

ELKS MAKE MERRY AT ASTORIA MEET

Oregon Lodgemen Assist in Laying Cornerstone of $50,000 Temple.

OVER 2000 INVADE CITY

Impressive and Interesting Dedication Services Conducted by Dr. Harry McKay, of Portland. Portland Police Band There.

ASTORIA, Or., Aug. 6.—(Special).—This was Elks' day in Astoria and white and purple, the order's official colors, are visible everywhere. The streets were crowded with thousands of visitors and the familiar greeting of "Hello, Bill," that has now become associated with all Elks' gatherings, was the salutation heard on every hand.

The special occasion was the laying of the corner-stone of the new $50,000 temple now being erected by Astoria Lodge No. 18A.

Invitations had been extended to the various lodges of the order in the states of Oregon and Washington to attend and fully 500 of the anointed herd from Portland and other points accompanied by their wives, sisters and sweethearts, arrived on a special train at noon today and joined with the members of the local lodge in ritualistic ceremonies.

2000 Members Guests. In addition to those coming on the Elks' special, hundreds of others arrived both by train and boat last night and today, and not less than 2000 members of the order were the guests of the city for the day.

On the arrival of the special train the visitors were met by a delegation of over 200 members of the local lodge, attired in handsome uniforms of white and purple, and the procession, headed by the police band of Portland, marched through the city to the temple.

These services, which were strictly in accordance with the ritual of the order, were conducted by Dr. Harry McKay, of Portland, district grand exalted ruler for Oregon, and he selected as his grand lodge officers the following members:

At the close of the ritualistic ceremony, Dr. McKay seated up and placed within the corner-stone a casket containing the roster of the lodge and several documents reciting its history since its organization. This was done in the most impressive and beautiful manner.

Judge Butler's address was an especially able and interesting one. He spoke of the meaning of the true principles of the Order of Elks, whose guiding star, he said, was love of country, of home and friend, and whose mission on earth is expressed in the motto:

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the Elks left for Holiday Park, where a social session was held tonight, and where the big clambake will take place tomorrow.

Oregon City Sends Delegation.

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 6.—(Special).—Party Elks from this city left today for Seaside, where they will attend the clambake of the order on Sunday. The Oregon city lodge was secured a sleeper and many will remain on the train instead of going to hotels. Many were accompanied by their wives.

FALL MANGLES WORKMAN

Bridge Carpenter Attempts to Board Moving Train.

ALBANY, Or., Aug. 6.—(Special).—While trying to board a moving train when it was crossing the Corvallis and Eastern Railway bridge here this evening, Britt Bryant suffered severe and possibly fatal injuries. Bryant was working as a carpenter with the crew rebuilding the bridge.

He had just stopped work when the incoming Yaquina train passed and standing on the workman's platform at the south end of the bridge he tried to board it to ride to the Albany depot. He missed the footing and fell from the train and off the bridge to the ground, 20 feet below. He struck on his head and shoulders, sustaining terrible bruises and internal injuries, which render his condition most serious.

Bryant is 21 years old. His home is at Norton, Lincoln county.

Entry of Trial Not Actually Held In Crime Alleged by Grand Jury. Man on Whom Case Hinges Is Hiding in Sawmill.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Aug. 6.—(Special).—The grand jury has returned an indictment against Justice of Peace, A. D. Miller, charging him with falsifying a public record. He is now under $2,500 bonds. It is alleged that Miller entered on his records that one George L. Price, a telephone promoter who was wanted in San Francisco by the police of that city, had a hearing in this city.

Price was subsequently turned over to the San Francisco police while the charge was still pending against him here. No date has been set for the trial. The penalty for conviction in this case will be not less than two, nor more than twenty years in the penitentiary.

Coming in for a share of the investigation were D. V. Kuykendall, prosecuting attorney and W. B. Barnes, sheriff. No report has been turned in by the grand jury in any way implicating either Kuykendall or Barnes although Kuykendall has been deposed by the court and E. L. Elliott appointed special prosecutor to conduct the investigation.

Price has been in hiding for some time. He is known at this time to be at the Whitcomb sawmill, 17 miles east of here, although it is probably not known by his whereabouts. He has been there for the greater part of the last six weeks, or since his sensational escape from San Francisco to answer to a charge of having passed fictitious checks.

Price has held himself as a wronged man and is asking damages for his retention and arrest. Why he does not come out in the open, instead of keeping in hiding and coming to Klamath Falls in disguise, he does not say, is something which is rather inexplicable.

