

of her vacation from school in Victoria, B.C.

The home of Colonel and Mrs. Henry Z. Douch at Hillsdale was the scene for a motorists' law Sunday when Colonel and Mrs. Douch and the Misses Camille, Lillian and Marguerite Douch were at home for Mrs. Charles Walker and Miss Lillian Walker. The Walkers are visiting the Douches for a fortnight. In a week they will go to Yelapton, Park and then to their home in New York City via Southern California. Among those calling Sunday were Mrs. G. K. Westwood, Mrs. Lillian Hall, Mrs. Solomon Hirsch and Miss Mal Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Keating, Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Marsh, Dr. and Mrs. Koerber and Messrs. H. H. and H. H. Nelson, William Stanton, Gerald Hill, George Brown and many others.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Trenkman are giving a motor picnic honoring Miss Walker. Several motor machines will seek the wooded spots along the river. Several other small affairs are planned for the Walkers. Miss Camille Douch's fiancé, Harry Allen, has almost recovered from his severe illness. Mr. Allen was taken to his home in Richmond a short time ago by his sister and brother from Seattle, where he has been during his long illness.

A recent visitor was Maximilian Foster. Mr. Foster visited Max the last week-end as guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Curry, and left Tuesday for the South. He is a cousin of Mr. Curry, who gave a party in his honor last week. During his stay Mr. Foster spent much time up the Columbia fishing. His trip West was made in order to secure more material for his writing. Many of his articles have lately appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. Mr. Foster is contemplating another visit to the coast in the Spring and will bring with him Mrs. Foster and their children.

The engagement has just been made public of Miss Grace Lamberson, daughter of Mrs. George Harrison Lamberson, to Harry A. Wilder, of Honolulu. Miss Lamberson and Mr. Wilder have been betrothed for almost a year, but not until recently was the fact made public. The date of their wedding will be the evening of September 1. It will be a quiet ceremony at the bride's home, and will be followed by a reception. Afterward Mr. Wilder will take his bride to Honolulu, which will be their future home. He is now on his way here, leaving the Islands last Wednesday and expecting to arrive September 1.

Miss Lamberson comes of a prominent pioneer family. She is the daughter of the late G. H. Lamberson and Mrs. Lamberson and sister of Miss Katherine Lamberson and Raymond Lamberson. Mrs. Julia Harrison Lamberson, Mr. Wilder is the son of William Wilder, a sugar-grower of the Philippines Islands, who was elected Vice-President of the Hawaiian Islands during the time they were a republic. Mr. Wilder's brother, Charles Wilder, married Miss Grace Burt, of San Francisco. Mr. Wilder has made frequent visits to the Coast and to Oregon, as the family have timber interests near Rainier. It was on one of the steamers coming from San Francisco to Portland two years ago that he met Miss Lamberson.

Van W. Anderson was host to about two dozen friends at a motor picnic Friday night. The party went in machines to Mr. Anderson's country place on the Columbia.

Regret is felt that Consul and Mrs. Y. Numano may decide not to return to Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Numano have made this city their home for several years and Mrs. Numano was a favorite in society here. She was much sought after because of her winning personality and dainty ways. She comes of a distinguished family and was followed a month or so later by Mr. Numano.

Mr. and Mrs. Orange M. Clark left yesterday for their second Oriental tour. The Clarks first went two years ago. They will travel over more territory in this journey, returning probably by way of Australia and the Antipodes. They sail Tuesday noon from San Francisco on the Korea, their first stop being Honolulu. From that city they will proceed to Japan (where they will visit Yokohama). A short time will be spent in the Mikado's domain and then the Clarks, with some friends who have been staying in Honolulu, will be in October and November will be spent in leisurely touring through the interior with stops at Tien Tain, Peking, Shanghai, Hongkong and other of the newer cities. They expect to go at least 3000 miles inland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark may return by the Christmas holidays or the first of the year. Their journey will probably last about four months. Prior to their leaving they have been honored by several small dinners and evening entertainments. Among those sailing on the Korea will also be Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Furth, of Seattle, and their granddaughter, Miss Anna Furth Terry. Mrs. Terry is very popular here and she comes to Portland often, especially around horse-show time. About a month ago Miss Frances Wilson, who is usually at Mrs. Terry's home, and Miss Josephine Smith, who is now with the Frederick Leslie Warrens, at Astoria, were entertained at the Furth home. The object of the visit was to see Captain and Miss Terry is to see Captain and Mrs. Alexander Wetherhill. Mrs. Wetherhill was Mrs. and then Furth, home of the second city immediately after her elaborate wedding to Captain Wetherhill. U. S. A., they left for San Francisco for Honolulu. The Furth and Miss Terry will also visit Japan and China.

