

CONSERVATIONISTS TALK OF COUNTRY

Forty Stenographers Rush Out Big Congress Invitations at St. Paul.

PROGRAMME NOW IS FIXED

All Plans, Though Somewhat De- layed, Now Are Under Way With Taft, Roosevelt and Other Prominent Men to Speak.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 6.—(Special).—Three executive secretaries, a carefully organized bureau co-operating with the newspaper press, a joint St. Paul-Minneapolis board of local managers and 40 stenographers are working overtime on preparations for the immense National conservation congress which meets here September 2-9. Ten thousand delegates, a larger number than the Northwest has ever entertained at any previous National meeting, are expected, and every section of the United States, together with practically every foreign country, has already sent notification of official representation.

Invitations Out by Thousands.

Invitations are pouring out of St. Paul by the thousands, each a carefully prepared original typewritten letter. Every Government department head and officer from the President down, every state Governor, the heads of state departments, Mayors of cities and prominent men in every line of business, are included in the requests to attend, and measures have been taken to extend the invitation generally not only to men in official life, but all Americans interested in conservation and the problems connected with that subject.

The official programme, conferences over which have seriously delayed the completion of arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors, is practically complete. It has been definitely agreed to send among other prominent men will include both President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt. It is probable that Louis B. Glavis and Attorney Brandeis, to whom objection was made, will appear on the programme, although the latter may decide not to run the risk of possible embarrassment to the Minnesota committee by being in attendance.

Announcements covering the details of the programme will be made within a few days and the building and other officials announce that all the points under discussion have been agreed upon in perfect harmony and that the programme will represent the building and other officials as well as of the National officers and leaders of the conservation movement.

Headquarters Taken at New Hotel.

Secretary Thomas Shipp, of the National association, and Assistant Secretary James C. Glive have both established permanent headquarters here until the close of the congress. Secretary Shipp's first action upon arrival was to reserve the state suite at the new hotel, which has been chosen as headquarters for the congress, for Colonel Roosevelt.

The first day of the congress, September 2, will be Presidents' and Governors' day. It is expected that there will be present the Governors of all the Western and many of the Eastern states, a remarkable gathering of public men.

The entire municipal auditorium, seating 10,500, will be reserved for the sessions of the congress. Tentative plans for possible conservation exhibits have been abandoned in view of the prospective attendance which promises to tax the capacity of the building and will require the entire arena for its proper accommodation. The building is a city block in length inside and will be magnificently decorated.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE IN PROGRESS TO OPEN THOUSANDS OF PRIVATE HOMES TO THE VISITORS, SHOULD THE ATTENDANCE PROVE GREATER THAN CAN BE SUCCESSFULLY ACCOMMODATED AT THE LOCAL HOTELS.

BUILDING PERMITS GROW

More New Work Planned, Though Work in July Falls Off.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—(Special).—According to statistics compiled by the Construction News, Portland shows a small decrease in building permits for July, 1910. In fact a small decrease in new buildings is shown in all the leading cities. A small increase in the number of building permits is shown, however, during July of the present year 521 building permits were issued at Portland, the cost of the new buildings being $547,990.

The number of permits issued last year was 406 and the cost amounted to $911,570, thus making a decrease of 7 per cent for last month.

Seattle, Wash., is credited with an increase of 28 per cent. The value of new buildings erected in July this year is given at $1,533,490, while last year it was $1,275,410.

Troy, N. Y., leads the country with an increase of more than 425 per cent. Phenomenal increases are shown at Richmond, Va., and Atlanta, Ga., the first city showing an increase of 80 per cent and the second 185 per cent.

WADDELL AT END OF ROAD

Unfortunate Signpainter Lodged in City Prison.

Jease Waddell, once the finest signwriter in the city, has reached the end of the road. From the rank of an artisan who was almost an artist and a singer whose music delighted thousands, the unfortunate man has declined rapidly of late years, and now lies in the City Jail, with weakened intellect and falling faculties, suffering from the combined effects of a prolonged debauch and a headlong fall down a flight of stairs.

DELEGATES SAIL TUESDAY

Americans Will Offer Resolution for World-Peace Plans.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The American group of delegates to the conference of the Inter-Parliamentary Union at Brussels, August 23 to September 2, will sail from New York next Tuesday. They will present several resolutions looking toward the establishment of permanent peace among the nations of the world. These resolutions were submitted to the State Department today by Representative Richard Bartholdt, of Missouri. They will ask the conference to request governments which are signatories to The Hague Peace Conference and the London Naval Conference to sanction the American proposition that the international prize court be invested with the jurisdiction of an international court of arbitral justice.

"UNCLE JOE" LANE DEAD

PIONEER, SON OF INDIAN FIGHTER, IS NO MORE.

Widow and Five Children Survive. Served Under Father in Indian Wars of 1855-6.

MYRTLE CREEK, Or., Aug. 6.—(Special).—Joseph Samuel Lane, one of the ### OREGON PIONEER, SON OF GENERAL JOE LANE WHO DIED YESTERDAY.

The Late Joseph S. Lane.

oldest and most respected pioneers of Oregon, died here this morning. He was 82 years old. "Uncle Joe," as he was familiarly known, was the son of the late General Joseph Lane, an Indian War veteran, who also participated in the Mexican War, after which he was made Territorial Governor of Oregon in 1846.

