DEFENSE PADDOCK'S UNDOING.—"Leaping out of the frying-pan into the fire," John Paddock, a saloonkeeper, found that what constituted a good defense in one case against him was a foundation for a prosecution in another case. Paddock was accused by Andy Loftus of assault and battery. Loftus said that he was sitting in Paddock's place and the proprietor struck him on the head. The defense proved that Loftus' injury was received by falling to the floor while drunk. Paddock, testifying in his own defense, said that Loftus was drunk when he came in, and drank more while in the place. Deputy District Attorney Hennessey at once filed another charge against Paddock for selling liquor to an intoxicated man.

H. T. JONES BEGINS WORK.—Horace T. Jones, late of the special agent in charge of the Department of the Interior, and now acting as secretary of the Oregon Conservation Association, has begun the distribution of literature dealing with the protection of the natural resources of the state. Among the subjects which the association will handle is the development of inland waterways, good roads and an equitable method of taxation. Headquarters for the association have been opened in the Lewis building.

PROSECUTING WITNESS SUMMONED.—J. E. Jodon, formerly a member of the police force, now a switchman, was summoned yesterday in Police Court on a charge of the larceny of $25 from D. M. Baker. The case had been continued from a day previous and a subpoena had been served upon Baker, who had retreated from his former position of demanding prosecution, and seemed unwilling to appear against Jodon. He failed to appear at the subpoena yesterday and the charge against Jodon was dismissed and a bench warrant was issued for Baker, who will be asked to settle the costs of the case.

PATIENT RUNS 30 MILES. Barefoot Man Pursued Across Crook County Plains. PRINEVILLE, Or., July 9.—Jesse Powers, who has been under the doctor's care for several days suffering from an attack of beriberi, was taken into custody at 10 o'clock yesterday. The attending physician warned Powers' nurse a few hours before that the patient might make an attempt to escape by a close watch should be kept over him. As soon as the patient was found to be missing Nightwatchman Yancy and Sheriff Frank Elkins were notified and a 3 o'clock track made by bare feet were found leading across the Crooked River bridge toward Powell Buttes. The sheriff immediately took his auto and followed the general course that the insane man seemed to be taking. As closely as the officers could determine, he followed the edge of the rimrock on the west side of Crooked River for a distance of 15 miles or more. At many places his tracks were found very near the edge of the rimrock which has a perpendicular drop of from 50 to 300 feet. When overtaken Powers was on the southeast side of Powell Buttes, sitting under a tree, and was without hat or shoes. The temperature at this time must have been about 80 degrees. Powers will be kept in the county jail here until the nature of his trouble can be determined. When asked about his condition last night, Powers said: "I must have been on a trip somewhere. But my feet don't feel sore. I don't know whether I have eaten anything lately or not. I would like to know why they have me in here."

ROADS RACING FOR COAL. Three Companies Want to Be First on Bering River. SEATTLE, Wash., July 9.—A race of three railroads for the Bering River coal fields and the development of that section of Alaska is only awaiting word from the Government that the coal may be mined. According to Stephen Birch, president of the Bering River and Northwestern Railway will build an eight-mile line to the coal fields. The Government makes some arrangement for the mining of the coal. Harry White of Los Angeles and assistant general manager of the Bering River and Northwestern Railway, said yesterday that he has men clearing the right of way for the railroad his company intends to construct to Canyon Creek. Mr. Rose, who has the money at present working the McDonald mine and getting out coal which will be shipped down the Bering River to Canyon Creek, said the right of way for the foot tunnel has been completed and that coal from the mines will soon find its way to market.

LIFE IS TAKEN WITH DRUG. Former Montavilla Man Is Suidide at Stevenson, Wash. STEVENSON, Wash., July 9.—N. P. Nelson, proprietor of the Hotel Stevenson, committed suicide this forenoon by taking about two ounces of laudanum, and he died at noon. He was found in a comatose condition after taking the deadly drug and a doctor was hastily sent for. When the physician reached the side of the dying man it was too late to be of service, though everything possible was done to save the feeblest spark of life. The man is said to have been despondent for some days and last night had been drinking some.
