tonnage of literature. There will be more than a ton of bulletins which have been prepared by the Oregon Agricul-tural College and which will be given out to all visitors at the demonstra-tions. These bulletins will describe the methods and character of farm work advocated on the train and will con-stitute a memorandum for the farmers to carry home with them and study.

All who receive free samples of seed will also receive printed instructions for growing. The seed includes dry farmed alfalfa, Minnesota corn and Canadian field peas. A special set of Instruction goes with each variety of Carrying out the advice of the college experts that farmers have tests made of the seed used on their lands, the railroad company has had all the seed that will be distributed tested by the agricultural college experts. For instance the test on the alfalfa showed it to be 9.35 per cent pure, a result that brought commendation from the college experts. In addition methods of college experts, In addition methods of home testing of germination qualities are to be illustrated on the train.

Special Cars Arrive.

The six cars which will carry the iemonstrating features of the train have been arranged and equipped at the college and yesterday were brought to Portland by special train from Cor-The train, in addition to the demonstrating cars, will carry a sixeen-section sleeper and a business car The persons that will be carried by the train will probably number nearly 40. Every berth, lower and upper, in both the sleeper and business car will be occupied. The names of several more college experts have been added to the personnel of the party since the printed itineraries were issued. The additions are G. R. Hysiop, Orien Beatty and R. M. Morgan, of Corvallis, and Robert Withycombe of the experiment station at Union. The other experts from the college include Dr. James Withycombe, director of the Oregon Experiment Station; H. D. Scudder, agronomist; F. L. Kent, dairy husbandman; James Dryden, A. G. Lunn, R. W. Rees and R. J. Dryden poultry bushesness. and R. J. Dryden, poultry husbandmen; E. H. Spillman, assistant horticulturist, A. L. Applewhite, foreman, Corvallis; H. Umberger, superintendent Moro experi-ment station; R. W. Allen, superintendent I matilia experiment

Rallroad Men to Go.

Among the railroad representatives wh expect to be on the train are: R. B. Miller, traffic manager; P. W. Robinson assistant general freight agent; G. L. Anderson, secretary to Mr. Miller; W. W. Bollons, superintendent; F. R. Dunn traveling freight agent, Portland; C. F. Vandewater, traveling freight agent, Walla Walla, and A. A. Morse in charge of train. Other members of the party will include D. O. Lively, of the Union Stockyards Company, several newspaper men; G. M. Weister, photographer; D. S. White, electrician and a train crew that will remain throughout the trip.

Several minor changes have been made in the Itinerary. In response to requests from the commercial organization and numerous residents of Mosier it has been decided to include that place in the stops on the last day. The demonstration hours on March 39 have been changed accordingly to the following: The Dalles, 9 A. M. to II:30 A. M.; Mosier, I P. M. to 2:30 P. M.; Hood River, 2:45 P. M. to 4:45 P. M. On March 23, the demonstration heretofore advertised for Union Junc-tion will be given at the town of Union, 8:30 A. M. to 10:10 A. M. onstration purposes was given out yes terday by the company as follows:

Apparatus on Train.

One double disk drill with grass seed box and press wheel attachment; one sub-surface packer, one knife cultivator, one sulkey plow, with Dunham roller at-tachment; one Acme harrow and harrow cart, one alfalfa barrow, with truck; one subsoil plow, one double cutaway disk, with tongue truck; one mounted weeder, one smut clear cleaner, one milking machine, one gas engine and dynamo. The engine and dynamo will supply electric lights for the train.

Heretofore in demonstration trains there has been considerable congestion of people due to the fact that the entrances and exis were at the ends, making it necespary to step from one car to the other. For this trip portable wooden steps have been made and will be used at the side doors of the baggage-cars so that per-sons interested in the demonstration in one car and not in another need not interfere with other visitors in reaching the
