Mrs. Van Dusen was born in New York in 1825. She was married to Mrs. Van Dusen in 1845, and with him and Judge Aaron Wait and the late Judge Columbia Lancaster and family, left Michigan with two teams on March 4, 1847, to join-the emigration from St. Joseph, Mo. On leaving St. Joseph, the party consisted of 48 wagons, with William Meck as guide.

Strife and dissensions occurred causing the party to break up into sections until reaching Fort Hall, where the California contingent branched off, the only persons en route to Oregon were those who started from Michigan to-gether. Although many hardships were endured on the journey and some of the members of the party had narrow es-capes, all reached Oregon City safely that Fall and remained there until the following Spring. Mr. Van Dusen took following Spring. Mr. Van Dusen took up a donation land claim on the Wallacut River, in Pacific County, Wash, but later relinquished this claim, and in the Spring of 1848 he and Mrs. Van Dusen settled on a claim on the west slde of Young's Bay, now known as Sunnymead, and their log cabin stood on the site of the present Adair home. The Winter of 1849 was extremely long and cold, and for several weeks long and cold, and for several weeks the family did not see a human being, until on Christmas morning Chief Wal-luski, of the Chinooks, fearing they were dead, went across the river from Smith's point and conveyed them to Astoria. In the Spring of 1849, Mrs. Van Dusen moved with her husband to Astoria, which at that time had only Astoria, which at that time had only two frame houses, and Mr. Van Dusen started the first store here in which goods were sold from shelves, the Hudson Bay Company having always sold its goods from the boxes. They lived in one of the houses built by the survivors from the wrecked sloop Shark, near the present site of the Parker House.

as has been the custom in the past. Local fruitgrowers declare that the Douglas County fruit is equal to that raised in the celebrated Hood River and Rogue River districts, and for that reason they are determined to demand an equal price. Today's meeting was well attended and enthusiasm prevailed. A number of letters were received and read from New York and Chicago commission houses, and in each instance the writers promised to send representatives to the Umpqua Valley as soon as the fruit was far enough matured for investigation. By the unanimous vote-of the association it was decided to entertain those buyers royally during their sojourn here, and it is planned to escort them throughout the county that they may see the fruit before pur-

A. H. Carson, of Grants Pass; fruit ommissioner, who came to Roseburg upon request of the fruitgrowers, delivered a brief address in which he cautioned the growers against purchasing unhealthy trees. In speaking of the 1160 trees recently lost by Dr. Bradburn, one of Douglas County's foremost fruitgrowers, Mr. Carson said that the trees were not diseased as some suspected, but on the contrary were taken from the place of growth prematurely, and consequently were in an unhealthy condition upon shipped. The trees were put from the Oregon nurseries, a Bradburn declared today that tended to bring suit against the
