

WOODMEN OF WORLD FINANCES SOUND

Sentiment of Order Has Undergone Marked Change Since Plan of Head Consul Boak Was Put to Test.

GROUP OF HEAD OFFICERS AND COMMITTEEMEN OF THE WOODMEN OF THE WORLD, WHO HAVE BEEN INDUSTRIOUSLY ENGAGED DURING THE PAST WEEK PREPARING FOR THE CONVENTION, WHICH MEETS TOMORROW.

In contrast to the acute situation which confronted the Woodmen of the World over finances, when it held its last convention in Seattle three years ago, delegates from all the Pacific jurisdictions are assembling in Portland for the convention which begins tomorrow, jubilant, enthusiastic and with a fat treasury. Instead of the ghost of bankruptcy stalking in their midst, the horn of plenty has been filled to overflowing by a new plan of assessment, which was adopted at the last convention after a bitter fight.

I. I. Boak, head consul, led the fight for increased rates, and backed his argument with testimony from the greatest mortuary experts. He was criticized severely by some at that time, but the delegates assembling in Portland represent a changed sentiment, the glad hand is extended, and he has been pushed forward as the only candidate for head consul, and he will succeed himself for another term.

The Pacific jurisdiction covers nine states, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Utah, Idaho, Nevada, California, Oregon and Washington. One delegate is allowed for each 1000 membership, and as there are 102,000 Woodmen in the jurisdiction, there are 102 delegates. Besides these there will be many visitors and in addition there will be about 29 crack drill teams from the various states to compete for the $500 cash prize, the handsome silver trophy given at each convention by the head camp for the best drilled team, and a loving cup to be given by Major William Reid, of Webofoot camp.

The various committees arrived the forepart of the week and have been busy preparing reports and getting ready for the convention. An automobile parade will start tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the Oregon Hotel, pass through the downtown streets and finish at the Woodmen's Temple, Eleventh and Alder streets, at 10 o'clock. Mayor Simon and Judge Robert G. Moore will deliver addresses of welcome and Head Consul Boak will respond for the Woodmen. The public is invited to attend the opening exercises in the afternoon.

The convention will go into executive session after lunch. Reports of officers and committees will take up all the time tomorrow and Tuesday. The election of officers will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. The present head officers are: I. Boak, head consul, of Denver; T. Clinton Veale, head advisor, of Pasadena, Cal.; C. V. Benson, head clerk, Denver; F. E. Snodgrass, head banker, Eugene, Or.; E. P. Bertschy, head auditor, Denver; M. R. Wilson, head escort, Bezenant, Mont.; A. McKellar, Jr., head watchman, Salt Lake City; F. O. Nelson, head secretary, Boise, Idaho; head managers, W. C. Hawley, Salem, Or.; T. M. Robinson, Oakland, Cal.; James Stenhouse, Denver; John Paulson, Coats, Wash.; P. P. Hawke, Pueblo, Colo. The head physician is Dr. T. A. Hughes, of Denver, and the general attorney, B. M. Carr, Denver. All are candidates for reelection. There is no opposition known to any of them so far, except to Hawley, who will be opposed by W. C. them tomorrow will deliver a speech, grass, who is rivaled by T. P. Revelle, of Seattle.

The convention will probably be a success, as the order is now on a solid footing under the change in assessment plan adopted three years ago. Rates were doubled at that time and now the order has a surplus in the benefit fund of $1,000,000 which, added to the reserve, makes a total of nearly $2,000,000.

There will likely be several minor amendments to the constitution, among which will be changes in the extension work and the adoption of a new policy certificate for $500. A request will also be made to relieve the benefit fund of the monument expense.

The committee on arrangements will complete its work at a meeting at 10 o'clock this morning, and has prepared elaborate entertainment for the delegates during their stay in Portland. A banquet will be given the visitors at the Commercial Club tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. They will enjoy a trolley ride to Council Crest Wednesday night. The steamboat Spencer will take them Thursday morning to Hood River, where the Commercial Club will give them an automobile ride. Multnomah Camp will serve a banquet and entertainment in its hall Friday night, a trip will be made to The Oaks Saturday night. An inducement to decorate, the committee will give a first and second cash prize to merchants who show the best decorations.

MANY GO TO THE MOUNTAINS
Portland People at Rhododendron Tavern, by Mount Hood.

ROWE, Or., Western Mount Hood District, July 23.—(Special)—With the present beautiful weather the mountain resorts are becoming the Meccas of Portland and other people are coming daily, by auto, stage and otherwise to enjoy the pure air of Mount Hood. The improvement made to Mount Hood road through the efforts of H. Wenne, of the Portland Automobile Club, makes it possible for an automobile to make the run now to the Rhododendron and Sandlin fields in from two to three hours without much trouble. Lawn tennis courts have been provided at Rhododendron, and other places on the trails leading to Glacier and Hunchback mountains are followed by jolly parties.

Indications are that more people will spend their vacations in the Western Mount Hood district than ever before, and the mountain hotels have prepared to meet the rush from Portland. The following visitors are coming during the week, principally from Portland:
