BEACH RESORTS STILL POPULOUS

Despite Waning of Summer, Many Oregon Resorts Are Still Filled With Pleasure Seekers.

SEASIDE, Or., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—April weather has visited Seaside this week. Nothing could be more delightful than the bright, warm sunshine between showers which have served to pack the sand into a good firm footing for horse and man. The atmosphere is wonderfully cool and fresh and surf bathing under such conditions is absolutely of the best.

This week-end Seaside was visited by members of the "Hoo Hoo," who made themselves at home at Hotel Moore, where they banqueted and made merry to their heart's content. Large posters of imposing black cats decorate all the fences and railings in Seaside, and cleverly acted the part of advance agents to their cause. Not only did the "Hoo Hoo" attract the interest of Seaside dwellers, but a large dahlia fair, held at Seaside House, proved very successful. Seaside House is well adapted by its situation to fairs of any kind. The large campus in front of the buildings was filled with beautiful asters, daisies and sweet peas, to say nothing of the dahlias, which were exceptionally well developed.

Mrs. Van Houton, who has a cottage near the hotel, won the first prize. The soil in that particular section of the country is excellent for raising flowers, and Mrs. Van Houton shows remarkable patience and skill with hers. Not only were her dahlias the best, but she won the prize for the best assortment of flowers. Her sweet peas were very beautiful.

Among the attractions at Seaside this week was music furnished by Weber's Juvenile Orchestra, which spent three days at the Seaside Theater. So, though the rain has fallen since last Sunday, it has not dampened the spirits of any who are making Seaside their home this Summer.

Miss Alice Mulford is the guest of Miss Marie Vaness at her Hermosa Park home, "Kinnie Kinnic Lodge."

Clifford Moore is the guest of his parents at the Moore cottage for a few weeks.

A HAPPY FAMILY AT SEAVIEW

SURF BATHING IS POPULAR.

Not a Drowning Has Occurred at Columbia Beach.

COLUMBIA BEACH, Aug. 20.—(Special.)—Surf bathing has been most popular at Columbia Beach this season. At the correct stage of the tide there is an average of 150 bathers, and two or three dozen are always coming and going down the board walk. The beach is perfectly safe and Columbia Beach is rightly proud of its record of not a single drowning.

Frank Hornby and friends have made all the hikes and jaunts in this "neck of the woods."

The Oregon Baptist Summer Assembly had a large attendance and was successful from all standpoints. The programme was especially strong under the direct supervision of Miss Millspaw and Rev. Mr. Parker.

Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher of Los Angeles was one of the principal speakers at the Baptist convention.

D. K. Ilef has completed and is now occupying his new eight-room cottage near Fifth street.

A. V. Beesley and family have been making things merry about their Summer camp for the past two weeks.

D. J. Russell has been a frequent visitor at the beach of late.

Mrs. Walter Fortiner of Portland has been a guest of Mrs. Dolan.

Professor I. M. Walker and family have left after a two months' stay at the beach.

Mrs. S. L. Roberts and children have a most attractive tent house.

The tent city at Columbia Beach is the most popular feature among all the Oregon beaches. The tents have been filled all season and a great many people could not get accommodations notwithstanding the fact that the capacity and equipment has been doubled over that of last season.

The late arrivals at the tent city are as follows:

D. A. Hood and family, of Sand Point, Idaho, George Robertson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Muhard, C. A. Studebaker, of Chehalis, Wash., H. E. Hanley, of Hermiston, H. Rundell, W. B. Hammond, Mrs. Sutton and daughter, William Nolton and family, E. H. Hartwig, W. R. Frerichs and family, of McMinnville, Or., Mrs. J. H. Oliver, E. Wogy, of Arleta, and A. Vester and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Webber and their 13 children composing the orchestra have made things merry about the tent city. The children just left for Astoria where they will give several concerts before returning to Portland. The orchestra has been a most popular attraction at the beach and is already scheduled for a couple of weeks next year.

Those departing from the tents the past week are the following: H. S. Cook and family, H. A. Walker, I. B. Castner, of Hood River, D. M. McPhael, Miss Sutton, and E. W. Amesbury and family.

Among the late arrivals at Columbia Beach Hotel are the following:

F. M. Hinds, of Dixie, Idaho, Professor and Mrs. William Wilder, Anna F. Christofferson, of Tacoma, Mrs. H. M. Beckwith and son, Mrs. J. G. Bryne, of Spokane, Katherine Bryne, of Spokane, Mrs. D. A. Bodewich, of Chicago, Miss Adele Dohany, Miss Katherine Kelline, of Council Bluffs, George W. Wunder, and family, O. S. Worden, Mrs. Anderson, William Worzer, of Vancouver, Wash., J. B. Castner and wife, of Hood River, A. Whitehead and daughter, Grace Pruther, Mrs. I. B. Pruther, G. W. Ralston, of Astoria, Jessie Swont, A. L. Wedsworth, of Pasadena, A. W. Donaldson, of Hillsboro, C. Rhodes and wife, W. W. Morrin and wife, W. C. Daiver, of Reno, and Mrs. T. E. Kelsoll, of Seattle.

BEACH SEASON IS AT HEIGHT

Tennis Tourney at Breakers Interests Coast Visitors.

NORTH BEACH, Wash., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—The season on the Washington coast is now at its height. The hotels are full of happy people glad to be away from the cares and worries of business and the city. All along the beach keen interest is displayed in the coming tennis tournament soon to be held at the Breakers. Much interest is also taken in the weekly practice at the lifesaving station near Ocean Park. Large crowds from all points on North Beach congregate to watch the maneuvers of the skilled crews who put out through the breakers in small boats and courageously display their nerve and training.

Social life from Seaview to Ocean Park is very active just at present. Pleasure parties are always in order and one of the most unusual of the season occurred at Tioga last Tuesday. It was a children's party, given in honor of the birthday of little Miss Margaret Spencer by her mother, Mrs. Arthur Spencer. Games appropriate to young persons were played and Margaret Conroy and Aileen Cooke were prize-winners. The following guests were invited: VirginiaTuttle, Fenton Spencer, Arthur Spencer, Margaret Conroy, Martha Conroy, Aileen Cooke, Virginia Cooke, Jane Cooke Bartley Conroy, Bert Bernard, Mrs. Conroy and Dr. and Mrs. Tuttle.

Seaview is very lively just now. Many young persons make merry with dancing parties and bonfires on the beach, while elder and more sedate members of the Summer community have card parties and luncheons. Mrs. J. B.
