Successful Cherry Fair Ends With Burlesque and Masquerade.

SALEM, Or., July 9 .- (Special.) -- In a blaze of glory and a burst of laughter, the fifth annual Cherry Fair closed to-night. The final parade was one of the most enjoyable features. Prominent local people consented to engage in a game of burlesque and a long line of masqueraders made merry for the benefits of the hundreds who crowded the walks and streets to detect their friends, if possible, behind their various guises.
Today was Salem day, and local people were joined by fair sized delega-tions from out of the city in observing the various treats which were offered. Altogether it is conceded that the 1910 Cherry Fair has surpassed all efforts heretofore and the cherry exhibit has undoubtedly been the best ever shown, as far, at least, as quality is concerned.

The vessels to be employed are the St. Lawrence, Orion, Sebastion, William Grant and Germania. At two of the Vancouver Island whaling stations, Kyuquot and Sechart, and at Rose Harbor the whaling station of the Queen Charlotte Whaling Company, freez-ing plants for handling the halibut catches will be installed in time for next Win-

The catches will be brought to these stations, where they will be treated and shipped to different markets. Under pres-ent conditions the American hallbut fishers, which ply their trade in Hecate Straits and off the northern end of Van-couver Island, have to bring their catches often several hundred miles to the American side before they can be placed in freezing plants. The delay often proves injurious to the fish. In the case of the Canadian company which is about to com-

PORTLAND POLICE, SHOWING DISCONTENT, DON "RUS-SIAN" CAPS.

With blistered ears and peeled noses, the officers of the city police force walked their beats yesterday in the new caps which have been adopted as a part of the uniform, and few good words were heard for the bell-crowned affairs at the end of the day's work. As they are an essential part of the uniform, which will not change for some time at least, most of the men are disposed to make the best of their new trouble and get accustomed to their use as soon as possible. It appears to be the opinion that the new style is dressy and that the average patrolman looks better in it than in the helmet. Practical consid-erations, however, are advanced against the caps, that they will not shed rain or sun and furnish no protection to the head in a melee. Contrary to appearances, they are said by the wearers to be heavier than the helmets.

Disabled Vessel Towed Up Columbia After Seas Wash Craft and Frighten Passengers.

ASTORIA. Or., July 9.—(Special.)— While coming into the Columbia River about 11 o'clock last night, the steamer Goiden Gate, which was en route from Tillamook for Portland with a cargo of dairy products and 13 passengers on board, struck on Clatsop Spit and was so badly crippled that she had to be towed up the river.

It was almost low tide at the time and there was a thick haze, but the steamer crossed the bar safely. When well inside. Captain Snyder suddenly saw a fishing boat lying at anchor di-rectly in front of him carrying no light. In order to avoid a collision the wheel was thrown hard over and the steamer missed the fishing boat but before she could be brought into the channel again, struck on Clatsop Spit, pounding hard several times before the rising tide floated her off a few minutes later. As Captain Snyder remarked. "It was a case of either cutting down the fishing eraft or running into shallow water and we took the latter chance."

After the vessel was floated it was found that her propeller would not work, so anchor was dropped and signals of distress sent up, but as no as-sistance came. Captain Snyder sent a small boat ashore, word was telephoned to Astoria and about three hours after the accident occurred the steamer Mel-ville arrived, took the disabled steamer in tow and left with her for Portland where she will be placed on the dry-

The Golden Gate is not leaking and it is believed the only injury she has suffered is the bending of her shoe so badly that it interfered with the pro-peller. The pounding of the vessel and the rolling of the breakers, which at times washed over the craft, caused considerable alarm among the passengers, but their fears were soon quieted by the officers. Before leaving the steamer, however, a number of them signed a petition to be sent to Congress urging that laws be enacted requiring

The Pacific Coast salmon are born in the shallow portions of the rivers. They swim to sea to grow to maturity and then return to their native rivers to spawn and die. They may be caught with the hook on the feeding grounds, but not during the migrations. The Bringgold, if successful, will find a new industry.