A well-known artist who has been a visitor here is John H. Trullinger, who returned to Portland a week ago with Mrs. Trullinger, after an absence of eight years. Most of that time the Trullingers have been living abroad. Mr. Trullinger is going to place in search of material for his paintings. Some of these have been exhibited in the Grand Salon in Paris, and as he has secured with him friends are trying to arrange for an exhibit to be held this Fall. Mr. and Mrs. Trullinger are now on a short visit to old-time friends at Astoria.

Dr. Emil Enna has written to friends here of his visit in Denmark. Dr. Enna left more than a month ago for New York and sailed for Europe arriving in Copenhagen July 13. At the last writing Dr. Enna was at Villa Lilla Rosenborg, Helsingør, Denmark. On July 17 he was given a luncheon by the American Legation by Ambassador and Mrs. Egan. Among the guests were American Consul-General Liscoe, of Rotterdam; American Consul and Mrs. Bond, of Denmark; William Wiggins, a New Yorker; Countess Malthe, wife of the Danish Minister to America, and Baroness Malthe, sister of the Minister. The next day Consul and Mrs. Bond gave Dr. Enna a dinner party.

Dr. Enna left Helsingør with his family the next week, as they were returning to the Helsingør on Thursday for their winter residence. On August 3 Dr. Enna and his father entertained the former's American friends there. Dr. Enna will sail on the Helsing on Thursday for New York and expects to be home about September 12.

Gayety Eders was host at seven tables of five hundred on Thursday evening at his home, in honor of his cousin, John Melchers, who returned the next day to his home in Milwaukee, Wis. Attractive prizes were awarded to Miss Carrie Neal, Bishop of Vancouver Barracks, also Louise Williams, Lind Cooper and Harry Fischer. The Eders home was attractively decorated with flowers. The wide veranda, upon which the guests danced later in the evening, was festooned with many tiny lanterns.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith have moved to their new home on Twelfth street, after a two months' residence at the Norton. They have been there ever since Mrs. Smith, Miss Lucille Smith and Mrs. Laura Darden returned from Europe, where they went with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wallace, of Hood River, and their daughter, Miss Margaret Wallace, now the bride of Harold Koenemann, of Cologne. Mr. and Mrs. Koenemann were down from the Wallace place at Hood River last week at the Norton, but will return in a few days. They are making preparations to leave, probably to be accompanied by Miss Smith, the middle of October for the Orient. After touring there they will go back to Cologne, where the Koenemanns will make their future home.

Miss Jean Martin entertained at her summer home at Seaview, Wash., last Friday afternoon with four tables of 500. Those present were the Misses Mary Catta, Edith Sheehy, Genevieve Kelly, Komwa Klosterman, Carme Bolton, Noncarh Best text. On Monday Neal Kendall asked up to come over to his little house, called "The Roost," in the evening, dressed in Japanese costumes. We all dressed and went over about 8 o'clock. We went in single file. When the door opened and our host greeted us we beheld a joss looking right into our very eyes. We took seats on small cushions which were arranged around a very low table and we proceeded to play fan-tan. (By the way, it was a fan-tan party. It is played with cards.) After playing an hour or so our host served us with tea and rice cakes in little Japanese cups and saucers. Oh, I don't want to forget the incense that was burned, and then Mrs. Kendall in at first we all bowed three times to the joss. The guests were: Ida Kendall, Florence Kendall, Ruby Hammerstram, Elsie Gill, Theodora Stoppenbach, Helen Dekum, Frances Dekum, Edith Woodcock, Alice Cornwall, Guy Sanborn and Neal Kendall.

"I wonder if you would have this put in The Sunday Oregonian of Saturday Telegram, or both if you find it convenient. I really don't see how our hostess can endure the noise." A. E. C.

Wednesday evening a family gathering was held at the home of Mrs. M. E. Nickum at St. Johns, in honor of the 80th birthday of G. M. Powell, of Dayton, Or. After supper was served Mrs.

when Lyman M. Lee, of Baker City, and Miss Clara Wilkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilkinson, of Union, were married. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Mr. Harris, of Baker City. At 7:30 o'clock J. Roscoe Lee played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride, attired in a gown of white organdy and lace, carried a shower of carnations and ferns. The couple stood under a huge floral wedding veil and the ring ceremony was used. A wedding breakfast followed and the newly wed couple took the morning train for Portland. After a brief stay there they will go to Seaside. Baker City will be their future home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lee, of Portland, parents of the bridegroom, his brother and sister, J.
