SAN FRANCISCO, May 21 .- (Special.) -It was Fisher's home run, with Olson ahead of him on the bases, in the tenth inning, that won the game today for the Beavers at Recreation Park. It was the third extra-inning game of the week between the Oaks and the Portland boys, and the affair had threatened to stretch out interminably and there is no telling when it would have ended. Fisher, always a dangerous man, came to the bat with two out. The proper thing would have been a pass, but Harkins sent in one that cut the plate and the Beaver catcher straightened it out for over the fence, the final score standing 3 to 1.

The defeat was an inglorious one for the Oaklanders, who, at least upon one casion, in the fifth, had all the chances in the world to put the game on ice, but through stupid base running tossed away their opening. Incredible as it may appear, the Commuters made four clean hits and were given one walk in that inning, but failed to land man across the plate. Harkins was hit hard at times, but was accorded good support when he was in trouble. Christian showed such a tendency to lack of control that while the sixth inning was under way he was benched in favor of Harkins.

The golden opportunity for Oakland that was not grasped came in the fifth. Swander started with a single to right, but was caught at second trying to stretch it into a double. Maggart put the leather safely into left and Pierce hoisted it over second. Christian's single to third should have filled the bases, but Maggart was so anxious to score that he overran third and was out on a throw to first and return. Cutshaw walked, but Wares popped to Olson.

After that there was little hitting until the tenth. Olson lead off for Portland with a pass to first and was portland with a pass to first and was been a second by Hetling. He rortaind with a pass to first and was sacrificed to second by Hetlling. He took third on McCredie's out and then Fisher's homerun finished the scoring.
Oakland had lost heart and went out in easy fashion in the last of the same

With all this, Jeffries is more agreeable than anyone ever saw him before. He simply will not stand being lionized. The sporting reporters count with him about like the rest. When they get in the way he is painfully frank about it. Several have been rebuffed in a way that has made them furious. When remonstrated with, Jeff replies that he isn't training to please the public. He is training to beat one John Arthur Johnson.

Any fair-minded person cannot stay a day at the Jeffries training camp and not be convinced of the injustice of many of the reports about his training not scored a clean knockdown in the first being "on the level." Jeff has a peculiar system of training—in fact, no system at all—but he works very hard. His trainers fear that he will overde it. He has arrived in condition much zooner than they expected; their problem now is to keep him on edge for six weeks. This is keep him on edge for six weeks. means), he thinks that hegroes should fight in a class by themselves. Undoubtedly Sullivan is right to some extent, but this is an exceptional fight.

Some of the stuff that has been set affoat by writers concerning Jeff's condition is amusing when read in the light of private information I have received direct from the training camp at Rowar-dennan. For instance, because the cam-fiends have irritated the big fellow by asking him to pose for pictures when he should go to the bath or rubbing table after the most strenuous work, and may have been curtly treated, although they say he has never refused a picture, they say he is peevish and III; that his face is haggard, and there is even doubt now that he will be able to enter the ring on July 4.

Corbett's Opinion of Jeff.

Now listen to what I get from him. Jeff has never been in such perfect physical condition seven weeks before any of his fights. He is rather more genial than ever; cheerful and full of boylsh pranks and brimful of confidence over the result. He shows plenty of endurance in his work with lots of reserve; his wind is good and no amount of work seems to tire him. Whether he should decide to make a rushing or walking fight the re-sult will be the same, for he has both speed and endurance. Jeff has everything that Johnson has, while his rugged that Johnson has, while his rugged strength entirely offsets all that Johnson claims in the finer points of boxing. I was rather in hopes that the referee would be picked at the first meeting. The idea has rather provailed in the East that Jack Welch might be selected. I have never even discussed the matter of any man with Jeffries, but I know that he would be well satisfied with Tex Rickard, or any competent and honest official.

Johnson seems to be getting down to real work at his training camp at Seal Rock, near San Francisco. They Seal Rock, near San Francisco. They say that he weighed 228 pounds when he began work and that he will scale close to 260 when he enters the ring to meet Jeffries. As he says he is in good condition now, I much doubt if he weighs as much as they say, or that he will take off 28 pounds in his training. Seven weeks is ample time for mobile. The girl suffered a severely ing. Seven weeks is ample time for Johnson to get into shape, for he has kept himself in good condition by his contests and is not the kind of man quarters, which might indicate that failure to get the big end of the $101,-000 purse would be offset by adopting 000 purse would be effset by adopting this means of defraying his training expenses or possibly $300 a week.

The effort to bring Tommy Burns and Sam Langford together in San Francisco September 5 for a $20,000 purse ought to be productive of a good scrap. This contest, if clinched, would seemingly bar for a time the fight over the long route by Langford and Ketchel. As to the latter contest, the idea seems long route by Langford and Ketchel. As to the latter contest, the idea seems to be gaining ground that these two men did not do their best in their Philadelphia six-round bomit, and that Langford stalled to give Ketchel a chance to make a good showing. If this is true, it would be better, perhaps, to forget them for a time. Ketchel, at any rate, ought to be given a chance to meet the winner of the Papke-Thomas fight, which would be more to his liking, probably, than another match with Langford, who seems to be in a higher class. Coffroth had everything arranged for a fight tween Papke and Satt Langford for next month, which would have been worth a large sum to the "thunderbolt," and there was also a possible chance of another battle with Ketchel, who is popular here.

Although Papke, in a statement, de clares that he and his brother lost $800 by the fight going beyond 15 rounds. Tom Corbett declares that the Papkes had only $260 up. Fight fans are angry because he has given the game a black-eye here and he would be hissed out of the ring should he appear in San CHICAGO, May 21.—Secretary C. E. Williard, of the Western Golf Association, has issued the terms of the second annual competition for the Tom Morris memorial trophy competition, to be played June 15 by teams of eight against the par of their respective courses. The conditions are essentially the same as those of last year, the chief altera-tions being in the elimination of fractions in the par scale, which is now as Up to 215 yards, inclusive, par is 3. From 216 to 400 yards, par is 4. From 401 to 575 yards, par is 5.

From 576 yards and upwards, par is 6

Wolgast's Auto Causes Trouble. TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., May. 21.—
The serious injury of Kathleen Slater, 12 years old, last night by the automobile of Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion puglist, was made the occasion of a vigorous display of anti-fight sentiment by the girl's father, O. W.
Slater, a prominent merchant. The girl was riding on horseback, when her horse became frightened and it is said. mobile. The girl suffered a severely wrenched hip and bad bruises contests and is not the kind of man to take on much fat. He is charging the heart of the city.