Joseph S. Lane was born in Vandenberg, Ind., October 14, 1827, and moved to Oregon in 1851, arriving at Portland and continuing his journey to Oregon City, where his father then lived. He was engaged in business at Oak Grove, Or., for a time, and removed to Douglas County, where he engaged in farming and stockraising, and also rail-roading out of Roseburg. He had lived many years in Myrtle Creek.

He was a member of the company of volunteers who served under his father, General Lane, in the Indian wars of 1855-6.

He is survived by a widow, one daughter, Mrs. Ida L. Ross, of Portland, and four sons—J. F. Lane and S. P. Lane, of Lakeview, and Thomas A. Lane and Lafayette Lane, of Portland. His brothers and sisters are Simon Lane, of Lakeview; Colonel John Lane, of Spokane, and Mrs. L. F. Mozier and Mrs. Mary B. Shelby, of Portland. Ex-Mayor Harry Lane, of Portland, and Eugene Shelby, superintendent of Wells-Fargo & Co. at San Francisco, are nephews.

HAY BRINGS RECORD PRICE

Large Sales of Alfalfa Made Around Walla Walla.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 6.—(Special).—With the sales of alfalfa hay announced today, the record sales of hay in this valley are again broken, 2100 tons being thrown on the market today at the prevailing figure, $12.

This makes 24 sold in two lots this week, the hay coming from the Gardens, Touchet country. The price is the best ever paid here at this time of the year, and the crop being large, returns per acre were never better.

Germany has become a great leather exporting country and is in demand for American leathers, except of very high-grade qualities, such as upper leathers of kid and box calf.

MORE EVIDENCE GOT

Belief Is Now That Tom Kendall Was Not Cremated.

SEARCH ON FOR JAPANESE

Finding of Jawbone, With Filled Teeth, Leads Detectives to Believe That Identification Will Be Easy—Inquest Begins.

CAZADERO, Cal., Aug. 6.—In a canyon three-quarters of a mile from the home of the Kendall family there was found this afternoon an upper jaw, apparently that of a young man. This is the most direct evidence yet secured to prove that Thomas Kendall, the young man of the ill-fated family, had met his death.

District Attorney Lea said that he considered the finding of this bit of anatomy the best yet secured, for in the filling of the teeth the identity of the victim can be established. The teeth on either side had been filled with amalgam. The front teeth are missing. Apparently they had been knocked out. The find would indicate that Tom Kendall's body was not cremated.

The jaw was found by Newton J. Grider, about a quarter of a mile from the spot in the canyon where the torso of a woman, believed to be that of his mother, Mrs. Eura Kendall, was found earlier in the week.

Twelve-year-old Arthur Collins will be Sheriff Smith's chief deputy when the officer leaves on a state-wide search for Yamaguchi, the Japanese charged by District Attorney Lea with the murder of the three members of the Kendall family on their lonely ranch near here. Arthur Collins knew the hunted Japanese when the latter worked in a candy store here and so clear is his description of the man that the Sheriff is positive the boy will recognize him even at a distance. With this hope, Smith and his young deputy will visit the Japanese quarters in all of the cities and towns of the state.

The coroner's jury resumed its session here today. While the inquest today a posse scoured the hills in search of the rifle with which the Kendalls are presumed to have been shot. This posse is led by Arthur Troop, one of the most skillful trappers in this part of the country.

Accompanied by Sheriff Smith, Lea left in the direction of the cabin occupied by the Japanese workers.

GOLF CHAMPION WINS

YOUNG YALE PLAYER DEFEATS VETERAN TRAVIS.

Though Excelling as Usual in Short Game, ex-Champion Is Outdriven by Robert A. Gardner.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Robert A. Gardner, of the Hillside Golf Club, the national champion, won the invitational tournament of the Glenview Club today from Walter J. Travis, ex-champion, New York, one up in 37 holes.

Travis displayed his well-known headwork, but for one lacked his magic putting mallet.

Gardner played a determined game, and although three down at the 10th hole in the morning, he was only one down at the end of the morning round. Both played indifferent golf at times in the afternoon.

Three times the match was even and three times Travis had a lead of one. He was down one at the 18th green, but putted into a bush and had to play out short. Gardner squaring 4-5. At the extra hole Travis missed a four-foot putt, giving the Chicago player the victory.

Gardner defeated Travis 2 and 1 last Summer in the third round of the National amateur championship tournament at the Chicago Golf Club. Since his return from Yale, Gardner's game has constantly improved.

Travis, as usual, excelled in the short game, but was outdriven by the champion.

Ex-Western Champion Charles Evans, Jr., in competition for the North Branch trophy, set a new record for the course of 78. The previous record was 71, made by "Mammy Holabird," had stood for a number of years.

Russo-American Bank Wanted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The establishment of a Russo-American bank would do away with the middleman in the cotton trade between the United States and Russia which amounts to $50,000,000 a year. This is the opinion expressed by John J. Snodgrass, American consul general in Russia. In a report to the Bureau of Manufacturers, one manufacturer told him, he says, that direct banking connections and a stable cotton market would increase Russia's yearly purchase from the United States to $100,000,000.