The grand jury has been conducting the Price investigation for several days.

NEWTOWN TRIAL MONDAY

Thousands Expected to Partake of Feast on Beach.

CONDOR SAILS UP SIUSLAW

Engine Gives Out and Captain Hirsh Spreads His Canvas.

NEWPORT, Or., Aug. 6.—(Special).—An entertainment was given in the Newport Operahouse last night to raise the money to build a new city hall. The clambake to take place on August 14, it was under the supervision of A. L. Clifford, of Portland, and Mrs. Lee Williams and Mrs. Gene Brady, of Newport.

The clambake is creating much excitement in Newport, where the Newport Operahouse is being considered. The Corvallis and Eastern Railroad Company expects to handle several thousand people and the Newport city hall is being opened to receive them hospitably. Frank Priest has been engaged as chef, and his reputation is only equalled by his work.

According to McDonald, who was arraigned in the justice court yesterday, he is not guilty of the alleged elopement with Mrs. Jesse Clements, of Glendale, but on the contrary he says that Mrs. Clements simply sought the Southern claim in hope of benefiting her health. McDonald says that they traveled separately and that he did not know that she was in San Francisco until several days after his arrival.

The charge at present confronting McDonald is the crime charged in this complaint, but for the reason that he had been told that I was paying attention to his wife. I am not worrying over the outcome of the case. The District Attorney was unable to assemble his witnesses before the first of next week the preliminary hearing was continued until Monday afternoon.

Advice received here today from San Francisco are to the effect that Mr. Clements has forgiven his wife, and that the two are living happily at San Francisco. They will return to Glendale within a week or ten days.

WELL-BORER FINDS OIL

EFFORT TO INCREASE WATER SUPPLY MEETS OBSTACLE.

Petroleum Showing Encountered at Depth of 150 Feet Four Miles From McMinnville.

McMinnville, Or., Aug. 6.—(Special).—Whether they are to possess an oil well or one furnishing water is the problem confronting the McMinnville Water Commission, all having been struck at a depth of 150 feet in the well now being drilled by M. H. Miller on land owned by the city for miles alternate rock, shale and blue clay formations the drill again pierced a light-colored shale, and for the last two days the sand pump has been bringing up small quantities of dark colored petroleum, which shows plainly on the surface of the creek for a considerable distance below the dump.

The well is on Baker Creek at a point where the city pipeline leading from Cowles Creek basin to the city reservoir crosses, and is being constructed with a view to supplementing the city water supply during the dry season. The hills leading toward the Coast Mountains rise from that vicinity and it was thought by the commission that a flowing well of water could be obtained before going to a great depth. The oil seepage has not deterred them from their purpose to make the test.

IDAHO CROP HEAVY

GREAT WEALTH EXPECTED

Conditions Ideal and Prices High Point to Prosperity in the State.

Apples, Prunes, Pears and Peaches Principal Crop.

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 6.—(Special).—The bumper fruit crop from the Boise Payette and all kinds of orchards will net the raiser this year 1,900,000 in profits and no less than 2000 carloads of fruit, consisting of apples, prunes, pears and peaches, will be shipped out of this district, according to estimates of Charles J. Sinsel, the authority on fruit and extensive packer of this city, who has just returned from an inspection of the crop in the district.

The fruit crop for 1910 will be by far the greatest ever gathered in the State of Idaho. This is true of all sections and all kinds of orchards. The Payette Valley reports an enormous crop of cantaloupes and shipping has already begun. An average of one carload a day will be shipped each county in the Boise and New York. Payette is receiving a heavy demand for Dutch and Transparent apples from Eastern points. The fruit orchards of Idaho are absolutely free from worm and scale. Between 100 and 150 carloads of fruit will go out of there this year. Prune packing will begin by August 15 or 20, showing how early the season is.

Caldwell reports as bright. There is a bumper crop in the great M. M. George orchard. Idaho is particularly lucky in view of the misfortunes being experienced in other parts of the country. For instance, the fruit men in Texas and Georgia are having great difficulties in securing cars and ice to handle the great peach crop in those states, and several hundreds of carloads of peaches have been lost on that account.

A new system of packing apples has been adopted by several of the big packers whereby each apple is carefully wrapped and placed in a pastebord compartment with double sides. It is hoped by this new system to get Idaho apples to London, Berlin and Paris without a bruise.
