New Robinson & Wells Hats

Smart English Tailored Styles

—Robinson & Wells Hats are distinct from all other hats. They are in a separate class, originated and trimmed by women schooled exclusively to this one style of popular English millinery.

—Never before have we displayed such beautiful examples as the hats we show tomorrow.

—If you buy one of these hats not only will the selection be satisfactory so far as style and material is concerned, but even more so as to cost.

—Domestic hats in their attempt to imitate these original English hats fail dismally, as it is almost impossible to duplicate these foreign shapes.

—New hats shown tomorrow for the first time.

ON MONDAY WE GIVE PROMINENCE TO SILK SUITS AT $20.00

Belt and Collar Pins 69c

Regular Values $1.00 and $1.25

—There is a growing fad for belt buckles and collar pins. In fact it has been many a season since belt buckles were as popular as they are now. Through a fortunate purchase we secured about 100 samples in oxidized and Roman gold, in fancy scroll designs, set with fancy colored stones in the newest shapes.

—On Monday these go on sale at 69c.

Novelties Shown in Silks

—Always on the alert for anything new and novel in silks.

—We are pleased to announce the arrival of two new fabrics that are bound to find favor with women.

—"Kameeleon" foulards. A beautiful ombre effect in the most desirable colorings in beautiful quiet designs that at once appeals to women of good taste. The shadings produced by this kameeleon effect adds life and zest to an otherwise quiet fabric.

—Persian satin bengalines in a combination of Oriental tints. Exclusive designs not to be found elsewhere. This novelty fabric is the fad of the season for trimming pongee and other plain fabrics. Also very popular for cape collars, vests and cuffs. Used extensively in millinery. Many of the finest French hats show this popular fabric.

New Shopping Bags $2.79

—These new shopping bags should have been here two or three weeks ago. They were bought especially for the Easter trade, but like many other articles were delayed in transit.

—These bags are the new "NO SAG" bags which are guaranteed by the manufacturers to retain their shape as long as the leather lasts.

—They are the new 11-inch size. Made of fine French pebble seal leather. Lined throughout with leather. The frames come in French gold, silver and oxidized finish. Double strap handles. Each fitted with a small coin purse.

—These bags go on sale Monday at the special price, $2.79.

—The regular value of these bags is $3.50.
