Fandom at Random. PORTLAND must win today or lose four out of six to the Seals, and he pushed further away from that sought-after first place. It makes the fans nervous to think of the possibility of beating Henley.

Everything broke nicely for the Seals yesterday and badly for the home team. Most of Portland's errors were on cinch plays which would ordinarily have been easy ones.

In the sixth inning Portland pulled off a neat double play and one that was as exciting as it was neat. Vitt had been hit by pitched ball, and on Mobler's sacrifice, Sheehan to Rapps he tried to take third, but Olson ran over and took Rapps' relay and fell on Vitt as he was sliding into the bag.

It is seldom that such a sterling player as Billy Rapps will have such a bad day at baseball, for Rapps is really one of the best first-batters in the league.

If the Seals had batted in with any long drives yesterday it is hard to tell what would have been the score, but Seaton managed to confine them to one-baggers, which helped a little.

Some of the Portland fans are actually disgruntling in the way they roast the home team. McCredie has a team that has occupied first place longer than any other club, yet the players get roasted unmercifully at times.

Tommy Sheehan batted up a couple of hits on his last two trips to the plate, and it is to be hoped that the little fellow will keep up the good work now that he has started.

Harry McArdie was indisposed yesterday, and "Hunky" Shaw held down the shortstop position. Shaw butted in with some fancy steps and throws, as well as getting a couple of bingles.

Judge Thomas F. Graham, president of the Pacific Coast League, left last night for San Francisco. En route South, Judge Graham will stop with his wife and daughter at Shasta Springs for a few days.