ASTORIA, Or., July 9.-For the first time in the history of the Astoria regattas the course on the river will this year be officially taken notice of by the Federal Government. Steps are now in progress to this end, and that they will successful is undoubted, as proceedings are being taken through the proper channel. A survey of the proposed course was made and submitted to Collector McGregor, who approved of it, and then forwarded it to the Department of Com-merce and Labor at Washington, which has authority over such matters.

The survey was returned without approval and a suggestion was made as to a change in the survey. This has been done, and the resurvey returned, and when it is approved the department will promulgate a general order directing that all vessels of every character and de-scription shall keep off the course during the hours of the races. The course will be patrolled by Government launches, and the master of any vessel violating the order will be subjected to a fine of

GIANT SEQUOIAS SEEM DOOMED

Forest Fires Sweeping Toward Largest Trees in the World.

VISALIA, Cal., July 9.—The big trees of the giant forest appear to be doomed, it is reported here. Forest fires which have been burning for several days in the vicinity of the big timber, are said to be sweeping in the direction of the grove of sequolas, the largest in the world.

A large part of the forest reserve has been swept away, according to meager reports received here. Hotels and mountain resorts, it is further said, are in imminent danger of destruction.
The men who for days have fought against flame and wind have become exhausted. High and frequently changing winds have made it impossible effectively to cope with the raging fires. About 100 men, rangers, troopers and power company employes have been waging the fight. At one time today it was thought the big trees were safe, due to the shifting of the wind. But this afternoon it changed its course again, putting the

Quality a Tout Prix

Quality a Tout Prix

Quality at any price should be an axiom photographed on the mind of every intelligent person. This is particularly true in dentistry. A person who has never had good dental work cannot appreciate its value. He merely thinks it's all bad, and that he probably has the best that there is. Take this tip from us, the best is the cheapest in everything. Once you acquire the habit you can't get away from it. And don't, we beg of you, let any bargain-counter dentist film flam you into the belief that he will sell you something just as good at half the price that the other fellow charges for work that really is good. (Out of nothing nothing is made.) Deeds not words. Something for something is what counts.

something is made.) Deeds not words. Something for something is what counts.

Apropos the only dentists who have any right to take exceptions to what we say are those who do not or cannot make good. The high-class practitioner is rather the heneficiary. Any dentist is at liberty to come in and inspect our work.

Briefly, the alveolar method is this: If you have two or more teeth left in either jaw, we can supply all that you have lost with teeth as good, solid and sound as the best set of natural teeth ever grown in any human being's mouth, and a whole lot more beautiful than nature's best product, without resorting to such makeshifts as partial plates and the unsanitary bridgework. Alveolar teeth are not only beautiful, but they are comfortable and durable. We guarantee them to last a lifetime, where the longevity of bridgework is seldom ever longer than 5 or 8 years, and generally a good deal less. It is never guaranteed to last by any first-class dentist, who is responsible and reliable, because all first-class dentists will tell you that bridgework at best is doubtful. It is a painful operation and gives trouble from the time it is put in the mouth until it has to be taken out. the mouth until it has to be taken out. In many cases where bridgework is impossible, and all cases where it is possible, we can replace your missing teeth with perfect siveolar teeth. The pain incident to this work is practically none; the expense is the same as the best bridgework—but in satisfaction there is no comparison between the two.

there is no comparison between the two.

We have samples in our offices to show at all times—hundreds of patients here in our home city to refer to. In fact we would feel safe in referring to most every occupant of this the Abington building, where our offices are located. We have and are doing the dental work for most of them and their families, including elevator boys, janitors and manager. Seems nice to have one's neighbors think well of him. Examinations and booklets on alveolar dentistry are absolutely free.

Remember, that in addition to our specialty, alveolar dentistry and curing pyorrhea (loose teeth), we are expertin every branch of dentistry from the simple filling up.
